

CROWDS SEE WILSON CORTEGE PASS

CONVENTION OF NONPARTISANS IS UNDER WAY

Call of Convention Which
Probably Will Last Two Days Made by Church

SORLIE IS LEADING

Efforts Being Made to Pave
Way For Unanimous Nomination of Forks Man

Everything pointed to a general agreement among Nonpartisans this afternoon for the endorsement of A. G. Sorlie of Grand Forks as the league candidate for Governor. Close friends of Senator B. F. Baker declared openly that he would not permit his name to be used and that his strength would go to Mr. Sorlie.

The Nonpartisan League State Convention, called to consider organizational matters and endorse candidates for State and National offices for the coming election, got under way shortly before noon today in Patterson hall on the call of State Chairman W. J. Church. The convention proceeded with its organization without preliminary oratory, J. C. Miller of Bottineau being named temporary and then permanent chairman.

Chairman Church asked the convention to name committees to frame the order of business, prepare resolutions, report on nominations, finance and other questions, it being desired by the State Committee to have much of the business presented to the convention in concrete form by the committees so as to expedite matters. After brief preliminaries the convention was to adjourn until afternoon.

Say Baker Is Out

Question of candidates for state offices rose to the fore in pre-convention discussion during the morning. The flat statement was made by close friends of Senator B. F. Baker of Bemidji county that he would not permit himself to be endorsed for governor or any other state office. The acceptance by Baker's close friends of his understanding of grand forks to predict his nomination for governor on the first ballot, Senator Baker declined to comment on the situation.

A report circulated by friends of Commissioner of Insurance S. A. Olness that he would not be a candidate again for that office and a boom for him for congressman from the Second District were met by Olness himself with a declaration of comment. Candidates proposed by their friends for congressman from the Second District became more numerous than for any other office. Inclined among the latest urged for the office was State Auditor D. C. Poindexter.

State Chairman Church said that he was "a passive candidate" for the endorsement for Congress.

Take Adjournment
After naming Gerald Nye of Cooperstown secretary and appointing a credentials committee composed of C. J. Olson of Barnes county, Mrs. Howard Wood of Cass county and R. A. Patton of Mountrail county the convention adjourned until 3 p. m. out of respect to the memory of Woodrow Wilson.

The question of labor delegates may come before the convention here. Representative Hardy of Marmarth was here seeking recognition as a labor delegate. Until the last convention organized labor was accorded certain representation but the provision made for them, S. S. McDonald of Bismarck said that he made a fight to retain the labor delegates at the last convention, was defeated and was not certain whether he would make the proposal again or not.

Financial Statement
The financial statement of the state executive committee, covering a period from July 11, 1922 to February 6, 1924, was to be presented to the convention as follows:

Receipts
Total Receipts	$6,506.58
Expenditures
General election 1922—
Campaign expenses, etc.	$3,530.36
Committee expenses and per diem	$2,509.78
Postage	281.59
Total expenditures	$6,321.73
Balance on hand Feb. 6, 1924	$184.85

To Kill Third Party
The league "third party" movement was slated for an early death in the convention. Senator Ralph Ingerson of Burke county, who sponsored the plan, said that he expected it would be killed in convention, and numerous other league men declared that the league should stay in the Republican primary declared that there was no chance of the league taking any other course. However, the Burke county delegation expects to give the convention a chance to talk the matter over. The sentiment that the league should take no action with regard to the third party movement was (Continued on page 3)

AND HE'S A BANKER, TOO

He looks like a real western cowpuncher—a ranch owner at least. But he's better known as the new president of the American Bankers Association. The gentleman is Walter W. Head, and he is right at home on a horse, too—capable of roping in beef or business, as it were.

URGES WHEAT ACREAGE CUT

Banker Declares This Offer
Only Solution

Columbus, O., Feb. 6.—Only a reduction in the production of wheat can bring relief to the wheat growers, George E. Roberts, vice-president of the National City Bank of New York City, declared in an address today at the Ohio State University "Farmers' Week."

"Any form of government aid such as price fixing above the market, which has the effect of inducing farmers to continue wheat growing on the present scale would be a mistake," he said, "because wheat growing on this scale is not needed."

The speaker said that there had been no serious over-development of agriculture but that "a moderate movement from the farm to the town industries would help our agriculture more independent of Europe."

TRAIL BODY IN MEETING

Discuss Plans For Inducing
More Tourists

Plans for inducing greater tourist travel on the National Parks Highway (Red Trail) will be discussed at a meeting of the eastern division executives of the trail association at Minneapolis today and tomorrow. A. F. Bradley, Secretary of the Bismarck Association of Commerce, is attending the meeting.

Representatives from North Dakota, Minnesota and Wisconsin are expected to attend the meeting. Plans have been developed during the winter for a greater publicity campaign in the east in behalf of the National Parks Highway.

IN THE HOTEL LOBBIES

The league state convention provides not only a place of doing political business but furnishes a reunion for scores of league men from various parts of the state who have gathered together in the legislature, state departments or been engaged in various political campaigns to gether.

Secretary of State Thomas Hall, William Langer and Robert Olson endorsed for state senator from this district, were among the Bismarckers, present or past officials in the state house, who milled around the McKenzie lobby last night confabbing with the visiting league men.

Surprise was caused many when a boom was launched for S. A. Olness for Congressman from the Second District and several friends said his name probably would not be presented to the convention as a candidate. E. R. (Dad) Walker of Yucca is not a delegate to the league state convention for a change. "Dad" also is going more heavily in county politics, having been named a candidate for county treasurer of Oliver county. He is interested also in the

NESTOS ORDERS STATE TRIBUTE

An official tribute to the memory of Woodrow Wilson, the nation's war-time president, was paid today when the machinery of state halted during the hour of the funeral in Washington, on the order of Governor R. A. Nestos. All department business was suspended during this time, the first time such a tribute has been paid by the state to a plain American citizen. The capitol flag was at half-mast in accordance with the proclamation of President Coolidge.

REBELS CLEAR VERA CRUZ IN QUIET MANNER

City Is Again Placed in the Control of Civilian
Authorities

Washington Feb. 6.—The entire "evacuation" of Vera Cruz by De La Huerta insurrectionists against the Obregon government of Mexico has been peacefully effected and that city is again under control of its regular civilian authorities.

NAMED HEAD OF SHIP BOARD

Washington Feb. 6.—T. V. O'Connor of Buffalo, N. Y., former president of the International Longshoremen's Union and present member of the Shipping Board, was designated by President Coolidge today to be chairman of the board.

The average daily number of London police off duty through sickness is about 700.

DANIELS AND M'ADOO WILL BE SUMMONED

Two Former Cabinet Men To
Be Asked to Testify in
Senate Oil Inquiry

WILL CALL FALL AGAIN

Senator Walsh Plans Action
After Senate Grants Renewal of Authority

Washington, Feb. 6.—Preparations for the active resumption of the oil inquiry were pressed forward today while accountants searched books of stock brokerage houses to determine whether government officials had dealings in the shares of companies formed to take over the naval reserve leases.

The committee was prepared to press in the senate tomorrow for reappointment of the resolution under which it is authorized so that it may recall Albert B. Fall, who as Secretary of the Interior arranged the leases for questioning with a renewal of the authority challenged by him last week.

Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, also is planning to seek action by the senate tomorrow on his resolution looking to annulment of the lease held by the Standard Oil Company of California on section 36 in the Elk Hills California reserves. Oscar Sutro, counsel for the company, conceded yesterday with Mr. Walsh and Silas H. Strawn of Chicago and former Senator Pomeroy of Ohio, the counsel selected by President Coolidge to represent the government in the oil cases in an effort to convince them that former Secretary Fall's dismissal of proceedings designed to recover the section to the government had been just and legal but, the senator said, he failed in his purpose.

After Fall is again called upon by the committee to submit to examination William G. McAdoo, candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination; Josephus Daniels, Secretary of the Navy in the Wilson administration and George Creel, chairman of the Committee on Public Information during the war, are expected to be given a hearing with reference to statements made by E. L. Dohney, holder of the California naval reserve lease.

FRENCH VOTE FOR ECONOMY

Poincare Plan Is Given Approval in Chamber

Paris, Feb. 6.—(By the A. P.)—The Chamber of Deputies today voted unanimously in principle the bill for economies in the governmental expenses for 1924, amounting to one billion francs.

The Socialists, adopting new tactics, began a movement to oblige the government to effect these economies in military and naval expenditures alone.

Weather Report

For twenty-four hours ending at noon today:
Temperature at 7 a. m. 15
Highest yesterday 17
Lowest yesterday 9
Lowest last night 8
Precipitation 0
Highest wind velocity 10

WEATHER FORECAST
For Bismarck and vicinity: Mostly cloudy tonight and Thursday. Not much change in temperature.
For North Dakota: Mostly cloudy tonight and Thursday. Not much change in temperature.

WEATHER CONDITIONS

The storm area is moving slowly eastward to the St. Lawrence Valley and precipitation occurred in the Great Lakes region and Mississippi Valley. High pressure, accompanied by fair, cold weather prevails over the Plains States. The low pressure area over the northern Rocky Mountain region yesterday morning has filled up somewhat and temperatures are slightly lower over the western Canadian provinces. Light, scattered precipitation occurred over the northern Rocky Mountain region.

GO TO CAMP

The war department has authorized the attendance of Capt. Heber Edwards, Company M, North Dakota National Guard, Grand Forks, and Lieut. Alvin Felchert, Company H, Jamestown, at the army school at Fort Benning, Georgia, beginning February 25, it was announced at the War Department today.

WIDLUND, ACTING VICECONSUL
Grand Forks, N. D., Feb. 6.—S. B. Widlund of Grand Forks has been named as acting Swedish viceconsul for North Dakota by A. I. Widlund of Grand Forks, the permanent viceconsul, who has left for an extended eastern trip.

41 DROWNED AS WATER RUSHES THROUGH MINE

Victims of Crosby, Minnesota,
Disaster Have Practically
No Warning

ONLY SEVEN SURVIVE

Collapse of the Part of the Bottom of a Swamp Lake
Is Said Responsible

Crosby, Minn., Feb. 6.—(By the A. P.)—Collapse of a part of the bottom of a swamp lake sent a torrent of water coursing through the workings of the Milford iron mine near here late yesterday and snuffed out the lives of 41 miners caught like rats in a trap. On the lower level more than 150 feet under ground, the crew of 48 miners were working when with hardly a warning, water burst through the roof of the drift, flooding the mine within 15 minutes to within a few feet of the top of the shaft.

Alarmed at the first rumbling as the earthen roof and timbers gave way, seven miners near the shaft started up to stairs near to safety but their 41 comrades caught in the muddy, swirling water met almost instantaneous death.

Most of the victims were young men, many of them married, and most of the children that took up the sorrowful vigil with their mothers were tiny tots, clutching in wonderment at their mothers' skirts, awed by a thing that had made them orphans. While a number of the men were foreigners, by far the greater number were naturalized Americans or American-born, and all were experienced miners, working in an old mine deemed safe.

Minnesota Mine

The mine, situated about four miles north of Crosby in a region somewhat swampy, formerly was the old Ida May mine owned then by the Oyuna-Minneapolis Iron company whose stockholders largely were residents of Minneapolis and St. Paul.

After reversion a year ago, the property reverted to the fee owners, and last year shipped out 70,000 tons of manganese ore. It was operated under lease by the Whitmarsh Mining company, and is owned by George H. Crosby of Duluth.

Fifty five men made up the normal crew that worked under mine captain Crellin and Harry Middlebrook, superintendent of the mine. Today however, six men were absent from work, and contrary to custom, Middlebrook did not enter the mine.

Captain Crellin and Roland McDonald, a mining engineer of Duluth, were among those who lost their lives. The other victims are residents of Crosby and other towns around here, including Ironton, Mangness, Cayuna, Wolford, and River-ton.

Three of the seven men who survived are Frank Hravatin, Jr., whose father was killed; Emil Kainu and Matt Kangas.

The shaft of the Milford mine is 123 feet deep and the mine level of the mine is 100 feet beneath the surface.

BISMARCK MAN HEADS GREETERS

Fargo, N. D., Feb. 6.—North Dakota is a going concern that is a little short of capital, but that it can get out of difficulties and probably with less trouble than most of its neighbors is admitted by all who have studied the situation, was the declaration of C. E. Danielson, president of the North Dakota Automobile association, in an address before the Greeters of North Dakota in their annual convention which is being held here today.

Henry Halvorson of the Grand Pacific hotel, Bismarck, was elected president of the state organization, succeeding William Langer of the Gardner hotel, Fargo, at the business session held at the Gardner hotel this forenoon.

Other officers chosen were: vice-president, C. C. Lillie, Frederick Hotel, Grand Forks; secretary, H. G. Harken, St. Charles hotel, Dickinson; board of governors, Herman Kuehse, Metropole hotel, Fargo; Ed Kaslin, Gladstone hotel, Jamestown; Irvin Kappelke, Irvin hotel, Kenmare; Norman H. Young, Donaldson hotel, Fargo; and U. R. Whiting, Grand hotel, Minot.

SCHOOL FUND SHOWS DROP

The interest and income fund derived for common schools from state for the quarter ending January 31, is $248,917.00 as compared with $418,518.00 for the same quarter last year, according to State Auditor D. C. Poindexter. The amount was certified today to the state superintendent of public instruction for apportionment among the counties of the state.

U. S. Flag Is Placed Before German Embassy

Washington, Feb. 6.—Some time between dark and daylight this morning an American flag on a slender flagstaff was planted on the lawn of the German embassy which on instructions from Berlin had failed so far to half-mast its German colors for Woodrow Wilson.

This morning the stars and stripes had been removed again from the embassy grounds but both the manner of the flag's appearance and the exact story of its removal remained somewhat of a mystery.

The police reported that they received a telephone complaint regarding the invasion of the embassy property which technically is German soil. They did not know from whom the complaint came.

Embassy officials said they made no such complaint and refused to discuss the subject further. Whether any member of the police force had taken the flag away was not clearly established. That the German embassy would not, like other diplomatic missions here, half-mast its colors for the dead president aroused a resentment of some American Legion officials who said they would ask the state department to act.

It was said by those at the embassy that Mr. Wilson was regarded as a private citizen and that therefore the Berlin government saw no reason to pay him the funeral honors due the head of a foreign state. It was for that reason, it was declared, that the German flag had not been raised at all over the embassy Sunday. Late yesterday, however, after the situation had been noised about Washington and had created something of a sensation the embassy changed its mind and announced that after 12:30 p. m. it would raise its flag and tie it at half mast.

CHIEF JUSTICE TAFT STRICKEN

Is Unable to Attend Funeral
of Woodrow Wilson

Washington, Feb. 6.—Chief Justice Taft was taken with acute indigestion today and was unable to act as honorary pall-bearer for former President Woodrow Wilson. Justice Brandeis was invited to represent the supreme court. The chief justice's attack was said to be yielding to treatment.

SEN. LODGE ILL

Washington, Feb. 6.—Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, although designated by the senate as a member of the committee to attend Woodrow Wilson's funeral services, remained at his home throughout the day. His office announced that he was confined on the advice of his physician "because of a bad throat."

TWO AVIATORS FIGHT STORM

Think They Are Landing in
Lake But Are Safe

Chicago, Feb. 6.—Jack Speed, Minneapolis aviator and Jack Cope, a local pilot, missing since late yesterday in an airplane Speed had purchased after a harrowing experience amid blizzard conditions landed unharmed 10 miles from Hammond, Indiana, they telephoned friends today. Although they escaped injury their plane was damaged.

Flying in the snow and darkness they became obsessed with the belief that they were over Lake Michigan and unable to sight a light they decided to take their chances with water or land.

Shoe Convention To Be At Chicago

Chicago, Feb. 6.—When the members of the National Shoe Retailers' Association meet in convention in Chicago Feb. 11-14, they purpose to stress a program of education. The argument is advanced that badly shod feet spoil the appearance of a man or woman whose get-up otherwise may be perfect, and that the public should be instructed in what kind of shoes are most appropriate for various and sundry occasions.

FARGO BANK CASES ARE POSTPONED TO MARCH 11

Grand Forks, N. D., Feb. 6.—Continuance of the Fargo bank cases from March 4 to March 11 is announced by district Judge W. J. Kneeshaw of Pembina who has been appointed to hear the cases in Grand Forks.

He will hold a term of court at Devils Lake in March which will make it impossible to start the cases here at the date formerly set.

It is believed to be virtually impossible to find a man over 40 years old who has perfect eyesight.

SILENT THOUSANDS GATHER ON QUIET STREETS AS THE SIMPLE RITES FOR MR. WILSON ARE HELD

Respectful Attention Draws Them Along as Private services

Are Held For Nation's War-Time President, With Present to do Dead Man Honor—Government Business Ceases While the Funeral Is Being Held.

Washington, Feb. 6.—(By the A. P.)—As the nation waited to pay its last silent tribute and respect today to Woodrow Wilson the simple arrangements for the funeral were completed and the machinery of government slowed to stop.

A few hours before the funeral cortege would leave the saddened home where he found peace after the turmoil of eight years in the highest office his countrymen can give him the streets were filling along the way it must pass. Congress stood idle in honor to the dead, the government departments set free swarming thousands from office routine that they might share in the tribute.

At stated intervals all the way up the wide avenue to the Cathedral soldiers and marines were in place to hold open the road.

There was little but respect for the dead to draw these silent watchers away from the busy thoroughfares of the city into the quiet streets that the short funeral procession would travel. It was to be a sad spectacle without martial display or the mourning of great bands.

They could not hear the private services at the home and only a few could catch the echoes of the funeral ceremony at the chapel where the body of the fallen leader would be entombed. Yet they came to stand hour by hour just to watch in silence as the casket was carried swiftly by.

Many On Streets

Even before the small gathering of those who would join with the family in the home service 1-4 begun to assemble the lines were forming where the carriages and meters waited to bear them on later to the chapel. For a wide area about the S street home and either side of the way, Massachusetts Avenue to Mount St. Albans, where the Cathedral stands police regulations closed off all vehicular traffic except such as was necessary for the funeral party. Others of the distinguished company destined to witness the chapel ceremony were carried by roundabout ways to the Cathedral and all were in their places in the dim chapel before the funeral party arrived. There was only standing space for those behind the few chairs set for the family and for President Coolidge and his cabinet.

ROY FRAZIER ISSUES G. O. P. MEETING CALL

State Committee Will Meet
Here on Thursday to Discuss Plans, He Says

Roy Frazier of Crosby, chairman of the Republican state committee, has called that committee for a meeting here on Thursday. Frazier proposes to fill vacancies existing in the list of candidates for delegates to the Republican national convention, selected at the committee meeting here several weeks ago when the committee commended the candidacy of President Coolidge.

Frazier, who generally says what he thinks and don't care who knows it and is known as a two-tisted open hand fighter in politics in his home county, is mad clean through over the criticism voiced of the action of the Republican state committee, controlled by Nonpartisans.

Frazier is particularly bitter against two or three league men who sat in the state committee meeting at the capitol—one of them suggesting the name of a candidate for delegate—and then when they got home began throwing rocks at the committee and joined other political organizations.

Asked if the action of his committee would come before the league state convention Frazier declared: "They don't dare to bring it up. If they do I'll tell the truth about some of these fellows who've been knocking me."

Frazier, who is county clerk of Divide county, editor of the Divide county Farmer, Press and holds a lot of other positions in various organizations, is particularly bitter over the declaration that he favored President Coolidge because he hoped to get a federal job—that of collector of internal revenue. Frazier visited Coolidge recently in Washington.

"These fellows that are saying I'm trying to do this for a job can't show where I ever went after a federal place," asserted Frazier. "But I can show you letters where the same fellows wanted me to help get them a postoffice or something like it."

Belgium Reduces Death Through Red Cross Aid

Brussels, Feb. 6.—A total of 101,850 persons died in Belgium during 1923, or 13.7 deaths to each thousand inhabitants as compared with 25.5 in 1920.

Official statistics say that hygienic measures inaugurated during and after the war, prominent in the application and of which were the members of the American Red Cross, have been largely responsible for bringing down the death rate.

BEST CONTRACT APPROVED

Williston, N. D., Feb. 6.—At a recent meeting at Sydney, Mont., of the Montana-Dakota Beet Growers association, a farm of contract between the association and its constituent farmers was discussed and found generally satisfactory.

They were authorized to use its proposals as the basis for negotiations to be taken up with factories.

Dreams occur when sleep is light and generally after 4 o'clock in the morning. Remembering dreams is something of an art and is developed by practice.

CROWDS SEE WILSON CORTEGE PASS

CONVENTION OF NONPARTISANS IS UNDER WAY

Call of Convention Which
Probably Will Last Two Days Made by Church

SORLIE IS LEADING

Efforts Being Made to Pave
Way For Unanimous Nomination of Forks Man

Everything pointed to a general agreement among Nonpartisans this afternoon for the endorsement of A. G. Sorlie of Grand Forks as the league candidate for Governor. Close friends of Senator B. F. Baker declared openly that he would not permit his name to be used and that his strength would go to Mr. Sorlie.

The Nonpartisan League State Convention, called to consider organization matters and endorse candidates for State and National offices for the coming election, got under way shortly before noon today in Patterson hall on the call of State Chairman W. J. Church. The convention proceeded with its organization without preliminary oratory. J. C. Miller of Bottineau being named temporary and then permanent chairman.

Chairman Church asked the convention to name committees to frame the order of business, prepare resolutions, report on nominations, finance and other questions, it being desired by the State Committee to have much of the business presented to the convention in concrete form by the committees so as to expedite matters. After brief preliminaries the convention was to adjourn until afternoon.

Say Baker Is Out
Question of candidates for state offices rose to the fore in pre-convention discussion during the morning. The flat statement was made by close friends of Senator B. F. Baker of Renville county that he would not permit himself to be endorsed for governor or any other state office. The acceptance by Baker's close friends of this understanding led supporters of A. G. Sorlie of Grand Forks to predict his nomination for governor on the first ballot. Senator Baker declined to comment on the situation.

A report circulated by friends of Commissioner of Insurance S. A. Olmshead that he would not be a candidate again for that office and a boom for him for congressman from the Second District were met by Olmshead himself with a declaration of comment. Candidates proposed by friends for congressman from the Second District became more numerous than for any other office. Inclined among the latest urged for the office was State Auditor D. C. Poindexter.

State Chairman Church said that he was "a passive candidate" for the endorsement for Congress.

Take Adjournment
After naming Gerald Nye of Coopers-town secretary and appointing a credentials committee composed of C. J. Olson of Barnes county, Mrs. Howard Wood of Cass county and B. A. Patton of Mountrail county the convention adjourned until 3 p. m. out of respect to the memory of Woodrow Wilson.

The question of labor delegates may come before the convention here. Representative Hardy of Marmarth was here seeking recognition as a labor delegate. Until the last convention organized labor was accorded certain delegates but the rule was changed and no special provision made for them. S. S. McDonald of Bismarck said that he made a fight to retain the labor delegates at the last convention, was defeated and was not certain whether he would make the proposal again or not.

Financial Statement

The financial statement of the state executive committee, covering a period from July 11, 1922 to February 6, 1924, was to be presented to the convention as follows:

Receipts
Total Receipts	$6,506.58
Expenditures
General expenses 1922-
Campaign expenses, etc.	$3,530.36
Committee expenses and per diem	$2,509.78
Postage	281.59
Total expenditures	$6,321.73
Balance on hand Feb. 6, 1924	$184.85

To Kill Third Party
The league "third party" movement was slated for an early death in the convention. Senator Ralph Ingerson of Burke county, who sponsored the plan, said that he expected it would be killed in convention, and numerous other leagueurs who declared that the league should stay in the Republican primary declared that there was no chance of the league taking any other course. However, the Burke county delegation expects to give the convention a chance to talk the matter over.

The sentiment that the league should take no action with regard (Continued on page 2)

AND HE'S A BANKER, TOO

He looks like a real western cowpuncher—a ranch owner at least. But he's better known as the new president of the American Bankers Association. The gentleman is Walter W. Head, and he is right at home on a horse, too—capable of roping in beef or business, as it were.

URGES WHEAT ACREAGE CUT

Banker Declares This Offer
Only Solution

Columbus, O., Feb. 6.—Only a reduction in the production of wheat can bring relief to the wheat growers, George E. Roberts, vice-president of the National City Bank of New York City, declared in an address today at the Ohio State University "Farmers' Week."

"Any form of government aid such as price-fixing above the market which has the effect of inducing farmers to continue wheat growing on the present scale would be a mistake," he said, "because wheat growing on this scale is not needed." The speaker said that there had been no serious over-development of agriculture but that "a moderate movement from the farm to the town industries would help make our agriculture more independent of Europe."

TRAIL BODY IN MEETING

Discuss Plans For Inducing
More Tourists

Plans for inducing greater tourist travel on the National Parks Highway (Red Trail) will be discussed at a meeting of the eastern division executives of the trail association at Minneapolis today and tomorrow. A. F. Bradley, Secretary of the Bismarck Association of Commerce, is attending the meeting. Representatives from North Dakota, Minnesota and Wisconsin are expected to attend the meeting. Plans have been developed during the winter for a greater publicity campaign in the east in behalf of the National Parks Highway.

IN THE HOTEL LOBBIES

The league state convention provides not only a place of doing political business but furnishes a reunion for scores of leagueurs from various parts of the state who have served together in the legislature, state departments or been engaged in various political campaigns together.

Secretary of State Thomas Hall, William Langer and Orlan Olson endorsed for state senator from this district, were among the Bismarckers, present or past officials in the state house, who milled around the McKenzie lobby last night confabbing with the visiting leagueurs.

Surprise was caused many when a boom was launched for S. A. Olmshead for congressman from the Second district and several friends said his name probably would not be presented to the convention as a candidate for insurance commissioner.

E. H. (Dad) Walker of Yucca is not a delegate to the league state convention for a change. "Dad" also is going more heavily in county politics, having been named a candidate for county treasurer of Oliver county. He is interested also in the

DANIELS AND M'ADOO WILL BE SUMMONED

Two Former Cabinet Men To
Be Asked To Testify in
Senate Oil Inquiry

WILL CALL FALL AGAIN

Senator Walsh Plans Action
After Senate Grants Re-
newal of Authority

Washington, Feb. 6.—Preparations for the active resumption of the inquiry were pressed forward today while accountants searched books of stock brokerage houses to determine for the senate investigating committee whether government officials had dealings in the shares of companies formed to take over the naval reserve leases.

The committee was prepared to press in the senate tomorrow for reauthorization of the resolution under which it is authorized so that it may recall Albert B. Fall, who as Secretary of the Interior arranged the leases for questioning with a renewal of the authority challenged by him last week.

Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, also is planning to seek action by the senate tomorrow on his resolution looking to annulment of the lease held by the Standard Oil Company of California on section 36 in the Elk Hills California reserves. Oscar Sutro, counsel for the company, conferred yesterday with Mr. Walsh and Silas H. Strawn of Chicago and former Senator Pomeroy of Ohio, the counsel selected by President Coolidge to represent the government in the oil cases in an effort to convince them that former Secretary Fall's dismissal of proceedings designed to recover the section to the government had been just and legal but, the senator said, he failed in his purpose.

After Fall is again called upon by the committee to submit to examination William G. McAdoo, candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination; Joseph Daniels, Secretary of the Navy in the Wilson administration and George Creel, chairman of the Committee on Public Information during the war, are expected to be given a hearing with reference to statements made by E. L. Dohney, holder of the California naval reserve lease.

REBELS CLEAR VERA CRUZ IN QUIET MANNER

City Is Again Placed in the Control of Civilian
Authorities

Washington, Feb. 6.—The entire "evacuation" of Vera Cruz by De La Huerta insurgents against the Obregon government of Mexico has been peacefully effected and that city is again under control of its regular civilian authorities.

NAMED HEAD OF SHIP BOARD

Washington, Feb. 6.—T. V. O'Connor of Buffalo, N. Y., former president of the International Longshoremen's Union and present member of the Shipping Board, was designated by President Coolidge today to be chairman of the board.

The average daily number of London police off duty through sickness is about 700.

Weather Report

For twenty-four hours ending at noon today.

Temperature at 7 a. m.	17
Highest yesterday	17
Lowest yesterday	9
Lowest last night	8
Precipitation	0
Highest wind velocity	10

WEATHER FORECAST
For Bismarck and vicinity: Mostly cloudy tonight and Thursday. Not much change in temperature.

For North Dakota: Mostly cloudy tonight and Thursday. Not much change in temperature.

WEATHER CONDITIONS
The storm area is moving slowly eastward to the St. Lawrence Valley and precipitation occurred in the Great Lakes region and Mississippi Valley. High pressure, accompanied by fair, cold weather prevails over the Plains States. The low pressure area over the northern Rocky Mountains yesterday morning has filled up somewhat and temperatures are slightly lower over the western Canadian Provinces. Light, scattered precipitation occurred over the northern Rocky Mountain region.

GO TO CAMP
The war department has authorized the attendance of Capt. Heber Edwards, Company M, North Dakota National Guard, Grand Forks, and Lieut. Alvin Feichtner, Company H, Jamestown, at the army school at Fort Benning, Georgia, beginning February 25, it was announced at the Adjutant-General's office.

WIDLUND, ACTING VICECONSUL
Grand Forks, N. D., Feb. 6.—S. B. Widlund of Grand Forks has been named as acting Swedish viceconsul for North Dakota by A. I. Widlund of Grand Forks, the permanent viceconsul, who has left for an extended eastern trip.

41 DROWNED AS WATER RUSHES THROUGH MINE

Victims of Crosby, Minnesota,
Disaster Have Practically
No Warning

ONLY SEVEN SURVIVE

Collapse of the Part of the Bottom of a Swamp Lake
Is Said Responsible

Crosby, Minn., Feb. 6.—(By the A. P.)—Collapse of a part of the bottom of a swamp lake sent a torrent of water coursing through the workings of the Milford Iron mine near here late yesterday and snuffed out the lives of 41 miners caught, like rats in a trap. On the lower level more than 150 feet under ground, the crew of 48 miners were working when with hardly a warning, water burst through the roof of the drift, flooding the mine within 15 minutes to within a few feet of the top of the shaft.

Alarmed at the first rumbling as the earthen roof and timbers gave way, seven miners near the shaft started up to stairs near to safety but their 41 comrades caught in the muddy, swirling water met almost instantaneous death.

Most of the victims were young men, many of them married, and most of the children that took up the sorrowful vigil with their mothers were tiny tots, clutching in wonderment at their mothers' skirts, awed by the thing that had made them orphans.

While a number of the men were foreigners, by far the greater number were naturalized Americans or American-born, and all were experienced miners, working in an old mine deemed safe.

Minnesota Mine
The mine, situated about four miles north of Crosby in a region somewhat swampy, formerly was the old Ida May mine, owned then by the Crosby-Minneapolis Iron company, whose stockholders largely were residents of Minneapolis and St. Paul.

After recouping a year ago, the property reverted to the fee owners, and last year shipped out 70,000 tons of manganese ore. It was operated under lease by the Whitmarsh Mining Company, and is owned by George H. Crosby of Duluth.

Fifty-five men make up the normal crew that worked under mine captain Crellin and Harry Middlebrook, superintendent of the mine. Today however, six men were absent from work, and contrary to custom, Middlebrook did not enter the mine.

Captain Crellin and Roland McDonald, a mining engineer of Duluth, were among those who lost their lives. The other victims are residents of Crosby and other towns around here, including Ironton, Manganese, Cuyuna, Wolford, and River-ton.

Three of the seven men who survived are Frank Hravatin, Jr., whose father was killed; Emil Kainu and Matt Kagan.

The shaft of the Milford mine is 123 feet deep and the mine level of the mine is 100 feet beneath the surface.

St. Paul, Feb. 6.—Adjutant-General W. F. Rhinow left at 9 o'clock this morning for Crosby.

BISMARCK MAN HEADS GREETERS

Fargo, N. D., Feb. 6.—North Dakota is a going concern that is a little short of capital, but that it can get out of difficulties and probably with less trouble than most of its neighbors is admitted by all who have studied the situation, was the declaration of C. E. Danielson, president of the North Dakota Automobile association, in an address before the Greeters of North Dakota in their annual convention which is being held here today.

Henry Halvorson of the Grand Pacific hotel, Bismarck, was elected president of the state organization, succeeding William Laimer of the Gardner hotel, Fargo, at the business session held at the Gardner hotel this forenoon.

Other officers chosen were: Vice-president, C. C. Lillie, Frederick Hotel, Grand Forks; secretary, H. G. Harken, St. Charles hotel, Dickinson; board of governors, Herhan Kuehle, Metropole hotel, Fargo; Ed Kaslin, Gladstone hotel, Jamestown; Irvin Kappelke, Irving hotel, Kenmare; Norman H. Young, Donaldson hotel, Fargo; and U. R. Whiting, Grand hotel, Minot.

SCHOOL FUND SHOWS DROP
The interest and income fund derived for common schools from state and land department funds, for the quarter ending January 31, is $348,917.00 as compared with $418,518.00 for the same quarter last year, according to State Auditor D. C. Poindexter. The amount was certified today to the state superintendent of public instruction for apportionment among the counties of the state.

U. S. Flag Is Placed Before German Embassy

Washington, Feb. 6.—Sometime between dark and daylight this morning an American flag on a slender flagstaff was planted on the lawn of the German embassy which on instructions from Berlin had failed so far to hasten its German colors for Woodrow Wilson.

This morning the stars and stripes had been removed again from the embassy grounds but both the manner of the flag's appearance and the exact story of its removal remained somewhat of a mystery.

The police reported that they received a telephone complaint regarding the invasion of the embassy property which technically is German soil. They did not know from whom the complaint came.

Embassy officials said they made no such complaint and refused to discuss the subject further. Whether any member of the police force had taken the flag away was not clearly established. That the German embassy would not, like other diplomatic missions here, half-mast its colors for the dead president aroused a resentment of some American Legion officials who said they would ask the state department to act.

It was said by those at the embassy that Mr. Wilson was regarded as a private citizen and that therefore the Berlin government saw no reason to pay him the funeral honors due the head of a foreign state. It was for that reason, it was declared, that the German flag had not been raised at all over the embassy Sunday. Late yesterday, however, after the situation had been noised about Washington, and had created something of a sensation the embassy changed its mind and announced that after 12:30 p. m. it would raise its flag and tie it at half mast.

CHIEF JUSTICE TAFT STRICKEN

Is Unable to Attend Funeral
of Woodrow Wilson

Washington, Feb. 6.—Chief Justice Taft was taken with acute indigestion today and was unable to act as honorary pallbearer for former President Woodrow Wilson. Justice Brandeis was invited to represent the supreme court. The chief justice's attack was said to be yielding to treatment.

SEN. LODGE ILL

Washington, Feb. 6.—Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, although designated by the senate as a member of the committee to attend Woodrow Wilson's funeral services, remained at his home throughout the day. His office announced that he was confined on the advice of his physician "because of a bad throat."

TWO AVIATORS FIGHT STORM

Think They Are Landing in
Lake But Are Safe

Chicago, Feb. 6.—Jack Speed, Minneapolis aviator and Jack Cope, a local pilot, missing since late yesterday in an airplane Speed had purchased after a harrowing experience amid blizzards conditions landed injured 10 miles from Hammond, Indiana, they telephoned friends today. Although they escaped injury their plane was damaged.

Flying in the snow and darkness they became obsessed with the belief that they were over Lake Michigan and unable to sight a light they decided to take their chances with water or land.

They landed in open country.

Shoe Convention To Be At Chicago

Chicago, Feb. 6.—When the members of the National Shoe Retailers' Association meet in convention in Chicago Feb. 11-14, they purpose to stress a program of education.

The argument is advanced that badly shod feet spoil the appearance of a man or woman who get-up otherwise may be perfect, and that the public should be instructed in what kind of shoes are most appropriate for various and sundry occasions.

FARGO BARN CASES ARE POSTPONED TO MARCH 11
Grand Forks, N. D., Feb. 6.—Continuance of the Fargo barn cases from March 4 to March 11 is announced by district Judge W. J. Kneeshaw of Pembina who has been appointed to hear the cases in Grand Forks.

Judge Kneeshaw announces that he will hold a term of court at Devils Lake in March which will make it impossible to start the cases here at the date formerly set.

It is believed to be virtually impossible to find a man over 40 years old who has perfect eyesight.

SILENT THOUSANDS GATHER ON QUIET STREETS AS THE SIMPLE RITES FOR MR. WILSON ARE HELD

Respectful Attention Draws Them Along as Private services
Are Held For Nation's War-Time President, With President Coolidge and Many Other Distinguished People Present to do Dead Man Honor—Government Business
Ceases While the Funeral Is Being Held.

Washington, Feb. 6.—(By the A. P.)—As the nation waited to pay its last silent tribute and respect today to Woodrow Wilson the simple arrangements for the funeral were completed and the machinery of government slowed to stop.

A few hours before the funeral cortege would leave the saddened home where he found peace after the turmoil of eight years in the highest office his countrymen can give him the streets were filling along the way it must pass. Congress stood idle in honor to the dead, the government departments set free swarming thousands from office routine that they might share in the tribute.

At stated intervals all the way up the wide avenue to the Cathedral soldiers and marines were in place to hold open the road.

There was little but respect for the dead to draw these silent watchers away from the busy thoroughfares of the city into the quiet streets that the short funeral procession would travel. It was to be a sad spectacle without martial display or the mourning of great bands.

ROY FRAZIER ISSUES G. O. P. MEETING CALL

State Committee Will Meet
Here on Thursday to Discuss Plans, He Says

Many On Streets
Even before the small gathering of those who would join with the family in the home service had begun to assemble the lines were forming where the carriages and meters waited to bear them on later to the chapel. For a wide area about the S street home and either side of the Mount St. Albans, where the Cathedral stands police regulations closed off all vehicular traffic except such as was necessary for the funeral party. Others of the distinguished company destined to witness the chapel ceremony were carried by roundabout ways to the Cathedral and all were in their places in the dignified chapel before the funeral party arrived. There was only standing space for those behind the few chairs set for the family and for President Coolidge and his cabinet.

Await President Coolidge
On the south side of S street even pedestrian traffic had been closed off to keep the way clear for the entire block. Opposite where through the long hours of Mr. Wilson's last illness had stood a waiting line, there was something of a stir as a foot could find place. Many lined the high-banked earth beyond the sidewalk to wait for a brief glimpse of the President and Mrs. Coolidge and of the other distinguished persons who were admitted to the private services.

No Music There
There was no music in that simple service, no sound to reach the waiting people in the streets. The library where the service was held is at the back of the house and no window glimpse rewarded the patient watchers in the streets.

Most of those in the streets already knew almost word for word what was to be said within. They knew that three clergymen would make a fellowship of simple mourning and devotional utterance beside the bier. The Episcopal Bishop of Washington and two Presbyterian pastors with which Mr. Wilson had worshiped in Washington or in Princeton. There were many but they could have repeated with Dr. Taylor the encouraging words of faith and comfort voiced in the twenty-third psalm, who could have foretold the appeal of Dr. Beach would make that heavenly compassion would encompass the bereaved household. It was for Bishop Freeman to employ that even more intimate page from the devout life of the dead man taken from the worn book of religious comfort it had been his nightly custom to read.

Belgium Reduces Death Through Red Cross Aid

Brussels, Feb. 6.—A total of 101,850 persons died in Belgium during 1923, or 13.7 deaths to each thousand inhabitants as compared with 25.5 in 1920.

Official statistics say that hygienic measures inaugurated during and after the war, prominent in the application and of which were the members of the American Red Cross, have been largely responsible for bringing down the death rate.

BEET CONTRACT APPROVED

Williston, N. D., Feb. 6.—At a recent meeting at Sydney, Mont., of the Montana-Dakota Beet Growers association, a form of contract between the association and its constituent farmers was discussed and found generally satisfactory. The directors were authorized to use its proposals as the basis for negotiations to be taken up with factories.

Dreams occur when sleep is light and generally after 4 o'clock in the morning. Remembering dreams is something of an art and is developed by practice.

FIRST REPORT ON CITY WATER WORKS IS MADE

City Commission Sees Cause For Cheer in Operating— Profit Shown By It

Operating Profit Is Shown For Worst Two Months of Year, It Is Said

The city commission, in meeting last night, was given a report of the operations of the city water plant for the first two months, December and January. Because the months were "short months" the water meter reading being on December 25 and January 21 the report is not considered entirely representative of what may be expected from the new plant. Also there is the fact that the months of January and December are usually the lowest in the amount of water used, according to water department officials.

The net amount reserved for interest and sinking fund on bonds from the two months' operation, reported, is $5,714.98, according to the report. Because bonds were issued at various times and part of the interest was to be met the first year by taxes, the report did not attempt to show just what the relation of the operating profit is to the interest indebtedness. However, members of the city commission saw something for cheer in the report which figured the approximate cost of producing water per 1,000 gallons at 21 cents, including interest and sinking, and believe that this forecasts that the water department will be a paying proposition and the city can continue to operate without the 35 percent surcharge which was discontinued.

There are 1,018 individual consumers of the water department, it was shown in the report.

Several breaks in the system due to cold weather caused bills for repairs which it is said will not have to be met ordinarily. After the new plant is completed and the power the booster pump, which cost $279.85 to operate for two months, will be discontinued. The largest single item in the water works operation is $1,203.61 for electric power for the pump house, paid to the Hughes Electric Company.

The statement of operations of the water department for its first two months, ending January 31, 1924, follows:

Dr. Cr.

Water sales, Dec. and Jan. (including Feb. and March) flat rates, in advance, about $750 99,621.74

Office salary, and $ 850.00

Electric power, pump house 1,203.61

Supplies, pump house 150.16

Maintenance, pump house 276.80

Booster pump, maintenance and expenses 279.85

Stationery, postage, printing (including new books) 270.00

Express, freight and drayage 9.00

Reading meters 128.00

New service connections 43.00

General repairs and maintenance 180.12

Employees' bonds, workmen's compensation 116.83

Shoe rent and supplies 22.00

Reservoir maintenance and supplies 364.62

Stores, account and material (meters sold) 48.13

Net reserve for interest and sinking on bonds 5,714.98

$99,621.74 99,621.74

Number of gallons water pumped, December 19,932,400

Number of gallons water pumped, January 19,719,100

Total for two months 39,651,500

Cost per 1,000 gallons against total expense 1.09

Cost per 1,000 gallons to pump or delivered in reservoir .042

Cost per 1,000 gallons power to pump .031

Note—Cost per 1,000 gallons delivered to consumer, including interest and sinking both bonds issues, approximately 34 cents.

That Spoils It.

"Don't you think that young man is nice, mama?"

"I do not, my dear. He looks too much like your father when he was a young man."—Le Rire (Paris).

DeMORSE'S INDIAN ROOT PILLS

DRIVE OUT THE BAD

Keep the system active. Restore equilibrium.

Get the full story from Dr. DeMorse's Indian Root Pills.

WARDEN!

Oh, Please, Mr. Officer Take Me To Jail!

POLITICAL POT BOILING OVER IN STATE AS CONVENTIONS ARE HELD

With "Real Republican" county conventions being held over the state today to select delegates to the "Real Republican" state convention here on February 11, with the Nonpartisan League state convention set for tomorrow and with the organizations holding the various national candidates, the political pot is fairly boiling over in North Dakota this week.

The Williams County Farmers' Press, a militant Nonpartisan newspaper, furnishes a new suggestion for the league state convention. The paper says "Banks county leagues passed a resolution at their county convention urging the abandonment of the use of the old party machines and advocating a new party called 'The Nonpartisan League Party.' The third party, idea is all right, but why not go a step further, abandon the name 'Nonpartisan' and use the independent slogan on the ballot a 'Progressive Party' designation?"

The editor of the Williams County Farmers' Press at a suggests the possibility of a feature not listed for the Nonpartisan convention. The editor, Ernest A. Francis, says Roy Frazier called him on the phone (Frazier Republican state committee's action in endorsing Frazier and Francis said that "Frazier and Francis

EXTOL WILSON IN CONGRESS

Political Enemies Speak on High Qualities of Former President

Washington, Feb. 5.—The clamor of partisan disunion was still in congress yesterday in deference to the passing of Woodrow Wilson. Neither in senate nor house was a speech made or any action taken except with the purpose of paying tribute to the dead.

On the senate floor, where so often in past years, the foreign policies of the fallen president have been the center of bitter contention, those of all parties joined in extolling the qualities of high idealism that guided him through the dark days of the great war.

Lodge speaks

Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, leader of the Republicans and arch enemy of the league of nations, was one of those who spoke in praise of Wilson, the man. He said he felt in common with others "a very deep sympathy" for the sufferings of Mr. Wilson during his long illness, and shared the general feeling of profound sorrow at his death. He described the former president as a man of "marked ability and of serene character," to whose lot it had fallen to "play the leading part in the unspcakably difficult work of making peace."

Wilson Eulogized

The Democratic senate leader, Senator Robinson of Arkansas, eulogized Mr. Wilson as fit for a place among the renowned of all time.

Both Senator Lodge and Senator Robinson will serve on a committee designated to represent the senate at the funeral services.

In the house, the war president was eulogized by Representative Longworth, of Ohio, Republican leader, as a "great figure whose greatness will be mourned throughout the

CANNON BALL VALLEY FARMS PRODUCE MUCH

Confidence Is Key-Note in That Section of Western N. D., Says Orr

TELS OF HIS TRIP

Finds Cattle and Hogs Are Producing Much Wealth in a Large Territory

"Self-confidence" expresses the state of mind of farmers and business men in the Cannon Ball Valley country, according to the report of E. C. Orr, field representative of the War Finance Corporation, who has just returned to Bismarck after a three weeks inspection trip in that district.

"They have a great asset, in the face of present disturbed conditions, in their confidence in themselves, their farms and their businesses," he said. "They feel they have lived through considerable worse conditions than now exist when they were not nearly so well organized to withstand unfavorable conditions, and they refuse to be alarmed or disturbed."

"The territory passed through a series of poor crop years during the high prices, caused by black rust, drought and a scourge of grasshoppers lasting several years and were compelled in order to exist to turn their attention to other means of providing a living besides wheat.

"As a result, very satisfactory progress has been made in dairying, and the raising of cattle, hogs and poultry for the market. Corn acreage has increased amazingly and the yields per acre claimed are almost unbelievable.

"The feeding of cattle and hogs for market has received especial attention during the present winter and the results on the shipments which have already been made are very gratifying. The big surplus of corn and other feeds on the farm this year is bringing results in dollars and cents.

"The poor wheat yields on many fields, due generally to black rust, did not cripple the farmer in his operations nearly so much as heretofore because wheat constituted only a part of his acreage. In many instances the farmer now has half or more of his acreage in corn, oats, barley, speltz or rye."

Have Many Cattle

At Solon, Mr. Orr inspected forty two farmers' notes held by the War Finance Corporation. The noticeable thing was that the security, among other things, covered 1021 head of cattle, averaging 22 head to the farmer, about half of which were cows. An average of eleven cows to the farm means a "cream" check big enough to pay a very comfortable living for the average family, and have the cash every week right "in the jeans" to pay with, he said.

At Flasher, the Holstein Dairy Association is a remarkable success as proved by the cream shipments from Flasher and Lark, he found. Some of the members have owned at the point where they can turn off some of their high class dairy cattle and begin to reduce their obligations. The recent pure-bred pig sale of the Cotner Brothers, where last spring's porkers brought from $28 to $103, is a sure indication of the interest and known success of high grade hog raising, he added.

At Carson and Heil there was every evidence of satisfactory progress toward "a safe and sure plan of farming operations."

Get Top Price

At Elgin there was much favorable comment on a recent shipment of big corn-fed steers which brought $9.50 per hundred at the market. The first car-load of shelled corn ever shipped from this point netted the farmers 65 cents per bushel, the average yield to the acre claimed being forty bushels.

At New Leipzig, a study of farmers' financial statements for three years past showed an average increase in net assets of approximately ten thousand dollars, mostly the shape of cattle and hogs but generally including some new machinery, largely corn machinery.

Many New Silos

At Mott, something like 70 silos within a radius of twenty miles tells the story. Every silo means at least twenty five acres of corn each year and the cattle and hogs and poultry to eat the silage and corn. One farmer purchased a new corn picking and husking machine this fall and half paid for it by picking and husking his own 135 acres of corn. He is milking twenty two cows with a milking machine, he is corn feeding a catload and a half of big husky steers, and about one hundred twenty hogs. He has not raised an acre of wheat for several years. Another farmer tells of receiving four hundred three dollars as the proceeds from ten turkey hens and their broods this Christmas season, and says it was an off year for turkeys and the returns were not very good.

"Almost every point tells of ship-corn for the first time, and some elevators have installed corn-shelling and other facilities for handling corn in the future, as they realize that corn acreage will increase every year," said Mr. Orr.

"Conditions on the farm are reflected in the business world of this district. The answers received from inquiries made make one almost believe that Courie himself had been there and encouraged the populace with his 'Every month' and every year things are getting better and better.

"It would seem that the farmers and business men have every reason for their self-confidence and that in years to come the Cannon Ball Valley will be one of the richest districts in North Dakota."

TWICE PROVEN

If you suffer backache, sleepless nights, tired, dull days and distressing urinary disorders, don't experiment. Read this twice-told testimony. It's Bismarck evidence—doubly proven.

Mrs. M. F. Reynolds, 417 Madison Ave., Bismarck, says: "I suffered from pains through my back and kidneys, and other symptoms of kidney trouble. My ankles swelled and I found it difficult to get my shoes on at times. After trying several different kidney remedies without getting the least help I finally got Doan's Pills at the Lenhart Drug Co., and a few convulsed me that they were a good remedy. I continued using Doan's until all trace of the trouble had entirely disappeared.

Over twelve years' later, Mrs. Reynolds said: "I think as highly of Doan's Pills as when I recommended them before. I have used them on several occasions since when I have taken cold and noticed a slight return of my former trouble and have always obtained prompt relief."

Get at all dealers. Foster-McIlburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

SEE CHEVROLET FIRST FOR ECONOMICAL TRANSPORTATION

showed a decided increase over 1922. In the case of Ford cars and trucks this amounted to 789,628 or an increase of more than 50 percent. Reflecting greater demand in both agricultural and industrial fields, Fordson tractor production rose from 68,985 in 1922 to 101,858 for the year just ended.

Demand for Lincoln cars has likewise continued to grow, 1923 bringing an increase of 2,653 over 1922 when 5,378 were produced.

In spite of the substantial increase in output during the past year Ford officials say it was impossible to meet dealers' requirements during the Spring and Summer months when orders for 350,000 Ford cars and trucks could not be filled.

Reports now being received from Ford Branches and dealers indicate that the demand for 1924 will be even greater than it was during 1923.

FORD OUTPUT AT NEW MARK

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 5.—Final production figures for 1923 just made public by the Ford Motor Company, show a total of 2,200,682 Ford Products for the year.

Of this number 2,090,959 represents Ford cars and trucks alone. The output of Fordson tractors totaled 101,858 while 7,825 Lincoln cars were manufactured, establishing a new yearly record.

Every branch of the Ford output

LUMBER FACTS NO. 5

The only "permanent" structures are tombs. The only "fire proof" buildings are jails. Who wants to live in either? Lumber builds homes for human comfort and human enjoyment and lasts a lifetime.

Use Lumber

NATIONAL LUMBER MANUFACTURERS ASSOCIATION

SEE CHEVROLET FIRST FOR ECONOMICAL TRANSPORTATION

Style Language — TODAY Plain English

The last word in men's fashion is English. It means loose fitting straight line effects with a wide deep lapel, low hung pockets and straight trousers.

We Have Them See Our Windows.

Simple Home Treatment for Sore Throat

Raw, Sore, Inflamed Throats Can Be Greatly Relieved by Use of this Vaporizing Salve.

Here is a simple yet effective method to treat a sore throat. Gargle with warm salt water three times daily. Also swallow slowly every few hours a teaspoonful of Vicks.

At night apply Vicks over the throat and upper chest, rubbing well in. Then spread on thickly and cover with a warm flannel cloth.

The body heat releases the ingredients—Menthol, Camphor, Eucalyptus, Juniper Tar, etc.—in the form of vapors and these vapors, inhaled all night long, go directly to the affected parts.

At the same time Vicks is absorbed thru and stimulates the skin like a liniment or plaster drawing out the soreness and pain.

Vicks is equally good for hoarseness, tonsillitis, head and chest colds, and for the croupy colds of children.

A Life Job

Standard Oil Company (Indiana)

910 S. Michigan Ave., Chicago, Ill.

Style Language — TODAY Plain English

The last word in men's fashion is English. It means loose fitting straight line effects with a wide deep lapel, low hung pockets and straight trousers.

We Have Them See Our Windows.

S. E. BERGESON & SON

Custom Tailoring. Clothing and Furnishings.

Business Directory

WEBB BROTHERS

Undertakers Embalmers Funeral Directors

Licensed Embalmer in Charge

DAY PHONE 246 NIGHT PHONES 246-387

PERRY UNDERTAKING PARLORS

Licensed Embalmer in Charge

Day Phone 100 Night Phone 100 or 887

A few days ago one of our officials was asked, "How does the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) keep so many of its employees year after year?"

Speaking in a broad sense the answer lies in two words—"Industrial Harmony", gained through the every day practice of the principles of justice, fairness and equity within the organization.

Standard Oil Company (Indiana) employees know that the Company is engaged in a basic industry and that, therefore, continuity of employment is assured.

Every employee who has been in the Company's service for one year, or more, has the privilege of buying stock in the Company, up to 20% of his earnings, on a favorable basis. To every dollar the employee invests in this manner, the Company adds 50c. Thus does the Company provide a plan of assisting employees in accumulating a competence.

A few years ago the Company put into operation an annuity system, providing an income for those employees who have reached old age in the Company's service or who may have been incapacitated while so engaged.

Within the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) there is an internal organization—the Industrial Relations Department—which provides an open channel for men and women to bring their grievances to the attention of the Management for adjustment, and which enables them to have a voice in all matters pertaining to their employment and their working conditions. Since the inauguration of this plan 93.3% of the suggestions submitted to the Management have been made effective.

Therefore, with continuity of employment assured—with assistance in acquiring a competence—with provision for income when active work-days are over—and with an open door for submitting grievances, with ample precedent for anticipating equitable adjustment—is it to be wondered at that employees make Standard Oil Company (Indiana) business their life job?

Is it surprising that every Standard Oil Company (Indiana) employee with whom you come in contact, puts forth an enthusiastic effort to render you a full measure of service? The business of the Company is his business.

It is peace of mind within the individual and harmony prevailing throughout the organization that enables this Company to render such superior service as to have gained the respect, confidence and esteem of the thirty million people of the Middle West.

Standard Oil Company (Indiana)

910 S. Michigan Ave., Chicago, Ill.

BANKER FREED OF CHARGE

Embezzlement Accusation Is Dismissed

Mohall, N. D., Feb. 6.—Dismissal of an embezzlement charge against J. C. Peters, former president of the J. C. Peters bank, now closed, who with W. W. Bergman, cashier, and Frank W. Wier, assistant cashier, were charged with purloining $100,000 of the bank's funds, was ordered by Judge A. G. Burr in district court here following a motion to this effect made by Attorney Francis Murphy of Minot, special prosecutor for the state. Peters is now serving a four year sentence in the federal prison at Leavenworth, Kan., for using the mails to defraud, a charge to which he pleaded guilty in federal court in Minot in October, 1923.

The dismissal of the state charge against Peters came as a result of important testimony which he gave in civil actions, brought by the bank.

Bergman is serving a two year sentence in the Leavenworth prison and Wiebe was recently released after serving a portion of a term of one year and one day, all imposed in federal court in Minot.

The state charges of embezzlement will stand against Bergman and Wiebe.

DECISION OF SUPREME COURT FROM WARD COUNTY

Union Insurance Agency of Minot, North Dakota, a corporation, Plaintiff.

vs. The Insurance Company of North America, a corporation, Defendant.

In order to confer jurisdiction upon the Supreme Court in cases certified under Chapter 2, Session Laws of 1919, the question certified must be such that the determination of the cause in which it arises will depend wholly or principally upon the construction of the law applicable to such question.

Case certified from the District Court of Ward County, Honorable W. J. Kneeshaw, J.

Action by Union Insurance Agency of Minot against the Insurance Company of North America. At the close of the plaintiff's case the defendant moved to strike a certain exhibit from the record. Motion granted.

On application of the plaintiff, the question certified to the Supreme Court.

Cause remanded to the District Court for further disposition, according to law.

Opinion of the Court by Nuessle, J.

Palda & Aker, Minot, attorneys for plaintiff.

Fisk, Murphy & Nash, of Minot, attorneys for defendant.

FROM FOSTER COUNTY

O. E. DeWalt, Plaintiff-Respondent.

vs. Albert Heeren, Defendant-Appellant.

SYLLABUS:

1. In a suit upon a claim against a defendant who has been discharged in bankruptcy, it is held:

(a) The effect of a discharge in bankruptcy is to suspend the right of action for the debt against the debtor personally; the discharge does not annul the original debt or liability; the remedy upon the debt and the legal, but not the moral, obligation to pay the same is at an end.

(b) The discharge, being personal to the bankrupt, may be waived by him; it does not destroy the debt, but merely releases the bankrupt from liability by removing the legal obligation to pay the debt, leaving the moral obligation to pay intact; such moral obligation is a sufficient consideration to support a new promise to pay.

(c) Where it is claimed that a new promise to pay has been made, the plaintiff should declare on the original promise to pay, the new promise being a defense to a plea of discharge.

(d) It is not necessary for the plaintiff to allege the new promise, but he may, at the trial, prove such promise as a defense to the plea and proof of discharge in bankruptcy.

2. The objection that two, or more, causes of action are improperly united in the same complaint must be taken by demurrer or by answer, and if not taken, is deemed waived.

3. When a deposition is taken in a foreign state before an officer therein who does not have a seal and the same is not authenticated as provided in Section 7902, C. L. 1913, it is not error to suppress such deposition upon objection properly and timely made.

4. The granting or refusing of a continuance after a deposition has been suppressed, rests largely in the discretion of the trial court. For reasons stated in the opinion, it is held that it was not an abuse of discretion to deny a motion for a continuance.

5. For reasons stated in the opinion, it is held that the testimony, tending to show that a new promise to pay the debt was made by the defendant, after the bankruptcy proceedings, is sufficient to justify the peremptory instruction to the jury and to support the verdict returned pursuant thereto, no evidence having been introduced by the defendant.

Action on a contract to recover for the use of a team of horses.

Appeal from the District Court of Foster County, North Dakota, on H. A. Coffey, J.

Opinion of the Court by Johnson, J.

AFIRMED.

W. E. Hoopes, Carrington, N. Dak., Attorney for Appellant.

G. E. Groves, Carrington, N. Dak., Attorney for Respondent.

SCOTT'S EMULSION

WHY THEY CALL IT "TEAPOT DO ME," ALSO A VIEW OF THAT FIELD

Here's why they call the now famous Wyoming oil field "Teapot Dome." Picture at the right shows the peculiar rock formation brought about by erosion, from which the district draws its name. Above is a panoramic view of the oil field which is now in the limelight as a result of the Senate's probe of the conditions under which this portion of the naval oil reserve was leased to private interests. The Teapot Dome field is in central Wyoming, mainly in Natrona county.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS

BALDWIN

Bill Miller of the Arnold district was a visitor at the Richard Borne home the fore part of the week.

C. H. Berger, Julius Meyer and Fred Schroeder have returned from the Capital City, where they have served on the jury during the recent term of court.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Spitzer entertained a number of friends and relatives at their home last Friday evening. Music and cards were the diversions and a beautiful midnight lunch was served by the hostess.

Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Olson and family, Albin Thysell and wife and Mr. and Mrs. Olaf Lundin and family.

Emil Geigle brought in his tractor for overhauling Saturday afternoon. Mr. Geigle looks for an early spring this year and wants to be ready for it.

Walter Spangberg and Fred Sabot of the Regan district were business callers here the fore part of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schultz entertained a number of friends at their home Friday night the occasion being Mrs. Schultz's birthday. The evening was spent in social chat and several games of cards were played. A nice lunch was served to the guests during the evening. Among those present were Ernest Baumgart, a brother of Mrs. Schultz.

Among the students attending high school at Wilton, whose names appear on the honor roll for the past month are Misses Frede, Emma and Mathilda Spitzer, the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Spitzer of Baldwin.

Mr. McCullough, local rural mail carrier, has been making his daily trips by horse power the past week since his auto is out of commission.

Charley Sorch had for his last Sunday guest Mr. Eli Aaland of the Wilton district.

The Baldwin school has nearly reached normalcy. Quite a few of the children who have been confined to their home with sickness resumed their studies this week.

Richard Borne made a trip to the Wagonport vicinity last Wednesday on a business mission.

Bill Larson, who lives west of here near the river was seen in our midst Friday afternoon.

Herman Kickul and sons were busy putting up ice the past week at their home east of town.

Mike Ryan, foreman of the McGillis ranch a few miles south of town is recuperating from his recent illness at the Van Horn hotel in Bismarck. Mike has had a long siege of sickness having been suffering since the Christmas holidays.

The many friends of Emil Hogue, who left this vicinity last fall to assume a position as manager of Mr. A. P. Lenhart's ranch west of Arnold, will be interested in knowing he is doing very well. Emil in partnership with the owner raises the famous Duroc Jersey hogs and has a small dairy herd of milking strain Shorthorns. He also farms a large acreage and plans on devoting a good share of this to corn the coming season. Emil formerly resided on the Fritz homestead a few miles from Baldwin.

Carl Schultz has purchased the building on the Delzer farm south-east of Baldwin and expects to move it on his land south of town in the near future.

Mr. James McKay has been looking after the stock on the McGillis farm during the absence of the foreman, Mike Ryan.

H. A. Muehler of Wing, was looking after business matters in this vicinity part of the week.

Mrs. Isabel Borne has returned from a short visit with relatives in the Capital City.

Freddie Herdub, who attends school in Baldwin, spent the week-end with his folks east of town.

Several local residents have been complaining of bad colds the past week.

WILTON

Paul Bredzen, local farmer, was in town the latter part of the week. Mr. Bredzen won a prize on his corn exhibit at the corn show which was recently held in Bismarck.

Mrs. Edith Smith, chief operator of the local telephone exchange, has gone to Rochester, Minn., where she was called by the illness of her daughter, Mrs. Rhoda Alafson.

Markus Wetzel has purchased the E. H. Keenan building near the A. C. Wilde store. He plans on doing a lot of improving on his purchase, and has notified the tenants to vacate by March 1st.

Mr. Wetzel recently purchased the grocery store of J. F. Brenton.

Miss Irene Kunkle had for her house guests the Misses Margaret Kunkle and Sadie Van Cleave of Garrison the past week. Both ladies returned to their homes later in the following week.

Friends of Sidney Harris, who left this territory some time ago will be interested in knowing he is now located at Zatlage, Mexico. Mr. Harris has written friends that he likes his new home very much and plans on remaining there. Sidney states that all you have to do to raise a crop down there is plant it, and that it is a wonderful stock and farming country. He would like to have some of his Wilton friends for neighbors in his far away home.

Neils Nielson, local business man, is negotiating with a baker and may decide to put in a first class bakery in the near future. Mr. Nielson owns the building now occupied by Markus Deten, who will soon move to his new location in the Keenan building.

A great deal of unfavorable comment is being heard among farmers and business men alike about the closing of the Russell-Miller flour mill at Bismarck. Some consider this will lead to the beginning of the end of state socialism, while others fear the end will not come until the state and her citizens have suffered more heavily. It is an accepted fact, the closing of the Bismarck mill along with other mills, will result in a higher price for the flour manufactured at the Grand Forks mill.

The Altar society of the Sacred Heart Catholic church announce they will serve supper on the first Thursday of every month in the American Legion hall. The price of the supper will be twenty-five cents and a cordial invitation is extended the public to attend.

Miss Pearl Rasche and Charles O'Brien surprised their many friends by slipping quietly away to Bismarck where they took the nuptial vows. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. C. Postlethwaite at the Presbyterian manse, the attending witnesses being Miss Carrie O'Brien, a sister of the groom, and Miss Lila I. Nardley, a friend of the bride. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rasche of Regan and one of the most popular members of the younger set of that community. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward O'Brien, well known farmers of the Wilton district. Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien left on a short honeymoon trip, after which they will return to Wilton, but later on they will go to Wyoming, where Mr. O'Brien is interested in the oil industry. The newlyweds have the best wishes of a large circle of friends for a prosperous and happy wedded life.

Miss Edna Mae Headen, local girl, who is a sophomore in the Jamestown college, is a member of the girls debating team which will represent the institute in dual debates with other colleges. Miss Headen is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. E. V. Headen of Wilton.

The regular monthly program of the Wilton high school literary society was rendered last Thursday evening to a fair sized audience. The school paper "Tatler Junior" created a great deal of amusement. A number of musical numbers were rendered during the evening.

The annual poultry show for this district will be held at Underwood Tuesday and Wednesday, Feb. 19th and 20th. Several farmers from Wilton are planning on exhibiting their choice birds at this exhibition. County Agent Norling will be in charge and will have a competent judge to pass on the poultry exhibited.

The dance which was given by the American Legion in Woodman hall Friday evening was well attended. Music was furnished by local talent and the ladies of the Auxiliary served a delectable midnight lunch.

Otto Anstrom returned from Russia early last week, after being in that country for a period of two years.

Mathys, S. R., Livergood and C. W. Howe.

A. L. Barless and Jos. Guthrie visited in Washburn the fore part of last week on business.

H. O. Jensen, who has been visiting at the J. W. Olson home for several months left the fore part of the week for Carlyle, Mont., where he will visit several weeks with his daughter, Mrs. M. A. Lund and family. Mr. Jensen is the father of Mrs. Olson.

Mrs. Ed. Kutner was hostess to the Wilton Ladies Aid society which met at her home Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Jos. Nelson and Mrs. Frank Butcher assisted in the entertainment.

Mr. and Mrs. Jefferson Steiner of Bismarck, were callers in Wilton last Monday. Mr. Steiner is one of the officers of the local coal company and was here on business.

Wilton residents will be pleased to know that the colony of Wilton folks who left here last year are all doing well in their new home at Spokane, Wash. J. F. Brenton has entered the grocery business, E. C. Stoker has employment on a newspaper, and Simon Jahr is in the insurance business.

Louis Zollar has gone to Merrick, court on the South Sea, where he is acting as relief agent.

August Parent of Max, is spending the week in Wilton, looking after business matters.

Chauncey Desmond, who had been visiting in the Minot district with relatives for the past two weeks visited in the Lignite city last Wednesday afternoon on his way to the Capital City, where after spending the night with relatives he expected to continue on his way to his home at Jamestown. Mr. Desmond was driving his Buick car and declared the roads were in fine shape for motor-ing. He bought a new tire in Wilton as he had a bad puncture two miles north of town.

L. B. Olson returned to his home last Wednesday, after serving a term as juror in district court.

W. F. Keefer and Grenville Selland autoed to Steele last Thursday and spent the day attending to business matters.

Mr. and Mrs. Jens Hanson and children spent last Thursday as the guests of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ole Newland.

Ernest, Willie and Miss Caroline Schoon, Mr. and Mrs. Ole Newland, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Olson, spent Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Hanson.

Miss Hazel Nelson spent the past week as a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alden Nelson.

Arnold Christensen, Carl and Sophus Lien autoed to Steele on Saturday and consulted a dentist.

Bernice and Arthur Bjorhus returned to their parental home in Lein township on Friday after spending about a month with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Livingston of Driscoll.

Mrs. Nora Sharp, Misses Catherine and Lucy May-Chappell and Everett Chappell spent Saturday at the Albert Christensen home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Lein, had as their guests over Saturday and Sunday Mrs. C. A. Newcomer and children of Driscoll.

Mr. and Mrs. Christ Schoon and family, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Basson, spent Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Koessel.

Mrs. Jens Stenstovold was taken to a local hospital at Bismarck, on Friday suffering from blood poison, which started in a finger.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Berkum had as their company on Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Grenville Selland.

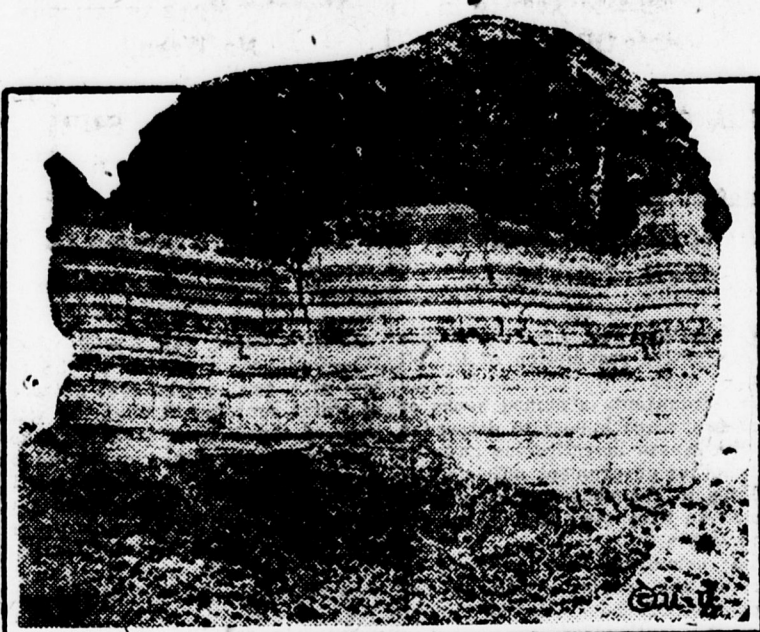

Donald Berthoff, teacher of School No. 3, spent his week-end vacation, at his parental home in McKenzie.

Mrs. Alfred Hogstad, and daughter Ruby, autoed to Bismarck on Saturday and visited with Mr. Hogstad who is a patient at a local hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Alden Nelson and their guest Miss Hazel Nelson, were entertained at Sunday dinner by Mr. and Mrs. Roy Colton.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Hanson and baby, spent Sunday until Monday at the Christ Schoon home.

Miss Kate Wiens who has been employed at the August Bruschewien

Here's the Teapot Dome Teapot

years. Mr. Anstrom was employed by "The Friends of Soviet Russia," an organization formed to better the condition of the Russian people. The work in which Otto was engaged was teaching farming methods, and an expert with tractors and all up to date farm machinery was sent along with the expedition. Otto reports much improvement in the Russian situation during the past several months, and feels sure the Russian people will be able to work out their own salvation. He deplored the spreading of so much anti-Russian propaganda, declaring this had done much harm to a people who had taken the only methods they knew of to rid themselves of intolerable conditions. Enroute to the United States, Mr. Anstrom spent some time in Norway and Sweden, where he visited among friends and relatives. He will remain here until spring, but as yet has not decided whether he will continue his work in Russia or not. Mr. Anstrom was much impressed with the vast natural resources of the Russian country, which he declares has not even been tapped. He feels sure that recognition of that country must come sooner or later. He thinks the death of Lenin may make some change in the government affairs of Russia.

J. L. Enright of Fargo came here last week to look after business affairs connected with the Washburn Lignite Coal company. Mr. Enright is sales manager for the company in his district.

Mrs. John Ecklund and two little boys have returned to their home at Ortonville, Minn., after a pleasant visit during the past month at the Dakota hotel the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Olson.

Messrs. Milo Christiansen and J. J. Schmid left Saturday for Minneapolis, where they will take in the annual auto show. Both men are connected with the Wilton Motor Sales company, and while at the show will look over the new designs in, both low and high priced motors.

The Ed. Keenan family have moved to the Kronbeek property on Burleigh avenue.

Canada evidently does not agree with North Dakota citizens. John Sandelin who recently returned from a three weeks visit to Canadian points is confined to his bed with a severe cold.

Mrs. Ludwig Michel sustained severe bruises when she fell from a chair on which she was standing. Her friends report her condition as some improved.

William Koch, who is employed at the Soo dock sustained a broken wrist when he fell from the top of the building.

J. J. Mulroy of Jamestown, chief trainmaster of the Dakota division of the Northern Pacific spent the fore part of the week in the Lignite city, where he attended to business matters of an official nature.

William Maski, who is studying at the Great Lakes Naval training school located near Chicago, arrived home last week on a short furlough. Another local boy taking training at the same school is James Barrton, Jr., son of James Barrton of Wilton.

A number of Wilton Masons went to Washburn last Monday night, where they helped initiate the new members of the lodge. Among those attending from this city were: C. G.

CHILDREN CRY FOR "CASTORIA"

A Harmless Substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups — No Narcotics!

Mother! Fletcher's Castoria has been in use for over 30 years to relieve babies and children of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind, Colic and Diarrhea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and, by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving natural sleep without opiates. The genuine bears signature of

Wm. H. Fletcher.

Enjoy Eating Without Dyspepsia

Eat What You Like, Avoid or Stop Sour Risings, Gassiness and Such Distress—Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Make Your Stomach Comfortable

In the day's battle with all sorts of business complexities, many a man invites trouble by going without food. He wants to avoid distress but merely brings it on. He will eat his regular meals and help them to digest by using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets he will work better and better, sleep better and feel good all the time, if he has been bothered with indigestion. These tablets give the stomach the alkaline effect to make it sweet, stop acid risings and gassiness, digest meats and prepare the food for nourishment. It is a valuable aid to those who work hard and need the vital elements of good food. Get a 60-cent box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at any druggist and fortify yourself in the battles of the business world.

home departed Monday by the way of Sterling and Linton for her home in South Dakota.

Miss Violet Schmidknecht spent Monday night with her school-mate, Nora Olson.

Mrs. Frank Shoffer returned on Friday from a week's visit with relatives at Steele.

The largest water wheel generator yet made will be installed at Niagara. It will weigh 700 tons.

Demand

ASPIRIN

SAY "BAYER" when you buy—Genuine

Proved safe by millions and prescribed by physicians for

Colds Headache Neuralgia Lumbago
Pain Toothache Neuritis Rheumatism

Genuine Accept only "Bayer" package which contains proven directions.

Handy "Bayer" boxes of 12 tablets
Also bottles of 24 and 100—Druggists.

Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monocetdicester of Salicylicacid

The Best Tool For a Big Job

An axe in the hands of a crazy man is a serious menace yet we do not condemn the axe for its wild or foolish application.

Advertising can be—has been—sometimes misused. Like all great forces, it must be intelligently planned and directed.

In the big job of reviving American business, advertising is the best tool that money can buy. Let's use it—boldly and well!

Published by The Bismarck Tribune, in co-operation with The American Association of Advertising Agencies

QUESTIONS FOR MARCH VOTING ARE SENT OUT

Two Constitutional Amendments, One Initiated, Four Referred Measures

VOTE FOR PRESIDENT

Also Vice-President, National Committeemen, Delegates, Electors

North Dakota voters who go to the polls in the March 18 presidential primary will not only cast their ballots for candidates for President and Vice-President of the United States, delegates to the national political conventions and presidential electors, but will also vote upon four referred measures, one initiated measure and two constitutional amendments.

Following receipt of an opinion from Attorney General George Shafer that Governor Nestos was within his legal rights in calling a special election on March 18 on the election laws passed by the last legislature and suspended by the filing of referendum petitions, Secretary of State Thomas Hall, who had questioned the Governor's authority, accepted the opinion and prepared an official notice to county auditors of matters to be voted on at the primary. The official list follows:

One candidate by each party, Republican and Democratic, for presidential electors.

Ten delegates to the Democratic National Convention and 13 delegates to the Republican National Convention.

Two amendments to the constitution proposed by the eighteenth legislative assembly, one relating to county officials, providing that in counties of less than 6,000 population the offices of county judge and clerk shall be consolidated, and one providing that state farm loan bonds shall run for a period of 30 years from date of issuance instead of 30 years from the time of enactment of constitutional authority, which was in 1919.

One initiated measure—the Federal lien bill—providing members of a farmer's family may file liens for labor.

Four referred measures—the three amendment election laws and the all of the last legislature ratifying the settlements made by county boards of commissioners for bank taxes for the years 1919-1922, inclusive.

The election measures, which probably will attract more interest than other measures, provide: separate primary for nomination of candidates for state and federal offices, providing machinery for nominating candidates and machinery for creation of party constitutional committees.

The constitutional amendment relating to real estate bonds was proposed by the legislature because it was said that the intention of the farm loan act was to provide 30-year farm loans on the amortization basis, but that since the bonds must run not more than 30 years from the time of enactment of the amendment, which was in 1919, 30-year farm loans cannot be made.

Silent Thousands Gather on Quiet Streets

(Continued from page 1)

gave a token of non-sectarianism to the ceremony that could only have emphasized its simplicity.

The three outside the small chapel grouped back under the leafless trees of the Cathedral grounds or out beyond in the nearby streets and avenues provision had been made to carry the service with amplifiers. To a host of listeners far and wide the radio waves were set to carry the solemn words and blended choruses of the choir.

"AL" SMITH CAN BANK ON THE SUPPORT OF HIS FAMILY

AL SMITH, NEW YORK'S GOVERNOR AND DEMOCRATIC PRESIDENTIAL POSSIBILITY LEFT; ABOVE, GOVERNOR'S MANSION AT ALBANY; BELOW, ARTHUR AND WALTER SMITH. AL SMITH CENTER. EMILY SMITH ABOVE AND MRS. AL SMITH

BY ALEXANDER HERMAN.

NEA Service Writer.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 6.—If the blare of brass bands, the sway of entree music, and the plaudits of thousands can move political delegates, Alfred E. Smith, governor of New York, has the advantage over all other Democratic presidential possibilities.

For the convention is to be in the back yard of his own East Side.

"Al" Smith is his favorite son, if ever there was one. He is favored by his old constituents of Oliver and Catherine streets, where he was reared; he is favorite with the old aristocrats of Albany society.

But his popularity is strongest with his own family. For "Al" Smith is not only a good husband, father and son but the best sidekick of all.

Mother's Pal.

But it is as son, the governor's mother has pressing the business of state, "Al" never fails to run over to Brooklyn to see this little white-haired old lady when he comes to New York.

Smith's history is like a story of fiction come true. It is the chronicle of a fish-boy who twice rose to be governor—and is now in the running for the presidency.

Born down on the East Side, "Al" Smith lived the youth of a regular East Side youngster. He went to school, peddled papers when the family exchequer demanded, developed his mental ability in conflict with the hard realities of a hard life.

His father, a drayman, died when "Al" was 13. This left the boy to support his mother and sister.

The best job available was the old Fulton Fish Market. He went to work at 4 o'clock each morning.

He's Ambitious.

Evenings, he went to night school. After 18 months he got a better job, a clerkship in the commissioner of jurors' office.

Thus, in 1895, "Al" Smith then, "Al Smith" has been in politics continuously.

His complete public record follows:

1895-1903—Clerk in office of New York City commissioners of jurors.

1903-1915—Member of New York Assembly.

1915-1917—Sheriff of New York county.

1917-1919—President of New York city board of aldermen.

1919-1920—Governor of New York.

1920—Governor of New York.

Smith's success may be attributed to his humanness, natural ability for sizing up persons and situations, and a talent for telling stories.

But at no time has Smith let his political activity interfere with his home life. No matter where he is, he is contacted daily by telephone to his home—Mrs. Catherine A. Smith, who hasn't let the duties of the first lady of the state interfere with her domesticity. She still does her own crocheting and knitting.

Active Family.

An their youngsters are growing up healthy, domestic "kids"—just as they would be if they were still living down on Catherine street.

Alfred Jr., who is 23, goes to law school; Arthur, 16, goes to a high school, where he is on the midwest basketball team; Walter attends an elementary school in the neighborhood.

HONOR IS PAID BY ROTARIAS TO WAR PRESIDENT

Tribute to Woodrow Wilson, war president of the United States, was paid today at the McKenzietrotary by members of the Bismarck Rotary club at their regular weekly luncheon. Judge Johnson of the Supreme Court outlined the chief feature of Wilson's administration and declared that his place in history would be fixed largely upon his war record.

"Leaders in the two dominant parties admit," he said, "that President Wilson's measures aside from war acts and possibly the League of Nations were constructive and beneficial. I only mention in passing the federal reserve system."

"His administration as war president, I believe will fix his place in history more than anything else he did. He kept this nation out of war until forbearance ceased to be a virtue." He has often been referred to as the phrase maker of the White House and some time ago in decision, but two of the greatest German leaders have admitted in works written since the war that these very phrases did much to break down the morale of the German people at home as well as on the firing line.

"Out of the war came as you know the peace treaty and the league of nations. I am not going to discuss here the merits or demerits of that international pact, but it is functioning today in the case of 53 nations and is the most comprehensive and constructive plan for world peace ever conceived."

It has achieved some measure of success and many even suggest now that if the United States had been a member of the league that Mussolini would never have defied its mandates and that when he learned that here in America his acts of aggression were not popular, he recanted.

Judge Johnson pointed out that too often opinions in matters of public policy were too often based on prejudice rather than reason. He said in his estimation much of the opposition to the league of nations idea came as the result of party allegiance and without deep thought upon the issue involved.

In closing he touched upon the idealism that characterized Woodrow Wilson's regime. He declared that criticism that Wilson carried idealism too far in dealing with the practical side of public issues was not well founded. Progress he declared came only as those of high ideals applied them in overcoming selfish individualism.

In a most interesting historical survey of the Lewis & Clark expedition, T. R. Atkinson traced that trip through the western wilds which added so much to the territory of the United States. The voyage as it touched this region of the Missouri Slope was outlined and many thrilling adventures of the expedition were related.

Attendance this week was $2.14 percent. Several members will attend in the Twin Cities.

A. J. Arnot of the February committee presided. Two birthdays, those of Mr. Atkinson and L. K. Thompson were celebrated. Judge Nuesale did the honors for Mr. Atkinson and George Dullman for L. K. Thompson. Gifts suitable to the subjects were presented.

Chairman Henry Duemmel announced that President Coolidge would broadcast a message in commemoration of Rotary anniversary, February 20 at 10 p. m. Washington time and that Radio fans were ordered to "stand by" about 9 p. m. Bismarck time to tune in on this message given at the suggestion of Rotary club No. 1 of Chicago.

Guests of honor were: Fulton Burnett of Fargo; Roy Baird Dickinson; F. J. Truener, Devils Lake; Judge Johnson, Bismarck; W. B. Snider, Montana; and H. G. Harkins, Dickinson.

COMMITTEE ACTION.

Camden, N. J., Feb. 6.—Professor E. J. Christie of Marion, Iowa, inventor of a gyroscopic airplane, which he hoped could attain a speed of 250 miles an hour, committed suicide in a hotel here today.

Read Tribune Want Ads.

Official Recognition To Tradesmen

London, Feb. 6.—The members of the British royal family are good patrons of the trades, and those who supply them with their everyday wants get official recognition in the form of warrants, a list where of 14 issued once a year. And the lucky tradesman is not slow to advertise the fact that he sells goods to the first family in the land.

The list this year carries the names, among others, of one Chronopid, three makers of tartans, one maker of kilts, an instructor in physical culture, an antiquary, two shawliners, a fan maker, two cleaners and dyers, two sewing machine makers, and 25 jewelers and silversmiths.

Horseshoe Pitchers Off For Florida

Lake Worth, Fla., Feb. 6.—Twelve of the finest "barney" golf links or courts in the country are now in readiness here for the National Midwinter Horseshoe Pitchers' tournament, to be held February 15 to 20. The local horseshoe club has declared that "it is our intention to make this the best and most interesting tournament ever held."

Celebrities are expected to take part in the tournament.

Like Worth, according to the program, is planning an elaborate reception for the horseshoe pitchers and guests. The financial part, it is said, has been arranged, and the prizes, amounting to over $10,000 and dollars, will be kept in deposit in local banks until the names of the winners have been announced.

The program state that there will be a reception, a grand ball, a banquet, a theater party, motor ride and other entertainment.

The national tournament will be under the auspices of the National Horseshoe Pitchers' Association, and the Lake Worth Horseshoe Club.

Tropical Grain For Breadstuffs

Manila, Feb. 6.—The production of flour out of a grain known as adlay, as a substitute for wheat flour in the capital, is recommended by officials of the department of agriculture. The development of the adlay industry, it is declared, would in a large measure make the Philippines independent of outside sources of flour.

Director of Agriculture Hernandez, in a letter to the director of commerce and industry, points out the possibility of adlay as a substitute for wheat flour and requests his cooperation in producing adlay on a large scale in the Philippines. Director Hernandez suggests that the government undertake the milling of adlay, which grows well here, as long as private capital hesitates to invest money in the erection of mills.

Too Late To Classify

FOR SALE—Potatoes, 40 cents per bushel. Phone 410-M. 2-6-1w

FOR SALE—Brand new $120.00 set of Alexander Hamilton Institute Student's business course. Very cheap. Music Shop, 214 Main St. 2-6-3t

QUICK RELIEF FROM CROUP COUGHS WITH GOLD'S HONEY AND TAR

ESTABLISHED 1875

INFLUENZA

As a preventive, melt and inhale night and morning.

VICKS VAPORUB

Over 50 Million Jars Used Yearly

G. O. P MEETING FOR COOLIDGE, BOOSTS NESTOS

County Convention Commends Both National and State Administrations

President Coolidge and his administration and Governor Nestos and the state administration were commended by the Bismarck county "Real Republican" mass convention held at the courthouse here yesterday afternoon, and delegates to the state convention here on February 11 were named. E. T. Burke called the meeting to order as temporary chairman, was made chairman of the meeting and A. L. Barnes was named secretary. Much of the business was done by committee.

The resolutions committee was composed of Victor L. Anderson, E. E. Curdy, H. F. O'Hare, L. C. Isaminger and H. F. O'Neil. The committee on nominations was composed of F. G. Wanner, Myron Atkinson, Arthur Van Horn, B. E. Jones and Fred Peterson.

Resolutions were adopted as follows:

"We commend President Coolidge in his attitude towards Russia at this particular time when almost every government, except our own, is exhibiting radical tendencies. We favor harmony, with time-proven institutions, necessary to secure a lasting reconstruction and upbuilding of world difficulties."

"We commend the economic and business-like administration of President Calvin Coolidge and especially his efforts to better agricultural conditions, and earnestly recommend all members of this organization to support his election."

"Second, We endorse and approve the administration of Governor Nestos and his associates. We recommend the efforts of these officials to reduce taxes upon farm lands, and to economize in the administration of the present laws. The burden of the debt left by the Nonpartisan League must be met in some manner, and Governor Nestos is meeting said burden in a capable, business-like and honorable manner."

"Third, We regret the death of Ex-President Woodrow Wilson and commend his wholehearted and capable service, and his earnest efforts to secure world peace."

"Fourth, We recommend that this convention make an endorsement of state or county officials."

"Fifth, We favor the passage of the referred election laws and urge that the same be endorsed by the voters at the polls."

The committee on nominations suggested the following for delegates to the state convention and the report was adopted: Mrs. L. S. Craswell, H. P. Goldard, A. L. Barnes, L. H. Cox, H. P. Asselstine, E. T. Burke, E. G. Wanner, J. M. Berthoff.

Middle West Lacks Appreciation of Art

Chicago, Feb. 6.—The midland must give its artists greater recognition else the heritage from the nation's public pen and brush showing that the middle-west has all the material necessary for the novel, the drama or the character painting, will be lost, declare art-folk and prominently interested friends here.

Midland landscape, its people and atmosphere have all that is required for great beauty in expression, they say, but because there is a backward response to his work, the east is missing the western artist.

Authors, painters, architects, musicians and sculptors from the middle-west, said to be unappreciated in their native fields, are pointed out by these people as reaching fame and success in the east, in an environment where there is more encouragement and recognition in their products.

"We do not believe this situation to be one of higher literary or art intelligence among eastern people but, rather, an unutilized sense in the people of our section," said an authority in art circles here. "We know that midlanders appreciate natural beauty, our open expanses are too full of it not to be absorbed."

Don't Neglect a Cold

Mothers, don't let colds get under way at the first cough or sniffle run Musterole on the throat and chest. Musterole is a pure, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. It draws out congestion, relieves soreness, does all the work of the good old-fashioned mustard plaster in a gentler way, without the blister.

Keep a jar handy for all emergencies: it may prevent pneumonia in your home. To Mothers: Musterole is now made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole. 35¢ & 65¢ in jars & tubes; hospital size, $3.

MUSTEROLE

BETTER THAN A MUSTARD PLASTER

CAPITOL — Today, - Thurs. - Fri. - Sat.

Matinees—2:30 p. m. Nites—7:00 p. m. and 9:15 p. m.

THE WORLD'S GREATEST PICTURE

REX INGRAM'S SCARAMOUCHE

A METRO PICTURE

VALICE TERRY - RAMON NAVARRO - LEWIS STONE

Matinees—Adults 50c. Children 25c. Nites—Adults 75c. Children 25c. Including Tax.

—Orchestra Music At All Evening Performances—

ATTEND THE MATINEES TO AVOID THE EVENING CROWDS

FARGO CITIZEN GIVES FULL DETAILS IN CASE

Prince, Cele's rates By Smoking a "Gasper"

London, Feb. 6.—Attired in flannel trousers, navy blue blazer, soft collar and black tie, the Prince of Wales recently took the leading part in the eighth birthday festival of "Talbot House," opened at Poppering during the war for the spiritual welfare of young soldiers. The headquarters of the society is now in the church of All Hallows, Barking, and here is the current's bench used as a communion table in Flanders, from which 20,000 soldiers partook of the sacrament during the war. The prince unveiled and the Duke of Devonshire drank coffee at one of the stalls, smoked "gaspers," and chatted with the soldiers, and there was singing in which the prince joined heartily.

The birthday party was partly informal. The prince and the Duke of Devonshire drank coffee at one of the stalls, smoked "gaspers," and chatted with the soldiers, and there was singing in which the prince joined heartily.

James A. Hobart, of 71 Sixth Ave., N. Fargo, N. D., the genial and popular night secretary at the Fargo Y. M. C. A., is now numbered among the thousands who vouch for the fact that Tanlac makes you eat better, sleep better, feel better and work better. Mr. Hobart or "Dad" as he is familiarly known to his many friends, said recently:

"Tanlac has been my faithful standby now for four or five years, and I think more of it than anything I've ever taken."

"During this time, I have used it off and on for stomach trouble and to keep up my appetite, strength and energy and it has never failed to do the work just fine."

"Yes, sir, there's no doubt about it. Tanlac makes me eat hearty, sleep right, and feel fit for my work, and I'm strong for it."

"Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 10 million bottles sold."

Take Tanlac Vegetable Pills.

Sander Johnson, Wm. Gillanders, all of Grand Forks.

CONVENTION OF NONPARTISANS IS UNDERWAY

(Continued from page 1)

to presidential candidates also was growing. Chairman Church and John Andrews, editor of "The Progressive," who have been at odds on many things, were in agreement with the suggestion that the league keep absolutely out of the national fight.

Representative Frank Vogel, an active leader, declared that the big issues of the coming state campaign would be "banks and taxes."

Probable Ticket?

Among the predictions of the league ticket was this from a well known league: Governor A. G. Sorlie, Grand Forks; Lieutenant Governor, Walter Maddock, Mountrail; Attorney General, T. H. H. Thorson, Dunn county; Secretary of State, Chris Levang; Auditor, D. C. Poindester; Treasurer, C. A. Fisher of Valley City or Senator Byrne; Commissioner of Insurance, Harold Hopson; Railroad Commissioners, Frank Milholland, W. C. McDonnell, Fay Harding.

INDIAN POLICEMAN DEAD

Fort Yates, N. D., Feb. 6.—John Fool Bear, formerly a member of the United States military garrison forces, died near here recently. He was stationed at Fort Rea, from 1873 to 1893 while Major McLaughlin was agent at the Standing Rock agency.

DR. R. S. ENGE

Chiropractor

Consultation Free

Lucas Blk. Bismarck, N. D.

ELTINGE

WEDNESDAY and THURSDAY

The Meanest Man in the World

He Wouldn't smile—no, not even if Venus stooped to kiss him. He was a rarin' mean he just couldn't smile at anything. But his old cupid (shot a dart or two and Jiminy) crickets how love will change a man.

BERT LYTELL

BLANCHE SWEET

Movie Chat

Fighting Blood

MATINEE DAILY AT 2:30

When Were YOU Born

?????????? Your clothes should advertise that you're alive—and not publish the date that you were born. A man is as young as he feels—but looks as old as he dresses. The reason why so many middle-aged men come to KLEIN'S is because our clothes feature the quality that so many graying temples need.

Try "Klein's" The Next Time

Suits and Topcoats $25 to $65

??????????

Klein TOCCERY

Pictures that never were taken

You never found a family album containing pictures of "Hours with the Washtub". There used to be plenty of such hours, but they weren't the kind people like to remember with photographs.

Today, instead of the pictures that never were taken, you will find many scenes of hours with the children. For the modern mother lets "Thrif-T-service" do all her washing and iron her flat-work, and finds the time and energy saved worth far more than the slight cost of the service.

Thrif-T-service

8c a pound

THE CAPITAL LAUNDRY COMPANY

311 FRONT ST. PHONE 684

SEND IT TO THE

SCARAMOUCHE

VALICE TERRY - RAMON NAVARRO - LEWIS STONE

Orchestra Music At All Evening Performances

ATTEND THE MATINEES TO AVOID THE EVENING CROWDS

SEND IT TO THE

SCARAMOUCHE

QUESTIONS FOR MARCH VOTING ARE SENT OUT

Two Constitutional Amendments, One Initiated, Four Referred Measures

VOTE FOR PRESIDENT

Also Vice-President, National Committeemen, Delegates, Electors

North Dakota voters who go to the polls in the March 18 presidential primary will not only cast their ballots for candidates for President and Vice-President of the United States, delegates to the national political conventions and presidential electors, but will also vote upon four referred measures, one initiated measure and two constitutional amendments.

Following receipt of an opinion from Attorney-General George Shafer that Governor Nestos was within his legal rights in calling a special election on March 18 on the election laws passed by the last legislature and suspended by the filing of referendum petitions, Secretary of State Thomas Hall, who had questioned the Governor's authority, accepted the opinion and prepared an official notice to county auditors of matters to be voted on at the primary.

The official list follows:

One candidate by each party, Republican and Democratic, for president of the United States; Vice-President, national political committeemen.

Five candidates by each party, Republican and Democratic, for presidential electors.

Ten delegates to the Democratic National Convention and 13 delegates to the Republican National Convention.

Two amendments to the constitution proposed by the eighteenth legislative assembly, one relative to county officials, providing that in counties of less than 6,000 population the offices of county judge and clerk shall be consolidated, and one provided that state farm loan bonds shall run for a period of 30 years from date of issuance instead of 30 years from the time of enactment of constitutional authority, which was in 1919.

One initiated measure—the Federal lien bill—providing members of a farmer's family may file liens for labor.

Four referred measures—the three independent election laws and the bill of the last legislature ratifying the settlements made by county boards of commissioners for bank taxes for the years 1919-1922, inclusive.

The election measures, which probably will attract more interest than other measures, provide a platform for state and federal offices, providing machinery for nominating candidates and machinery for creation of party central committees.

The constitutional amendment relating to real estate bonds was proposed by the legislature because it was said that the intention of the farm loan act was to provide 30-year farm loans on the amortization basis, but that since the bonds must not run more than 30 years from the time of enactment of the amendment, which was in 1919, 30-year farm loans cannot be made.

Silent Thousands Gather on Quiet Streets

(Continued from page 1)

gave a touch of non-sectarianism to the ceremony that could only serve to emphasize its simplicity.

To those outside the small chapel grouped back under the leafless trees of the Cathedral grounds or out beyond in the nearby streets and avenues provision had been made to carry the service with amplifiers.

To a host of listeners far and wide the radio waves were set to carry the solemn words and blended chords of the choir.

Entombment Simple

Actual entombment was reserved for the eyes of his own loved ones alone and the President and his Cabinet and the Generals and Admirals and all the diplomats had no part in that. Their tribute ended with the benediction and the family alone would see the last solemn moments in which the casket in which lies the worn body of Woodrow Wilson lifted down to its place in the vault to wait peacefully until men should decide on a fitting work of carved stone to mark his resting place as that of a servant of the nation faithful unto death.

COUNTY TO ATTACH REALTY

Beach, N. D., Feb. 6.—As a step in proceedings to recover deposits of Golden Valley county in the closed First National bank of Beach and the First National bank of Sentinel Butte, the Golden Valley commission authorized the state's attorney to begin action on a certain depositary bond made and executed by the First National bank of Beach as principal, and E. J. Curtin and B. J. McKay in the sum of $50,000, and that all real estate owned and held by the said sureties be attached. In the meantime the commission has authorized the issuance of $10,000 of certificates of indebtedness to pay current expenses of the county.

INFLUENZA

As a preventive, melt and inhale night and morning—

VICKS

VAPOR

Over 37 Million Vapoars Used Yearly

"AL" SMITH CAN BANK ON THE SUPPORT OF HIS FAMILY

AL SMITH, NEW YORK'S GOVERNOR AND DEMOCRATIC PRESIDENTIAL POSSIBILITY. LEFT: ABOVE, GOVERNOR'S MANSION AT ALBANY; BELOW, ARTHUR AND WALTER SMITH, AL SMITH'S CENTER, EMILY SMITH (ABOVE), AND MRS. AL SMITH.

BY ALEXANDER HERMAN, NEA Service Writer.

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 6.—If the blare of brass bands, the sway of catchy music, and the plaudits of thousands can move political delegates, Alfred E. Smith, governor of New York, has the advantage over all other Democratic presidential possibilities.

For the convention is to be in the back yard of his own East Side.

"Al" Smith is its favorite son, if ever there was one. He is favorite with his old constituents of Oliver and Catherine streets, where he was reared; he is favorite with the old aristocrats of Albany society.

But his popularity is strongest with his own family. For "Al" Smith is not only a good husband, father and son but the best sidekick of all.

Mother's Pal.

But it is as son, the governor's mother's days, that he comes first. No matter how pressing the business of state, "Al" never fails to run over to Brooklyn to see his little white-haired old lady when he comes to New York.

Smith's history is like a story of fiction come true. It is the chronicle of a fish-boy who twice rose to be governor—and is now in the running for the presidency.

Born down on the East Side, "Al" Smith lived the youth of a regular East Side youngster. He went to school, peddled papers when the family exchequer demanded, developed his mental agility in conflict with the hard realities of a hard life.

His father, a Brayman, died when "Al" was 13. This left the boy to support his mother and sister.

The best job available was the old Fulton Fish Market. He went to work at 4 o'clock each morning.

He's Ambitious.

Evenings, he went to night school. After 18 months he got a better job, a clerkship in the commissioner of Jurors' office.

That was in 1895. Since then, "Al" Smith has been in politics continuously.

His complete public record follows:

1895-1903—Clerk in office of New York City commissioners of Jurors.

1903-1915—Member of New York Assembly.

1915-1917—Sheriff of New York county.

1917-1919—President of New York city board of aldermen.

1919-1920—Governor of New York.

1923—Governor of New York.

Smith's success may be attributed to his humanness, natural ability for sizing up persons and situations, and a talent for telling stories.

But at no time has Smith let his political activity interfere with his home life. No matter where he is he reports daily by telephone to his boss—Mrs. Catherine A. Smith, who hasn't let the duties of the first lady of the state interfere with her domesticity. She still does her own crocheting and knitting.

Active Family.

An their youngsters are growing up healthy, democratic "kids"—just as they would be if they were still living down on Catherine street.

Alfred Jr., who is 23, goes to law school; Arthur, 16, goes to a high school, where he is on the midge basketball team; Walter attended an elementary school in the neighborhood.

Miss Emily, 22, is through with college and helps her mother at home. Catherine, the other daughter, goes to boarding school.

Ireland to Revive Tourist Trade

Dublin, Feb. 6.—For some years past the tourist trade in Ireland has been at its lowest ebb. Now that normal conditions of life have been restored it is hoped to revive its old prosperity, and the railway companies, as well as those in control of Ireland's famous beauty spots, contemplate an advertising campaign to lure the tourist back.

The holding of the Tailteann games in August is expected to attract to Dublin and Ireland about one hundred thousand visitors. There is still much discussion as to the possibility of housing them if they do come, but the postmaster general, who is in charge of the project, is very sanguine. He believes that the visitors can be comfortably accommodated in private houses, and he has the cooperation in his efforts of the Royal Dublin Society, the organizers of the annual horse show. Citizens are being invited to promote a scheme for the decoration of the city, and the Rotary Club is assisting the project.

HONOR IS PAID BY ROTARIAS TO WAR PRESIDENT

Tribute to Woodrow Wilson, war president of the United States, was paid today at the McKonzie hotel by members of the Bismarck Rotary club at their regular weekly luncheon. Judge Johnson of the Supreme Court outlined the chief feature of Wilson's administration and declared that his place in history would be fixed largely upon his war record.

Leaders in the dominant parties admit," he said, "that President Wilson's measures aside from war acts and possibly the League of Nations were constructive and beneficial. I only mention in passing the federal reserve system."

"His administration as war president, I believe will fix his place in history more than anything else he did. He kept this nation out of war until forbearance ceased to be a virtue. He has often been reproached as the phrase maker of the White House and some time so in derision, but two of the greatest German leaders have admitted in works written since the war that these very phrases did much to break down the morale of the German people at home as well as on the firing line."

"Out of the war came as you know the peace treaty and the league of nations. I am not going to discuss here the merits or demerits of that international pact, but it is function today in the case of 33 nations and is the most comprehensive and constructive plan for world peace ever conceived. It has achieved some measure of success and many even suggest now that if the United States had been a member of the league that Mussolini would never have defied its mandates and that when he learned that here in America his acts of aggression were not popular, he receded."

Judge Johnson pointed out that too often opinions in matters of public policy were too often based on prejudice rather than reason. He said in his estimation much of the opposition to the league of nations idea came as the result of party allegiance and without deep thought upon the issue involved.

In closing he touched upon the idealism that characterized Woodrow Wilson's regime. He declared that criticism that Wilson carried idealism too far in dealing with the practical side of public issues was not well founded. Progress he declared came only as those of high ideals applied them in overcoming selfish individualism.

In a most interesting historical survey of the Lewis and Clark expedition, T. R. Atkinson traced that trip through the western wilds which added so much to the history of the United States. The voyage as it touched this region of the Missouri Slope was outlined and many thrilling adventures the explorers had were related.

Attendance this week was $2.14 percent. Several members will attend in the Twin Cities.

A. J. Arnold of the February committee presided. Two birthdays, those of Mr. Atkinson and L. K. Thompson were celebrated. Judge Nussle did the honors for Mr. Atkinson and George Dullam for L. K. Thompson. Gifts suitable to the subjects were presented.

Chairman Henry Duemeland announced that President Coolidge would broadcast a message in commemoration of Rotary anniversary, February at 10 p. m., Washington time and that Radio fans were ordered to "stand by" about 9 p. m. Bismarck time to tune in on this message given at the suggestion of Rotary club No. 1 of Chicago.

Guests of honor were: Fulton Burnett of Fargo; Roy Bad Dickinson; F. J. Traynor, Devils Lake; Judge Johnson, Bismarck; W. B. Shaffer, Montana; and H. G. Harkins, Dickinson.

COMMITTS SUICIDE

Camden, N. J., Feb. 6.—Professor E. J. Christie of Marion, Iowa, inventor of a gyroscopic unicycle, which he hoped could attain a speed of 250 miles an hour, committed suicide in a hotel here today.

Read Tribune Want Ads.

Official Recognition To Tradesmen

London, Feb. 6.—The members of the British royal family are good patrons of the trades, and those who supply them with their everyday wants get official recognition in the form of warrants, a list whereof is issued once a year. And the lucky tradesman is not slow to advertise the fact that he sells goods to the first family in the land.

The list this year carries the names, among others, of one chiropodist, three makers of tartans, one maker of kilts, an instructor in physical culture, an antiquary, two shawmiers, a fan maker, two cleaners and dyers, and 25 jewelers and silversmiths.

Horseshoe Pitchers Off For Florida

Lake Worth, Fla., Feb. 6.—Twelve of the finest "horseshoe golf" links or courts in the country are now in readiness here for the National Midwinter Horseshoe Pitchers' tournament, to be held February 18 to 23. The local horseshoe club has declared that "it is our intention to make this the best and most interesting tournament ever held."

The national tournament will be under the auspices of the National Horseshoe Pitchers' Association, and the Lake Worth Horseshoe Club.

Manila, Feb. 6.—The production of flour out of a grain known as adlay, as a substitute for wheat flour in the tropics, is recommended by officials of the department of agriculture. The development of the adlay industry, it is declared, would in a large measure make the Philippines independent of outside sources of flour.

Director of Agriculture Hernandez, in a letter to the director of commerce and industry, points out the possibilities of adlay as a substitute for wheat flour and requests his cooperation in producing adlay on a large scale in the Philippines. Director Hernandez suggests that the government undertake the milling of adlay, which grows well here, as long as private capital hesitates to invest money in the erection of mills.

Too Late To Classify

FOR SALE—Potatoes, 40 cents per bushel. Phone 440-M. 2-6-1w

FOR SALE—Brand new $120.00 set of Alexander Hamilton Institute Student's business course. Very cheap. Music Shop, 214 Main St. 2-6-3t

QUICK RELIEF FROM CROUP COUGHS COLDS with FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR ESTABLISHED 1875

Don't Neglect a Cold

Mother's, don't let colds get under way; at the first cough or snuffle rub Musterole on the throat and chest.

Musterole is a pure, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. It draws out congestion, relieves soreness, does all the work of the gargle and mustard plaster in a gentler way, without the blister.

Keep a jar handy for all emergencies; it may prevent pneumonia in your home.

To Mothers: Musterole is now made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole.

35¢ and 65¢ in jars and tubes; hospital size, $3.

MUSTEROLE

BETTER THAN A MUSTARD PLASTER

CAPITOL—Today, - Thurs. - Fri. - Sat.

Matinees—2:30 p. m. Nites—7:00 p. m. and 9:15 p. m.

THE WORLD'S GREATEST PICTURE

REX INGRAM'S SCARAMOUCHE

A METRO PICTURE

LALICE TERRY - RAMON NAVARRO - LEWIS STONE

Matinees—Adults 50c. Children 25c. Nites—Adults 75c. Children 25c. Including Tax.

Orchestra Music At All Evening Performances

ATTEND THE MATINEES TO AVOID THE EVENING CROWDS

G. O. P MEETING FOR COOLIDGE, BOOSTS NESTOS

County Convention Commends Both National and State Administrations

President Coolidge and his administration and Governor Nestos and the state administration were commended by the Bismarck county "Real Republican" mass convention held at the courthouse here yesterday afternoon, and delegates to the state convention here on February 14 were named.

E. T. Burke called the meeting to order as temporary chairman, was made, and E. T. Burke was named secretary. Much of the business was done by committee.

The resolutions committee was composed of Victor L. Anderson, E. E. McCurdy, H. E. O'Hare, L. C. Isaminger and H. O'Neil. The committee on nominations was composed of E. G. Wanner, Myron Atkinson, Arthur Van Horn, B. E. Jones and Fred Peterson.

Resolutions were adopted as follows:

"We commend President Coolidge in his attitude towards Russia at this critical time when almost every government, except our own, is exhibiting radical tendencies. We consider close harmony, with time-proven institutions necessary to secure a lasting reconstruction and adjustment of world difficulties."

"We commend the economic and business-like administration of President Calvin Coolidge and especially his efforts to better agricultural conditions, and earnestly recommend all members of this organization to support his election."

"Second—We endorse and approve the administration of Governor Nestos and his associates. We commend the efforts of these officials to reduce taxes upon farm lands and to economize in the administration of the present laws. The burden of the debt left by the Nonpartisan league must be met in some manner, and Governor Nestos is meeting said burden in a capable, business-like and honorable manner."

"Third—We regret the death of Ex-President Woodrow Wilson and commend his whole-hearted and capable service, and his earnest efforts to secure world peace."

"Fourth—We recommend that this convention make no endorsement of state or county officials."

"Fifth—We favor the passage of the referred election laws and urge that the same be endorsed by the voters at the polls."

The committee on nominations suggested the following for delegates to the state convention and the report was adopted: Mrs. L. S. Crasswell, H. P. Goddard, A. L. Barnes, E. B. Cox, H. P. Asseltine, E. T. Burke, E. G. Wanner, J. M. Berthoff.

Middle West Lacks Appreciation of Art

Chicago, Feb. 6.—The midland must give its artists greater recognition else the heritage from the pioneer's pen, pencil and brush showing that the middle-west has all the material necessary for the novel, the drama or the character painting, will be lost, declare art-folk and prominently answered friends here.

Midland landscape, its people and atmosphere have all that is required for great beauty in expression, they say, but because there is a backward response to his work, the east is annexing the western artist.

Authors, painters, architects, musicians and sculptors from the middle-west, said to be unappreciated in their native fields, are pointed out by these people as reaching fame and success in the east, in an environment where there is more encouragement and recognition in their products.

"We do not believe this situation to be one of higher literary or art intelligence among eastern people but rather to an uncultivated sense in the people of our section," said an authority in art circles here. "We know that midlanders appreciate natural beauty, our open expanses are too full of it not to be absorbed."

DR. R. S. ENGE

Chiropractor

Consultation Free

Lucas Bldg. Bismarck, N. D.

ELTINGE

WEDNESDAY and THURSDAY

The Meanest Man in the World

He Wouldn't smile—

no, not even if Venus stooped to kiss him. He was so rarin' mean he just couldn't smile at anything. But if old Cupid shot a dart or two and Jimmy Crickets how love will change a man.

BERT LYTELL

BLANCHE SWEET

Movie Chat

Fighting Blood

MATINEE DAILY AT 2:30

Capitol—Today, - Thurs. - Fri. - Sat.

Matinees—2:30 p. m. Nites—7:00 p. m. and 9:15 p. m.

THE WORLD'S GREATEST PICTURE

REX INGRAM'S SCARAMOUCHE

A METRO PICTURE

LALICE TERRY - RAMON NAVARRO - LEWIS STONE

Matinees—Adults 50c. Children 25c. Nites—Adults 75c. Children 25c. Including Tax.

Orchestra Music At All Evening Performances

ATTEND THE MATINEES TO AVOID THE EVENING CROWDS

FARGO CITIZEN GIVES FULL DETAILS IN CASE

Prince Cele rates By Snaking a "Gasper"

London, Feb. 6.—Attired in flannel trousers, navy blue blazer, soft collar and black tie, the Prince of Wales recently took the leading part in the eighth birthday festival of "Talbot House," opened at Poppering during the war for the spiritual welfare of young soldiers.

The headquarters of the society is now in the church of All Hallows, Barking, and here is the carpenter's bench used as a communion table in Flanders, from which 30,000 soldiers partook of the sacrament during the war.

The birthday party was partly informal. The prince and the Duke of Devonshire drank coffee at one of the stalls, smoked "gaspers," and chatted with the soldiers, and there was singing in which the prince joined heartily.

James A. Hobart, of 71 Sixth Ave., N. Y., Feb. 6.—The genial and popular night secretary at the Fargo Y. M. C. A., is now numbered among the thousands who vouch for the fact that Tanlac makes you eat better, sleep better, feel better and work better. Mr. Hobart or "Dad" as he is familiarly known to his many friends, said recently:

"Tanlac has been my faithful standby now for four or five years, and I think more of it than anything I've ever taken."

"During this time, I have used it off and on for stomach trouble and to keep up my appetite, strength and energy and it has never failed to do the work just fine."

"Yes, sir, there's no doubt about it. Tanlac makes me eat hearty, sleep right, and feel fit for my work, and I'm strong for it."

Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 40 million bottles sold.

Take Tanlac Vegetable Pills.

Sander Johnson, Wm. Gillanders, all of Grand Forks.

Pretty Close

IRATE INDIVIDUAL—It seems to me, sir, that you are not far removed from an idiot.

THE OTHER—Only about a yard. —Selected.

When Were YOU Born?

???????????

???????????

???????????

???????????

???????????

???????????

???????????

???????????

???????????

???????????

???????????

???????????

???????????

???????????

???????????

???????????

???????????

???????????

???????????

???????????

???????????

???????????

???????????

???????????

???????????

???????????

???????????

???????????

???????????

???????????

???????????

???????????

??????????

BANKER FREED OF CHARGE

Embezzlement Accusation Is Dismissed

Mohall, N. D., Feb. 6. Dismissal of an embezzlement charge against J. Peters, former president of the Mohall State bank, was ordered by Judge A. G. Burr in district court here following a motion to this effect made by Attorney Francis Murphy of Minot, special prosecutor for the state. Peters is now serving a four year sentence in the federal prison at Leavenworth, Kan., for using the mails to defraud, a charge to which he pleaded guilty in federal court in Minot in October, 1923.

The dismissal of the charge against Peters came as a result of important testimony which he gave in civil actions brought by the bank. Bergmann is serving a two year sentence in the Leavenworth prison and Wiebe was recently released after serving a portion of a term of one year and one day, all imposed in federal court in Minot.

DECISION OF SUPREME COURT FROM WARD COUNTY

Union Insurance Agency of Minot—North Dakota, a corporation, Plaintiff

The Insurance Company of North America, a corporation, Defendant.

In order to confer jurisdiction upon the Supreme court in cases certified under chapter 2, Section 10, Laws of 1919, the question certified must be such that the determination of the cause in which it arises will depend wholly or principally upon the construction of the law applicable to such question.

Case certified from the District Court of Ward County, Honorable W. J. Kneeshaw, J.

Action by Union Insurance Agency of Minot against the Insurance Company of North America.

At the January term of the Supreme court the plaintiff's case of the defendant moved to strike a certain exhibit from the trial, motion granted. On application of the plaintiff, the question certified to the Supreme court.

Case remanded to the District Court for further disposition, as according to law.

Opinion of the Court by Nussle, J.

Philda & Aaker, Minot, attorneys for plaintiff.

Fisk, Murphy & Nash, of Minot, attorneys for defendant.

FROM FOSTER COUNTY

O. E. DeWalt, Plaintiff-Respondent, vs. Albert Heeren, Defendant-Appellant.

SYLLABUS:

1. In a suit upon a claim against a defendant who has been discharged in bankruptcy, it is held:

(a) The effect of a discharge in bankruptcy is to suspend the right of action for the debt against the debtor personally; the discharge does not annul the original debt or liability; the remedy upon the debt and the legal, but not the moral, obligation to pay the same is at an end.

(b) The discharge, being personal to the bankrupt, may be waived by him; it does not destroy the debt, but merely releases the bankrupt from liability by removing the legal obligation to pay the debt, leaving the moral obligation to pay intact; such moral obligation is a sufficient consideration to support a new promise to pay.

(c) Where it is claimed that a new promise to pay has been made, the plaintiff should declare on the original promise or debt, the new promise being a defense to a plea of discharge.

(d) It is not necessary for the plaintiff to allege the new promise, but he may, at the trial, prove such promise as a defense to the plea and proof of discharge in bankruptcy.

2. The objection that two, or more, causes of action are improperly united in the same complaint must be taken by demurrer or by answer, and if not so taken, is deemed waived.

3. When a deposition is taken in a foreign state before an officer therein who does not have a seal and the same is not authenticated as provided in Section 7902, C. L. 1913 it is not error to suppress such deposition upon objection properly and timely made.

4. The granting or refusing of a continuance after a deposition has been suppressed, rests largely in the discretion of the trial court, for reasons stated in the opinion, it is held, that it was not an abuse of discretion to deny a motion for a continuance.

5. For reasons stated in the opinion, it is held, that the testimony, tending to show that a new promise to pay the debt was made by the defendant, after the bankruptcy proceedings, is sufficient to justify the peremptory instruction to the jury and to support the verdict returned pursuant thereto, no evidence having been introduced by the defendant.

Action on a contract to recover for the use of a team of horses.

Appeal from the District Court of Foster County, North Dakota, on H. A. Coffey, J.

Opinion of the Court by Johnson, J.

AERIAL: W. E. Hoopes, Carrington, N. Dak., Plaintiff-Appellant.

WHY THEY CALL IT "TEAPOT DO ME," ALSO A VIEW OF THAT FIELD

Here's why they call the now famous Wyoming oil field "Teapot Dome." Picture at the right shows the peculiar rock-formation brought about by erosion, from which the district takes its name. Above is a panoramic view of the oil field which is now in the limelight as a result of the Senate's probe of the conditions under which this portion of the naval oil reserve was leased to private interests. The Teapot Dome field is in central Wyoming, mainly in Natrona county.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS

BALDWIN. R. H. Miller of the Arnold district was a visitor at the Richard Borne home the fore part of the week.

C. H. Berger, Julius Meyer and Fred Schneider have returned from the Capital City, where they have served on the jury during the recent term of court.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Spitzer, entered a number of friends and relatives at their home last Friday evening. Music and cards were the diversions and a bountiful midday lunch was served by the hostess. Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Olson and family, Albin Thassell and wife and Mr. and Mrs. Ott Lundin and family.

Emil Geigle brought in his tractor for overhauling Saturday afternoon. Mr. Geigle looks for an early spring this year and wants to be ready for it.

Walter Spangberg and Fred Sabot of the Regan district were business callers here the fore part of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schultz entertained a number of friends at their home last night the occasion being Mrs. Schultz's birthday. The evening was spent in social chat and several games of cards were played. A lunch was served to the guests during the evening. Among those present were Ernest Baumgart, a brother of Mrs. Schultz.

Among the students attending high school at Wilton, whose names appear on the honor roll for the past month are Misses Frede, Emma and Mathilda Spitzer, the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Spitzer of Baldwin.

Mr. McEloughlin, local rural mail carrier, has been making his daily trips by horse power the past week since his auto is out of commission.

Charles Soreh had for his last Sunday guest Mr. Eli Aaland of the Wilton district.

The Baldwin school has nearly reached normalcy. Quite a few of the children who have been confined to their home with sickness resumed their studies this week.

Richard Borne made a trip to the Wopansport vicinity last Wednesday on a business mission.

Bill Larson, who lives west of here near the river was seen in our midst Friday afternoon.

Herman Kickul and sons were busy putting up ice the past week at their home east of town.

Mike Ryan, foreman of the McGillis ranch a few miles south of town is recuperating from his recent illness at the Van Horn hotel in Bismarck. Mike has had a long siege of sickness having been suffering since the Christmas holidays.

The many friends of Emil Hogue, who left this vicinity last fall to assume a position as manager of Mr. A. P. Lenhart's ranch west of Arnold, will be interested in knowing he is doing very well. Emil in partnership with the owner raises thoroughbred Duroc Jersey hogs and has a small dairy herd of making steers.

Shortness. He also farms a large acreage and plans on devoting a good share of this to corn the coming season. Emil formerly resided on the Fritz homestead a few miles from Baldwin.

Carl Schultz has purchased the building on the Holzer farm south of town and expects to move to it on his land south of town in the near future.

Mr. James McRoy has been looking after the stock on the McGillis farm during the absence of the farmer, Mike Ryan.

H. A. Muehler of Wagon was looking after business matters in this vicinity part of the week.

Mrs. Isabel Borne has returned from a short visit with relatives in the Capital City.

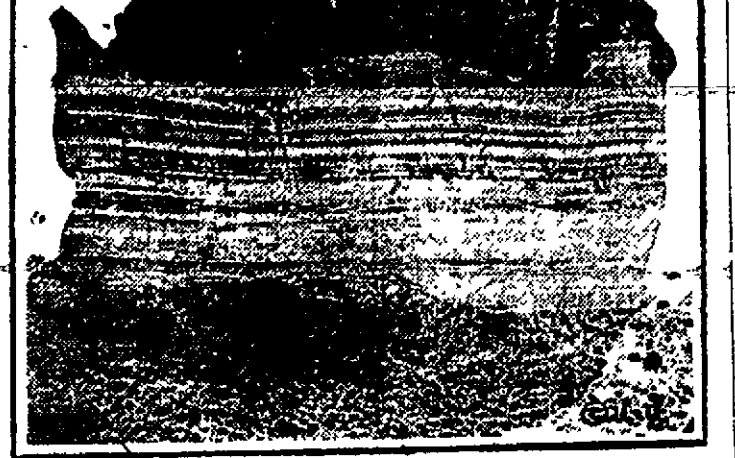

Freddie Verdebush, who attends school in Baldwin, spent the week-end with his folks east of town.

Several local residents have been complaining of bad colds the past week.

WILTON. Paul Braden, local farmer, was in town the latter part of the week. Mr. Braden won a prize on his corn exhibit at the corn show which was recently held in Bismarck.

Mrs. Edith Smith, chief operator of the local telephone exchange, has gone to Rochester, Minn., where she was called by the illness of her daughter, Mrs. Rhoda Alafson.

Markus, Welch has purchased the E. H. Korman building near the A. C. Wilder store. He plans on doing a lot of improving on his purchase and has notified the tenants to vacate by March 1st.

Here's the Teapot Dome Teapot

years. Mr. Anstrom was employed by "The Friends of Soviet Russia," an organization formed to better the condition of the Russian people. The work in which Otto was engaged was teaching farming methods, and an expert with tractors and all up to date farm machinery was sent along with the expedition. Otto reports much improvement in the Russian situation during the past several months, and feels sure the Russian people will be able to work out their own salvation. He deplored the spreading of so much anti-Russian propaganda, declaring this had done much harm to a people who had taken the only methods they knew of to rid themselves of intolerable conditions. Enroute to the United States, Mr. Anstrom spent some time in Norway and Sweden, where he visited among friends and relatives. He will remain here until spring, but as yet has not decided whether he will continue his work in Russia or not. Mr. Anstrom was much impressed with the vast natural resources of the Russian country, which he declares has not even been tapped. He feels sure that recognition of that country must come sooner or later. He thinks the death of Lenin may make some change in the government affairs of Russia.

Mathias S. R. Livergood and C. W. Howe.

A. L. Barlow and Jos. Guthrie visited in Wapshurn the fore part of last week on business.

H. O. Jensen, who has been visiting at the J. W. Olson home for several months left the fore part of the week for Tarry, Mont., where he will visit several weeks with his daughter, Mrs. M. A. Lund and family. Mr. Jensen is the father of Mrs. Olson.

Mr. Ed. Kautner was hostess to the Wilton Ladies Aid society when it met at her home Wednesday afternoon. Miss Jos. Malm and Mr. Frank Burth assisted in the entertainment.

Mr. and Mrs. Jefferson Steiner of Bismarck, were callers in Wilton last Monday. Mr. Steiner is one of the officers of the local coal company and was here on business.

Wilton residents will be pleased to know that the colony of Wilton folks who left here last year are all doing well.

J. L. Enright of Fargo came here last week to look after business affairs connected with the Washburn Lignite Coal company. Mr. Enright is sales manager for the company in his district.

Mrs. John Ecklund and two little boys have returned to their home at Orionville, Minn., after a pleasant visit during the past month at the Dakota hotel the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Olson.

Messrs. Milo Christensen and J. I. Schmidt left Saturday for Minneapolis, where they will take in the annual auto show. Both men are connected with the Wilton Motor Sales company, and while at the show will look over the new designs in both low and high priced motors.

The Ed. Keenan family have moved to the Kronbeck property on Burroughs avenue.

Canada evidently does not agree with North Dakota citizens. John Sandelin who recently returned from a three weeks' visit to Canadian points is confined to his bed with a severe cold.

Mrs. Ludwig Michel sustained severe bruising when she fell from a chair on which she was standing. Her friends report her condition as some improved.

William Koth, who is employed at the Soo dock sustained a broken wrist when he fell from the top of the building.

J. J. Mulroy of Jamestown, chief trainmaster of the Dakota division of the Northern Pacific spent the fore part of the week in the Lignite city, where he attended to business matters of an official nature.

William Markl, who is studying at the Great Lakes Naval training school located near Chicago, arrived home last week on a short furlough. Another local boy taking training at the same school is James Bartson, Jr., son of James Bartson of Wilton.

A number of Wilton Masons went to Washburn last Monday night where they helped initiate the new members of the lodge. Among those attending from this city were: C. G.

ing about a month with their grand-children, Mr. and Mrs. Livingston of Driscoll.

Mrs. Nora Sharp, Misses Catherine and Lucy May Chappell and Everett (Kung) spent Saturday at the Albert Christensen home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Lein, had as their guests over Saturday and Sunday Mrs. C. A. Newcomer and children of Driscoll.

Mr. and Mrs. Christ Schoon and family, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Hanson, spent Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Koessel.

Mrs. Jena Stenstovold was taken to a local hospital at Bismarck, on Friday suffering from blood poison, which started in a finger.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Berkvolm had as their company on Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Gronville Soland.

Donald Berthoff, teacher of School No. 3, spent his week-end vacation at his parental home in McKenzle.

Mrs. Alfred Hogstad, and daughter Ruby, autored to Bismarck on Saturday and visited with Mr. Hogstad who is a patient at a local hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Alden Nelson and their guest Miss Hazel Nelson, were entertained at Sunday dinner by Mr. and Mrs. Roy Colton.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Hanson and baby, spent Sunday until Monday at the Christ Schoon home.

Miss Kate Wiens who has been employed at the August Bruschaven

August Parent of Max, is spending the week in Wilton, looking after business matters.

Chauncey Desmond, who had been visiting in the Minot district with relatives for the past two weeks visited in the Lignite city last Wednesday afternoon on his way to the Capital City, where after spending the night with relatives he expected to continue on his way to his home at Jamestown. Mr. Desmond was driving his Buick car and declared the roads were in fine shape for motor- ing. He bought a new tire in Wilton as he had a bad puncture two miles north of town.

Mr. and Mrs. Jens Hanson and children spent last Thursday as the guests of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ole Newland.

Ernest, Willie and Miss Caroline Schoon, Mr. and Mrs. Ole Newland, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Olson, spent Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Hanson.

Miss Hazel Nelson spent the past week as a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alden Nelson.

Arnold Christensen, Carl and Sophus Lien autored to Steele on Saturday and consulted a dentist.

Bernice and Arthur Bjorhus returned to their parental home in Lein township on Friday after spending

Enjoy Eating Without Dyspepsia

Eat What You Like, Avoid or Stop Sour Rindings, Gasoline and Such Distress—Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Make Your Stomach Comfortable

In the day's battle with all sorts of business complexities, many a man invites trouble by eating without food. He wants to avoid it, but he will eat his regular meals and help them to digest by using Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. He will work better, eat better, sleep better and feel better all the time, if he has better food with indigestion. These tablets pre- pare the stomach the alkaline effect to make it sweet, stop acid-isms and gasiness, digest meats and prepare the food for nourishment. It is a valuable aid to those who work hard and need the vital elements of good food. Get a 60-cent box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets at any druggist and fortify yourself in the battle of the business world.

home departed Monday by the way of Sterling and Linton for her home in South Dakota.

Miss Violet Schmidkunz spent Monday night with her school mate, Nora Olson.

Mrs. Frank Shoffer returned on Friday from a week's visit with relatives at Steele.

The largest water wheel generator yet made will be installed at Niagara. It will weigh 700 tons.

Demand BAYER ASPIRIN SAY "BAYER" when you buy—Genuine Proved safe by millions and prescribed by physicians for Colds Headache Neuralgia Lumbago Pain Toothache Neuritis Rheumatism Accept only "Bayer" package which contains proven directions. Handy "Bayer" boxes of 12 tablets. Also bottles of 24 and 100—Druggists. Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monocristalline Salicylic Acid

The Best Tool For a Big Job An axe in the hands of a crazy man is a serious menace yet we do not condemn the axe for its wild or foolish application. Advertising can be—has been—sometimes misused. Like all great forces, it must be intelligently planned and directed. In the big job of reviving American business, advertising is the best tool that money can buy. Let's use it—boldly and well! Published by The Bismarck Tribune, in co-operation with The American Association of Advertising Agencies

THE BISMARCK TRIBUNE

Entered at the Postoffice, Bismarck, N. D., as Second Class Matter.

BISMARCK TRIBUNE CO. Publishers

Foreign Representatives
G. LOGAN PAYNE COMPANY
CHICAGO
Marquette Bldg.
DETROIT
Kresge Bldg.
PAINE, BURNS AND SMITH
NEW YORK
Fifth Ave. Bldg.

MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use or republication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein.

All rights of republication of special dispatches herein are also reserved.

MEMBER AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATION

SUBSCRIPTION RATES PAYABLE IN ADVANCE
Daily by carrier, per year $7.20
Daily by mail, per year (in Bismarck) 7.20
Daily by mail, per year (in state outside Bismarck) 5.00
Daily by mail, outside of North Dakota 6.00

THE STATE'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER
(Established 1873)

MIL0 THE GREAT
Milo, famous strong man of ancient times, developed his strength by a simple system. He got a young bull and carried it in his arms around a race course every day. Each day the bull grew larger. And each day Milo's strength increased. When the bull was full grown, Milo still could carry it in his arms. Then he killed it with one blow of his fist.

Strength developed, Milo became a famous character. Six times he was victorious over all comers, at wrestling, during the Olympic games which were held every four years.

One of Milo's pet tricks was tying a heavy cord around his head, across his forehead. Then, compressing his lips and holding his breath, he'd so fill the veins of his head with blood that the expansion of the veins burst the cord.

Another trick was to extend his arm, with elbow close to his waist, thumb turned upward, fingers straight and close together.

His strongest rival never was able to separate Milo's little finger from the rest.

Milo would have done well in China, where dentists pull teeth with their fingers, practicing first on pegs or nails driven into hardwood.

Wolves ate Milo eventually. Wandering in a forest, he found a fallen oak in which woodsmen had driven wedges, attempting to split it. Milo was so over-confident of his strength that he thrust his fingers in the crack and tried to pull the oak asunder.

The wedges slipped out. The split closed. Milo was held by his fingers, trapped. Then came a pack of wolves.

From his death we learn the dangers of over-confidence, the perils of lack of caution. From his experience with the bull we learn that our powers increase as we face obstacles unflinching.

PACIFIC COAST
Will the Pacific Coast eventually have a city larger than New York? Some economists think so.

They believe our real "foreign trade future" will be in Asia instead of Europe. This view coincides with the suggestion, occasionally put forth, that Europe—as a result of the World War—is doomed to join the lost civilization of Babylon, Egypt, etc.

Easterners in the United States have a tendency to look on the Pacific Coast primarily as a winter resort and moving picture headquarters.

They do not realize the industrial future of the district west of the Rocky Mountains, nor do they comprehend the tremendous industrial position already attained by the Pacific Coast.

Back in 1860, the Pacific Coast produced only 30 million dollars worth of manufactured goods a year. Multiply this by 100 and you fall short of the yearly value of the Pacific Coast manufacturing now.

Time was when the growth of industry on the Pacific Coast was dependent on the east. That day is past. The "Coast" has the money to finance itself.

It has overcome, also, most of its fuel and power and transportation problems. Panama Canal helps tremendously in the matter of shipment to market.

The National Bank of Commerce (New York) points out that the Pacific Coast is gaining population faster than the country at large. Also, that its chief industries are, in the order named, ship-building, lumber, oil refining, fruit and vegetable canning, flour milling, meat and dairy industry.

It now seems possible that our nation's foreign trade future will be mainly in the Orient. The Pacific Coast naturally as the COMING district.

Horace Greeley told young men to go west, in Civil War days. His advice is as logical now as it was then.

PROCESSION ENDLESS

We come and go like swarming flies. About 1,300,000 Americans die in a year, according to the government figures just announced. That's a number of funerals almost inconceivable. The procession is endless, a constant parade of hearses.

Heart disease head the list of death causes. Next come flu and pneumonia, then, in the order named, tuberculosis, nephritis and cancer. Take care of your lungs and heart, and you have good chances of living to a ripe old age.

Most of us die peacefully. Out of 1,300,000 deaths in America in a year, the government estimates that fewer than 60,000 are killed by accidents.

Thirteen thousand a year commit suicide.

Murders number at least 9000 in a year, some police experts placing the figure 3000 higher.

Accidental falls kill nearly as many as autos. Kismet.

MANY IDLE

Germany has three and a quarter million men without jobs. If these men were working full-time, at only $3 a day, it would mean at least three billion dollars a year added to the total of German wages.

When you ponder this big sum, in connection with German war reparations, you realize that there is nothing more important in international politics than any measure to keep Germany fully employed.

COMPETITIVE ATHLETICS

At Princeton University, nine-tenths of the students are taking part in some form of competitive athletics. An unusually big figure. While the thing can be overdone, it's decidedly true that brain functions better when the physical body is healthy. There is such a decided connection between the two, that one is forced to wonder whether intellect, after all, may not be a "material" or physical phenomenon.

EDITORIAL REVIEW

Comments reproduced in this column may or may not express the opinion of The Tribune. They are presented here in order that our readers may have both sides of important issues which are being discussed in the press of the day.

REPUBLICANS RETAKE POLE POSITION

In the matter of income tax revision the Republican administration "got the jump" on the political opposition some weeks ago when Secretary Mellon came out with his comprehensive plan bearing the endorsement of President Coolidge. The Mellon plan proposed a reduction of all schedules from the highest to the lowest, with a particularly deep cut on taxes on earned incomes.

Democratic leaders in Congress immediately became busy, and in the course of time they trotted forth the Garner revision scheme which proposed to reduce the "higher bracket" rates to 44 per cent in lieu of the 55 per cent mark suggested from the Treasury department, and to make a still deeper cut than the Mellon plan on the smaller incomes. This bill looked mighty good to the Democratic politicians as a bait for votes in the coming election. The sponsors hoped they had taken the wind out of the Republican sails with the Garner substitute.

There was one thing, however, which both parties appear to have overlooked, and that was a plan whereunder there would be a reduction of income taxes due and payable this calendar year. It is to be borne in mind that both the Mellon and Garner bills contemplate reductions in the taxes to be paid in 1925, but not in those of 1924.

Now come the Republican members of the Ways and Means committee of the House with a new plan which, if approved by Congress, will make a cut of 25 per cent in the taxes for 1924, the first installment of which is due on or before March 15. This plan further provides that if congressional approval is forthcoming after March 15, there may be a rebate of any surplus payments which may have been made.

Here is something of more immediate interest to income taxpayers than either the Mellon, the Garner or the insurgent Republican plan. Democratic leaders were quick to discover that the Republicans, by stealing a march on them, had again placed themselves in a strong strategic position with reference to the favor of the taxpayers.

They are saying now that they were preparing to do something of this kind on their own account, but had not gotten around to it. Be this as it may, the Republicans have beaten them to it, and they have jockeyed the Democrats out of the pole position. It is now up to the latter to devise something even more to the liking of taxpayers if they can do it. It would seem that about the only chance they have is to propose that the cut of 25 per cent agreed upon by Republican members of the House Ways and Means committee be made 30 or 35 or some still higher percentage.

It begins to look as if it might have been better for the Democrats in Congress to work hand in hand with the Republicans in devising an acceptable nonpartisan measure, or to agree to some sort of compromise between the Mellon and Garner revisions, effective on taxes to be paid next year. Instead of that the Democrats have rejected any overtures to reduce the maximum surtax below the 44 per cent mark set by them in the Garner bill. They have elected to make revision a partisan issue, believing "good politics" for the Democratic party dictated that the Republicans have picked up the gauntlet tossed in their direction and tacitly suggested to the Democrats that it is the latter's move.

Truly, the lay of the blocks on the checkerboard is becoming more and more interesting.—Minneapolis Tribune.

PEOPLE'S FORUM

Baldwin, N. D., Feb. 4, 1924.

Editor of The Bismarck Tribune:

Knowing that a petition is being circulated in the county of Burleigh and state of North Dakota, petitioning the Honorable Board of County Commissioners, to submit the question to the voters of Burleigh county whether the county court shall have increased jurisdiction!

This has caused me to investigate the laws that govern county courts with increased jurisdiction, and from what experience I had as a justice of the peace, also in laws, I will say that I will disapprove the "County court increased jurisdiction" for the reason,

First, I can not see where the taxpayers of Burleigh county would be benefited by it, really I believe it will increase taxes for the taxpayers of Burleigh county, for the reason, according to population of Burleigh county, the county judges salary would be also increased, and would be increased in addition to his present salary, not to exceed two thousand five hundred dollars. It also would cut other expenses that Burleigh county taxpayers are now relieved of.

Second, I do not approve S. 8940, of the compiled laws of North Dakota for the year 1913, as to the jurors attending court, for the reason at the discretion of the judge of such county court a juror would be compelled to serve every month, to exceed in all one calendar year. This, of course, would cause hardship upon many farmers, and in order to dispense justice farmers according to law must attend and serve as a juror in court as well as any other citizen.

The terms of the district court in Burleigh county is in June and December. Farmers are then not so busy and can get away from their farm duties.

Third, The laws which apply to "Prejudice of judge and change of judge" county courts will increase jurisdiction, and the laws that apply to "Prejudice of judge and change of judges," in district courts, is certainly some different, and the poor man certainly has not the same chance in county courts with increased jurisdiction. There are more facts that I could explain, however, the editor may not permit me to take up too much space, but all those things, some one may explain it different than I do. I certainly would be glad to be corrected, if I am wrong.

Very respectfully,

JULIUS MEYER.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

"Here's a springtime riddle for everybody to guess," said the Riddle Lady next day when she arrived in Riddle Town, having driven the whole way from her palace on the hill in her golden coach.

The Riddle Lady didn't like automobiles. "That's nice," said Nancy politely. "Spring is the nicest time of year, so it must be a nice riddle."

"I can't be sure about that," answered the Riddle Lady, "because I want it in an awful—I mean a dreadful—or I should say, a great hurry. Company came just as I was starting and I had to hurry it together in about five minutes. Listen now and I'll read it to you:

"Round as a teacup and lined with moss,
Woven of grass and bits of floss,
Padded with down from Mother Bird's wing,
Daddy helps to build it, while both of them sing.

"Hidden by boughs of a green spreading tree,
I can't see them, but they can see me,
Guarding the nursery they have vowed,
I wouldn't touch it! Why are they afraid.

"Three lovely eggs all speckled with brown,
But mostly of blue, 'twould be grand for a gown.
What can it be, this most singular thing,
Where Mother Bird lays all her eggs in the spring?

"In this round teacup old Mother Bird sits,
And time must go slowly for I don't s'pose she knits,
While Daddy goes hunting—he digs and he tugs,
And brings her a breakfast of earth-worms and bugs.

"And after a while when the birdies hatch out,
It's easy to see what the rest were about.
'Tis a cradle they builded, the finest and best,
Though to see it you'd say 'twas a dicky-bird's nest."

"Nest! shouted everyone with one voice.
'I knew it would be too easy!' declared the Riddle Lady. "How I am ever going to divide the prize, I don't know."

"What is the prize?" asked Jack Horner.

"It's something everybody should be taking in the spring," said the Riddle Lady. "I made it myself. I boiled some saffron and bonnet herbs and catnip and sulphur and put it in a great big bottle. I have it! I'll give everybody a spoonful!"

But mind you, by the time she got the cork out 'n' everything, there wasn't a soul in sight.

Wasn't that the queerest thing ever! After all their guessing, nobody wanted the prize.

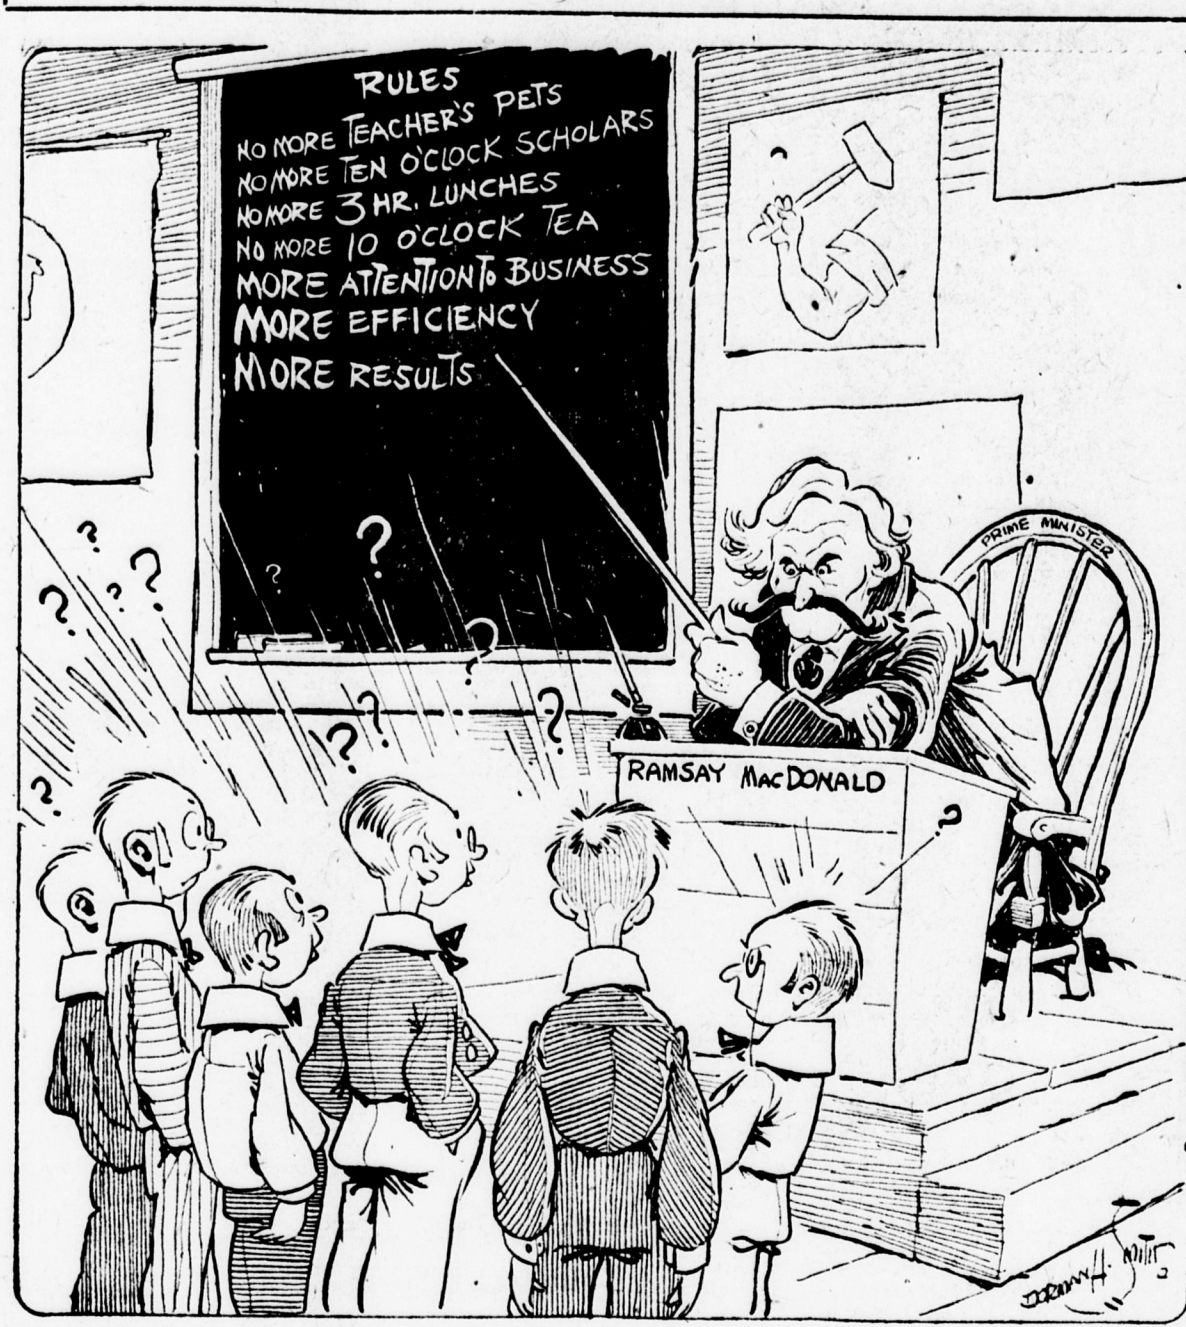

(To Be Continued.)

(Copyright, 1924, NEA Service, Inc.)

Alas, How True

The chief trouble with increased earnings is that they nearly always bring increased yearnings.—Little Rock (Ark.) Gazette.

He Aims High

Dan Dobb's Daily

EXTRA! MURDER! EXTRA!

MONKEY NEWS.
They May Are the Senators.
A gang of monkeys has been shipped to Washington for experiments. Don't worry, these are real monkeys and not office holders. Doctors will see what they can do with these monkeys.

The situation is dangerous. Suppose a politician got mixed in with these monkeys by mistake? Or suppose a monkey got in the Capitol by mistake?

SCHOOL NOTES.
"Children are becoming more un-erly," says a teacher. First thing you know eggs will be talking back to hens or making faces at roosters.

FOREIGN NEWS.
Dawes' committee is in Berlin. Now the Germans may shell out or be cussed out.

MAIL NEWS.
Akron (O.) man shot his wife and then himself, getting the right person the second shot.

FASHIONS.
Teapot Dome may make teapots all the rage for spring trade.

MARKETS.
Isn't it about time to hear from the annual coal strike?

WANTED.
Wanted, A combination device for keeping Al Fall's head cool and his feet warm. May not be needed, but you never can tell. You can't tell in Washington because it might get you in trouble. Just being in hot water does not keep a man from getting cold feet.

EDITORIAL.
Any theory to reduce taxes is all right if it works. That's the way with all theories, they are all right if they work. But many merely work the people. Shifting taxes from one shoulder to the other doesn't do much good if both shoulders are on the same man.

AVIATION NEWS.
Mail plane hit a tree in Pennsylvania, indicating the plane had an auto engine running it.

SHOE SHINE NEWS.
New Greek government has established relations with us, so we may get better shoe shines soon.

BIRTHS.
The new year is more than a month old and doing nicely.

MAY GET AWAY WITH MURDER.
Too many crooks make it easy for Senator Copeland says it is entirely easy to get away with murder. So he proposes a murder tax. This may tax your credulity, but it is true. Copeland thinks taxing murderers will make murderers stop taxing our patience.

MARRIAGES.
New York man who married three women pleads insanity. He is!

DEATHS.
War is not dead. It is merely suffering from a nervous breakdown.

STATISTICS.
Statistics prove you can't prove everything by statistics.

WEATHER.
Only a few more months until time to cuss summer.

AUTO NOTES.
Gasoline has gone up in Georgia. If it gets much higher they may start drinking it for booze.

THE TANGLE

LETTER FROM BEATRICE GRIMSHAW TO RICHARD SUMMERS

I am sending this letter to you in Chicago, dear Dick, because I could not explain by wire just why I was not going to meet you.

In the first place, Dick, you don't particularly want to see me. You want to see Paula Perier. You should know, however, that I do not care to see Paula Perier. She is nothing to me, and I know without seeing her, from the things I have read between the lines of your letter, the things which you did not intend to tell me, but which stood out plain-ly from what you really wrote. That is, that you want me to meet Miss Perier so that I may see how irresistible she is.

All this I know, dear Dick. I give you credit for being loyal, as men look upon loyalty. I give you credit for hating to hurt me, but I also know that you have met a very beautiful woman of a kind you have never known before, and she has swept you right off your feet.

I am not sure that, even had you never met her, you and I would be happy together out there in Hollywood where you will probably make your home in the future. This, dear Dick, is not because I could not adapt myself to the life of Hollywood, which is probably not so much different from the life anywhere else, if we only knew it, but because you would never allow me to know the life of Hollywood, or the life of your Bohemian friends, wherever we might live.

You have put me on a pedestal, Dick; you have made me something very impossible, very cold.

I wonder how many women who have been raised to a pedestal and despised that cold, narrow place in the walls of a woman's affections.

I know enough about my sex, Dick, to understand that we women are all more or less alike. If the men who marry us would treat us with the same frankness, the same sincerity that they do the Paula Periers and all the other women to whom they go to from us there probably would not be so many divorces.

I am bidding you goodbye, Dick. Don't try to see me. It would be foolish of you to come way up here in Minnesota just for the sake of harrowing your soul and mine with a conventional parting. And now I am going to be just human enough, dear Dick, to tell you that even if Miss Perier returns your love you will not be any happier with her than you would have been with me.

You are thoroughly imbued, my dear, with the idea that no one woman can be all things to one man. If you marry Paula Perier, after the first flush of the honeymoon is over, you will miss finding in her the calmness and quiet affection which you think only I can give you.

Of course you are wrong, Dick. Either one of us could probably give you everything you desire if you ask it of us, but you never will. From Paula you will ask the fire and always be seeking the coolness and sanity which you remember are mine. Of me you have received the content and comfort of an every-day all-round woman, but you would never think of appealing to me in any great emotional stress. I am afraid you will never be happy, Dick, under any circumstances.

BEATRICE.

(Copyright, 1924, NEA Service, Inc.)

Susceptibility of different varieties of plums to the brown rot disease can now be determined mechanically by measurements of the toughness of the skin and firmness of the flesh of the fruit.

The years best book by America's best woman writer
"BLACK OXEN"
by GERTRUDE ATHERTON

Published by arrangement with Associated First National Pictures, Inc. Watch for the screen version produced by Frank Lloyd with Corinne Griffith as Countess Zattiany.
Copyright 1923 by Gertrude Atherton

XXII (continued)

A diversion occurred for which Claverling at least was grateful. The door opened and Mr. Dinwiddle entered, limping and leaning on a cane. He looked pale and worried. Claverling resigned his seat and took one still further in the rear. But the low-pitched dialogue came to him distinctly.

"Is this prudent?" murmured Dinwiddle, as he sat himself heavily beside her. "There will be nothing else talked of in New York tomorrow. So far there have only been rumors. But here! You look like Mary Ogden risen from the dead. There's a rumor, by the way, that she is dead."

"She was alive the last time I heard from Vienna. But why imprudent? Mr. Claverling told me of your kind concern, but I assure you that I am neither a political nor a marital refugee."

"Well, Madame Zattiany was smiling, and, probably, the most serene person in the house."

"I think you had better go back to Europe. I must be frank. Anything less would be cowardly. You interest me too much. . . . But I can only suppose that your secret is of the sort that if discovered, and they will discover it!—would cause you grave embarrassment."

"You mean if I am Mary Zattiany's illegitimate daughter?"

"I don't think they would have minded that if you had brought letters to them from Mary asking them to be kind to you—and if you had made a good marriage. But to have it flung in their faces like this—they will never forgive you."

the Oglethorpe door and as he entered the ante-room he saw that the box was still filled with men. They had evidently taken root. He was possessed by a dull anger, and as it spread upward his sense of inferiority took flight. He felt routed, them all, damn them. After all he had more brains than any man in the house and his manners could be as good and as bad as his own.

Moreover, he was probably more strongly endowed in other ways than the youngest of them. The wise thing for him to do was to let her find it out the next time they were alone.

But it was some time before he saw her alone again, and meanwhile many things happened.

She took Mr. Dinwiddle home in her car for supper, Claverling following with Osborne in a taxi, and as the abundant repast was spread in the dining-room it was pater-ly that she had gone to the opera with the intention of bringing back willing guests. She knew that both Dinwiddle and Osborne subscribed to the omnibus box, and no doubt if they had failed to put in an appearance she would have dropped—with one of her infernally ready excuses—himself at his own door. She might as well have announced, without bothering to feed these damned old bones, that she did not intend to see him alone again until she had made up her royal mind.

(To Be Continued)

XXIII

grave, which claims alike the monarch and the slave.—Dryden.

Decay of wood is not due to direct chemical action or the action of the elements, but is always the result of the activity of low forms of plant life which feed upon the wood and destroy it.

A THOUGHT

Neither their silver nor their gold shall be able to deliver them in the day of the Lord's wrath.—Zeph. 1:18.

Riches cannot rescue from the

Decay of wood is not due to direct chemical action or the action of the elements, but is always the result of the activity of low forms of plant life which feed upon the wood and destroy it.

Decay of wood is not due to direct chemical action or the action of the elements, but is always the result of the activity of low forms of plant life which feed upon the wood and destroy it.

Decay of wood is not due to direct chemical action or the action of the elements, but is always the result of the activity of low forms of plant life which feed upon the wood and destroy it.

Decay of wood is not due to direct chemical action or the action of the elements, but is always the result of the activity of low forms of plant life which feed upon the wood and destroy it.

Decay of wood is not due to direct chemical action or the action of the elements, but is always the result of the activity of low forms of plant life which feed upon the wood and destroy it.

Decay of wood is not due to direct chemical action or the action of the elements, but is always the result of the activity of low forms of plant life which feed upon the wood and destroy it.

Decay of wood is not due to direct chemical action or the action of the elements, but is always the result of the activity of low forms of plant life which feed upon the wood and destroy it.

Decay of wood is not due to direct chemical action or the action of the elements, but is always the result of the activity of low forms of plant life which feed upon the wood and destroy it.

Decay of wood is not due to direct chemical action or the action of the elements, but is always the result of the activity of low forms of plant life which feed upon the wood and destroy it.

Decay of wood is not due to direct chemical action or the action of the elements, but is always the result of the activity of low forms of plant life which feed upon the wood and destroy it.

Decay of wood is not due to direct chemical action or the action of the elements, but is always the result of the activity of low forms of plant life which feed upon the wood and destroy it.

Decay of wood is not due to direct chemical action or the action of the elements, but is always the result of the activity of low forms of plant life which feed upon the wood and destroy it.

Decay of wood is not due to direct chemical action or the action of the elements, but is always the result of the activity of low forms of plant life which feed upon the wood and destroy it.

Decay of wood is not due to direct chemical action or the action of the elements, but is always the result of the activity of low forms of plant life which feed upon the wood and destroy it.

Decay of wood is not due to direct chemical action or the action of the elements, but is always the result of the activity of low forms of plant life which feed upon the wood and destroy it.

Decay of wood is not due to direct chemical action or the action of the elements, but is always the result of the activity of low forms of plant life which feed upon the wood and destroy it.

Social and Personal

GREATEST WOMEN, GUESTS

The twelve greatest American women, selected last May after more than a year's canvass and study, will be guests of honor of the National League of Women Voters, at a dinner on Monday night, April 28 in Buffalo, N. Y., during the League's fifth annual convention. Invitations have been extended by Mrs. Maud Wood Park, president, in behalf of the board of directors.

It will be the first time that these distinguished women, representing specific fields of endeavor in which women have contributed to the betterment of the world, have been assembled. More than 1200 women including the delegates from forty-three states and Buffalo members of the league are expected at the dinner.

The twelve famous women and the endeavors in which they are pre-eminent are: Jane Adams, philanthropy; Cecelia Beaux, painting; Annie Jump Cannon, astronomy; Carrie Chapman Catt, politics; Anna Botzford Comstock, natural history; Minnie Mader Fiske, stage; Louise Homer, music; Julia Lathrop, child welfare; Florence Rena Sahin, anatomy; M. Carey Thomas, education; Martha Van Rensselaer, home economics; and Edith Wharton, literature.

FORMER BISMARCK BOY WEBS

Word reached Bismarck today that Clarence Deakin, son of Mrs. C. R. Porter of this city was married in Aberdeen, S. D., Saturday evening, February 2, to Miss Katherine Pafford of that city, by Reverend William E. Hunter. Clarence was a resident of this city until a year ago, since when he is day operator for the Associated Press at the Daily News office in Aberdeen. Miss Pafford was an employee in the Daily News office, being her husband's proof reader. Clarence will be remembered as the Associated Press Operator in this city.

ENTERTAIN FOR MISS ANDERSON

Miss Ruth Wynkoop and Margaret E. Roylan were joint hostesses at a party given at the home of the latter, Tuesday evening, in honor of Miss Mary Anderson, who becomes a bride this month.

The evening was spent in doing needle work for the honor guest after which a dainty luncheon was served. The table decorations were carried out in red and white with a handsome centerpiece, which was a large basket filled with ferns, decorated with elaborate bows of red tulle.

METHODIST LADIES AID SOCIETY

The divisional meetings of the Methodist Ladies Aid Society will be held on Thursday afternoon with the following ladies: Division No. 1 will meet with Mrs. K. C. Arness, 602 Third Street. Division No. 2 will meet with Mrs. B. F. Flanagan, 202 1-2 Main Street. Division No. 3 will meet with Mrs. S. F. Halfyard, 405 Sixth Street. Division No. 4 will meet with Mrs. C. W. Moses, 215 Park Avenue.

STATE LIBRARIAN AT MINOT

Miss Lillian E. Cook, State Librarian is visiting in Minot. On Saturday evening she was the honor guest at a dinner given at the Leland hotel of that city. Those present included the honor guest's form faculty associates and places were laid for seven. Miss Cook expects to go to Alexander to open a library in that city before returning to Bismarck.

WRITES BOOK

A. A. Bruce, former North Dakota man and Judge of the Supreme Court of the State for several terms, and resident of this city, now Professor of Law at the North Western University, has written a book treating of the power of the courts over legislation. The title of the book is "The American Judge."

EASTERN STAR MEET

There was a regular meeting of the Eastern Star at the Masonic Temple last evening and a pleasant time was enjoyed by the large number present. After the work was finished there was a dainty lunch served, and the gathering lasted until nearly midnight.

PARENTS SERIOUSLY ILL

Judge L. E. Birdzell of the Supreme Court received word that both of his parents were seriously ill in Chicago and upon the receipt of the message left for that city yesterday morning.

TO ATTEND FUNERAL

Attention Lady Fortress Bismarck No. 5 A. P. M. I. O. O. F. The ladies are requested to be at the Evangelical church at 1:45 tomorrow afternoon to attend the funeral services of Mrs. Lena Delzer.

FROM DEVILS LAKE

Attorney F. J. Traynor of Devils Lake arrived in the city last evening and will spend a day or two attending to legal matters before our Supreme court.

BISMARCK BOY PLEDGED

The name of O. B. Jagd of this city appears as one of the pledges of Delta Phi, an engineering fraternity, of the North Dakota Agricultural college.

TO ATTEND FUNERAL

Eugene R. Morris of Billings, Montana, has arrived in the city to attend the funeral of his aunt, Mrs. P. B. Webb.

THURSDAY MUSICAL CLUB

The Thursday Musical Club will meet with Mrs. John A. Larson at her home on Sixth Street tomorrow afternoon.

VISITS RELATIVES

Mrs. J. D. McKusker of Bradock is visiting relatives in the city this week.

"HATS, LIKE WEARERS, HAVE SOULS"

ANNE ROWELL, WEARING A "HAT WITH A SOUL."

BY MARIAN HALE.

NEA Service Writer.

New York, Feb. 6.—Perhaps you didn't know a hat has a soul.

That may be because you never met Anne Rowell of New York, Paris, London and any old place where women have heads and keep hats on them.

She claims it was this discovery of hers that raised her within five years from shop girl in a San Francisco millinery store to buyer for more than 50 wholesale millinery houses.

She goes to Europe and follows up every trail that leads to a hat—the shops, streets, theaters, churches and even the little remote towns where the peasants make their own styles.

On her return she puts her hats on display in her hat salons and invites the wholesalers to call one at a time with their designers and their selling force. She gives them all a talk, and lets them copy ten of her hats. By the time 50 customers of her style syndicate have seen her ideas it is time to make another trip to Europe.

"It's a pleasure," she smiles, "and very easy to get these ideas—all because I see the soul of the hat. Most buyers see the price tag or the new trimming only."

"I keep my eyes open to the beauty in every form of adornment. I have no interest in flowers or quilts except as they contribute to beauty. Besides, looking for the soul of the hat and the instinctive thing which makes it what it is, I think of the American women who are to wear my hats and try to bring about a beautiful balance between them. This is the only talent I have and I am trying to make the most of it."

It is her fixed conviction that hats should be individual always, that since no two faces are ever exactly alike, neither should two hats ever be identical.

French Revolution. It tells the romance of Andre-Louis Moreau (Ramon Navarro) and Aline de Kerandou (Alice Terry). Andre-Louis has been brought up as the ward of Aline's uncle, The Marquis de la Tour d'Azyr (Lewis Stone), a haughty aristocrat and man of fashion, killed Andre-Louis' friend, Philippe, because of his revolutionary sentiments, and on the Marquis Andre-Louis has sworn eternal vengeance. To make matters worse the Marquis is courting Aline.

Does it pay to be a "hard-boiled egg" in the business world?

Bert Lytell, as a struggling young attorney, who tries to forget that he has a heart, is proving today and tomorrow at the Eltinge Theatre, in

THE ELTINGE

TO AUTO SHOW

ATTENDS BUSINESS IN FARGO

AT THE MOVIES

SCARAMOUCHE

GIRLS! LOTS OF BEAUTIFUL HAIR

35-Cent "Danderline" Does Wonders for Lifeless, Neglected Hair

HEADS GREETERS

GUEST IN MANDAN

INVITATIONS ISSUED

TO ATTEND SHOW

PATRIOTIC SOCIAL

"The Meanest Man in the World," that the soft-boiled variety may go just as far—and win ten times more happiness.

When the hero goes to a tenement determined to eject a tenant for non-payment of rent, he takes care of the tenant's baby instead.

When he sets out to collect a bill from one J. Hudson of Hudsonville he gets his teeth and determines to get the money or mercilessly foreclose.

But when he meets J. Hudson and learns that her first name is Jane, this "hard-boiled egg" softens again.

And so it goes in one of the most delightfully entertaining screen productions that has been released by First National in months.

Blanche Sweet as Jane Hudson is giving the screen one of the most sympathetic characters of her career.

CITY NEWS

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gable are the parents of a son, born to lay. Mr. and Mrs. Emil Heldt are the parents of a baby boy, born Sunday.

Store Will Close

Webb Brothers Store will be closed Thursday morning until noon in respect for the memory of Mrs. P. B. Webb for whom funeral rites will be held during the morning at St. Mary's Pro-Cathedral.

Bismarck Hospital

Admitted to the Bismarck hospital for treatment: George P. Cannon Ball; Mrs. Dan Galt; New Leipzig; Mrs. W. C. Behnd; Glen Ulin; Luile Falkenstein; Wilton; Margie Schaefer; Hazen; Ebel Bickel; Steele; Eugene Bickel; Steele; Mrs. Dan Fendrich; Hazen; Mrs. John Hoffman; Fern; Wilma Van Vleet; Driscoll; Discharged: Leona Roth; Helman; Mrs. Christ Ritzer; Ashley; Hilda Reich; Burnstad; Mrs. Frank Huff; Jamestown; Margaret Albers; Center; Porter Nelson; Baldwin.

Wilton Defeats St. Mary's

The Wilton Independent Basketball team defeated the St. Mary's High School team by a score of 51 to 6, at the St. Mary's gym, last night. The Wilton team was made up of former high school players of that city including Coach Haff of the high school. Many of the baskets were made by Coach Haff. The first half ended 25 to 0 in favor of Wilton. The game was one sided throughout. The Steele High School Basketball team was to have played St. Mary's last evening.

Lemon Juice

Whitens Skin

The only harmless way to bleach the skin white is to use the juice of two lemons with three ounces of Orchard White, which any druggist will supply for a few cents. Shake well in a bottle, and you have a whole quarter-pint of the most wonderful skin whitener, softener and beautifier.

Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon bleach into the face, neck, arms and hands. It can not irritate. Famous stage beauties use it to bring that clear, youthful skin and rosy-white complexion; also to soothe red, rough or chapped hands and face. You must mix this remarkable bleach yourself. It can not be bought ready to use because it acts best immediately after it is prepared.

DOCTOR M. E. BOLTON

Osteopath Specialist in Chronic Diseases

Telephone 240 119 1/2—4th St. Bismarck, N. D.

DOCTOR M. E. BOLTON

Osteopath Specialist in Chronic Diseases

Telephone 240 119 1/2—4th St. Bismarck, N. D.

DOCTOR M. E. BOLTON

Osteopath Specialist in Chronic Diseases

Telephone 240 119 1/2—4th St. Bismarck, N. D.

DOCTOR M. E. BOLTON

Osteopath Specialist in Chronic Diseases

Telephone 240 119 1/2—4th St. Bismarck, N. D.

DOCTOR M. E. BOLTON

Osteopath Specialist in Chronic Diseases

Telephone 240 119 1/2—4th St. Bismarck, N. D.

DOCTOR M. E. BOLTON

Osteopath Specialist in Chronic Diseases

Telephone 240 119 1/2—4th St. Bismarck, N. D.

DOCTOR M. E. BOLTON

Osteopath Specialist in Chronic Diseases

Telephone 240 119 1/2—4th St. Bismarck, N. D.

Mrs. Zoe La Blanc Aged Resident Passes Away

After an illness of three weeks Mrs. Zoe La Blanc died of pneumonia at her home, 115 First street, at the age of 88 years. Mrs. La Blanc was better known as Mrs. White, as many people fondly insisted on calling her.

Zoe Duffina was born at Thore River, Canada, September 2, 1834, and at the age of 19 she was married to Nels LaBlanc. In 1870 they moved to Bismarck, Minn., and from there to Bismarck on May 6, 1881, since which time she has resided in this city.

Mrs. LaBlanc was the mother of thirteen children, six of whom survive. She had twenty-four grand children, twenty great grand children, and is survived by one sister and two brothers, Ramey Duffina of Michigan, and Derrick Duffina of Far hault, and Mrs. Lena Balters of St. Paul.

Her children are George, Nels, Oliver and Merrel LaBlanc and two daughters, Mrs. George Belanger and Mrs. John Schiller of Tacoma, Wash.

In addition to rearing her own family, she took the care of her youngest son's three children, at the time of his death, and raised them. These are Lucile and Derrick White and Mrs. George Penman of Fort Rice.

Mrs. LaBlanc is a member of St. Mary's Catholic church. Funeral arrangements have not been completed pending word from her son, Oliver of Canada.

M. H. A. Modern Brotherhood of America will give another one of their social dancing parties, Thursday evening, Feb. 7, 1924, at the A. O. U. W. hall. All those holding previous invitations are cordially invited to attend. Members are requested to attend meeting from 8:00 p. m. to 9:00 p. m. Dancing after 9 p. m.

ARCH PRESERVER SHOE

TRADE MARK REG. U.S. PAT. OFFICE

"KEEPS THE FOOT WELL"

Richmond's Bootery

Seven in Ten People-- HAVE EYE STRAIN

There is only one method of correcting it. That is with glasses accurately prescribed and adjusted. Glasses also correct that form of eye strain caused by too steady use of the eyes for close work.

—HAVE YOUR EYES EXAMINED—

Bonham Brothers

Jewelers and Optometrists.

Nothing tastes so good as this new syrup with delicious hot cakes

Penick Syrup

SO sweet, so delicate they fairly melt in your mouth! Here is a delicious new flavored syrup for the hot cakes you like so much. Perfectly blended from corn and sugar cane products, Penick Syrup has a richness and a mellowness that is all its own. In three delicious flavors at your grocer's—Golden, Crystal White and Maple-Like. Penick & Ford, Ltd., Cedar Rapids, Iowa, New Orleans, La.

Penick Syrup

MADE BY THE MAKERS OF BRER RABBIT MOLASSES

Big Banquet and Program. Methodist Church, Feb. 12th. 6:15 p. m. Under auspices Men's Club. Price 75 Cents.

THE BISMARCK TRIBUNE

Entered at the Postoffice, Bismarck, N. D., as Second Class Matter.

BISMARCK TRIBUNE CO.

Publishers

Foreign Representatives
G. LOGAN PAYNE COMPANY
CHICAGO
Marquette Bldg.
DETROIT
Kresge Bldg.
NEW YORK
PAYNE, BURNS AND SMITH
Fifth Ave. Bldg.

MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use or republication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein.

All rights of republication of special dispatches herein are also reserved.

MEMBER AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATION

SUBSCRIPTION RATES PAYABLE IN ADVANCE

Daily by carrier, per year $7.20
Daily by mail, per year (in Bismarck) 7.20
Daily by mail, per year (in state outside Bismarck) 5.00
Daily by mail, outside of North Dakota 6.00

THE STATE'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER

(Established 1873)

MILO THE GREAT

Milo, famous strong man of ancient times, developed his strength by a simple system. He got a young bull and carried it in his arms around a race course every day.

Each day the bull grew larger. And each day Milo's strength increased. When the bull was full grown, Milo still could carry it in his arms. Then he killed it with one blow of his fist.

Strength developed, Milo became a famous character.

Six times he was victorious over all comers, at wrestling, during the Olympic games which were held every four years.

One of Milo's pet tricks was tying a heavy cord around his head, across his forehead. Then, compressing his lips and holding his breath, he'd so fill the veins of his head with blood that the expansion of the veins burst the cord.

Another trick was to extend his arm, with elbow close to his waist, thumb turned upward, fingers straight and close together.

His strongest rival never was able to separate Milo's little finger from the rest.

Milo would have done well in China, where dentists pull teeth with their fingers, practicing first on pegs or nails driven into hardwood.

Wolves ate Milo eventually. Wandering in a forest, he found a fallen oak in which woodsmen had driven wedges, attempting to split it. Milo was so over-confident of his strength that he thrust his fingers in the crack and tried to pull the oak asunder.

The wedges slipped out. The split closed. Milo was held by his fingers, trapped. Then came a pack of wolves.

From his death we learn the dangers of over-confidence, the perils of lack of caution. From his experience with the bull we learn that our powers increase as we face obstacles unflinchingly.

PACIFIC COAST

Will the Pacific Coast eventually have a city larger than New York? Some economists think so.

They believe our real "foreign trade future" will be in Asia instead of Europe. This view coincides with the suggestion, occasionally put forth, that Europe—as a result of the World War—is doomed to join the lost civilization of Babylon, Egypt, etc.

Easterners in the United States have a tendency to look on the Pacific Coast primarily as a winter resort and moving picture headquarters.

They do not realize the industrial future of the district west of the Rocky Mountains, nor do they comprehend the tremendous industrial position already attained by the Pacific Coast.

Back in 1860, the Pacific Coast produced only 30 million dollars worth of manufactured goods a year. Multiply this by 100 and you fall short of the yearly value of the Pacific Coast manufacturing now.

Time was when the growth of industry on the Pacific Coast was dependent on the east. That day's past. The "Coast" has the money to finance itself.

It has overcome, also, most of its fuel and power and transportation problems. Panama Canal helps tremendously in the matter of shipment to market.

The National Bank of Commerce (New York) points out that the Pacific Coast is gaining population faster than the country at large. Also, that its chief industries are, in the order named, ship-building, lumber, oil refining, fruit and vegetable canning, flour milling, meat and dairy industry.

It now seems possible that our nation's foreign trade future will be mainly in the Orient.—The Pacific Coast naturally as the COMING district.

Horse Greeley told young men to go west, in Civil War days. His advice is as logical now as it was then.

PROCESSION ENDLESS

We come and go like swarming flies. About 1,300,000 Americans die in a year, according to the government figures just announced. That's a number of funerals almost inconceivable. The procession is endless, a constant parade of hearse.

Heart disease head the list of death causes. Next come flu and pneumonia, then, in the order named, tuberculosis, nephritis and cancer. Take care of your lungs and heart, and you have good chances of living to a ripe old age.

Most of us die peacefully. Out of 1,300,000 deaths in America in a year, the government estimates that fewer than 60,000 are killed by accidents.

Thirteen thousand a year commit suicide.

Murders number at least 9,000 in a year, some police experts placing the figure 3,000 higher.

Accidental falls kill nearly as many as autos. Kismet.

MANY IDLE

Germany has three and a quarter million men without jobs. If these men were working full-time, at only $3 a day, it would mean at least three billion dollars a year added to the total of German wages.

When you ponder this big sum, in connection with German war reparations, you realize that there is nothing more important in international politics than any measure to keep Germany fully employed.

COMPETITIVE ATHLETICS

At Princeton University, nine-tenths of the students are taking part in some form of competitive athletics. An unusually big figure. While the thing can be overdone, it's decidedly true that brain functions better when the physical body is healthy. There is such a decided connection between the two, that one is forced to wonder whether intellect, after all, may not be a "material" or physical phenomenon.

EDITORIAL REVIEW

Comments reproduced in this column may or may not express the opinion of the Tribune. They are printed here in order that our readers may have both sides of important issues which are being discussed in the press of the day.

REPUBLICANS RETAKE POLE POSITION

In the matter of income tax revision the Republican administration "got the jump" on the political opposition some weeks ago when Secretary Mellon came out with his comprehensive plan bearing the endorsement of President Coolidge. The Mellon plan proposed a reduction of all schedules from the highest to the lowest, with a particularly deep cut on taxes on earned incomes.

Democratic leaders in Congress immediately became busy, and in the course of time they trotted forth the Garner revision scheme which proposed to reduce the "higher bracket" rates to 44 percent in lieu of the 25 percent mark suggested from the Treasury department, and to make a still deeper cut than the Mellon plan on the smaller incomes. This bill looked mighty good to the Democratic politicians as a bait for votes in the coming election. The sponsors believed they had taken the wind out of the Republican sails with the Garner substitute.

There was one thing, however, which the Democrats appear to have overlooked, and that was a plan which would result in a reduction of income taxes due and payable this calendar year. It is to be borne in mind that both the Mellon and Garner bills contemplate reductions in the taxes to be paid in 1925, but not in those of 1924.

Now come the Republican members of the Ways and Means committee of the House with a new plan which, if approved by Congress, will make a cut of 25 percent in the taxes for 1924, the first installment of which is due on or before March 15. This plan further provides that if congressional approval is forthcoming after March 15, there may be a rebate of any surplus payments which may have been made.

Here is something of more immediate interest to income taxpayers than either the Mellon, the Garner or the Insurgent Republican plan. Democratic leaders were quick to discover that the Republicans by stealing a march on them, had again placed themselves in a strong strategic position with reference to the favor of the taxpayers. They are saying now that they were preparing to do something of this kind on their own account, but had not gotten around to it. Be this as it may, the Republicans have beaten them to it, and they have jockeyed the Democrats out of the pole position.

It is now up to the latter to devise something even more to the liking of taxpayers if they can do it. It would seem that about the only chance they have is to propose that the cut of 25 percent agreed on by Republican members of the House Ways and Means committee be made 30 or 35 or some still higher percentage.

It begins to look as if it might have been better for the Democrats in Congress to work hand in hand with the Republicans in devising an acceptable nonpartisan measure, or to agree to some sort of compromise between the Mellon and Garner revisions, effective on taxes to be paid next year. Instead of that the Democrats have rejected any overtures to reduce the maximum surtax below the 44 percent mark set by them in the Garner bill. This has seemed to make revision a partisan issue, believing "good politics" for the Democratic party dictated that course. It appears now that the Republicans have picked up the laurels tossed in their direction and tactfully suggested to the Democrats that it is the latter's move.

Truly, the last of the blocks on the checkbook is becoming more and more interesting.—Minneapolis Tribune.

"That's nice," said Nancy politely. "Spring is the nicest time of year, so it must be a nice riddle."

"I can't be sure about that," answered the Riddle Lady, "because I wrote in an awful—mean, a dreadful—or I should say, a great hurry. Company came just as I was starting it and stayed and stayed and stayed and I had to hurry it together in about five minutes. Listen now and I'll read it to you:

"Round as a teacup and lined with woven of grass and bits of floss. Padded with down from Mother Bird's wing.

Daddy birds to build it, while both of them sing.

"Hidden by boughs of a green spreading tree, I can't see them, but they can see me.

Guarding the nursery they have made, I wouldn't touch it! Why are they afraid.

"Three lovely eggs all speckled with brown, But mostly of blue, 'twould be grand for a gown.

What can it be, this most singular thing, Where Mother Bird lays all her eggs in the spring?

"In this round teacup old Mother Bird sits, And time must go slowly for I don't 'speak the knits.

While Daddy goes hunting—he digs and he tugs, And brings her a breakfast of earthworms and bugs.

"And after a while when the birdies hatch out, It's a treat to see what the nest were made of.

'Tis a cradle they builded, the finest and best, Though to see it you'd say 'twas a dicky-bird's—"

"Next! shouted everyone with one voice, 'I knew it would be too easy!' declared the Riddle Lady. "How I am ever going to divide the prize, I don't know."

"What is the prize?" asked Jack Horner.

"It's something everybody should take in the spring," said the Riddle Lady. "I made it myself. I boiled some sasafra and bonnet herbs and catnip and sulphur and molasses all together and put it in a great big bottle. I have it! I'll give everybody a spoonful!"

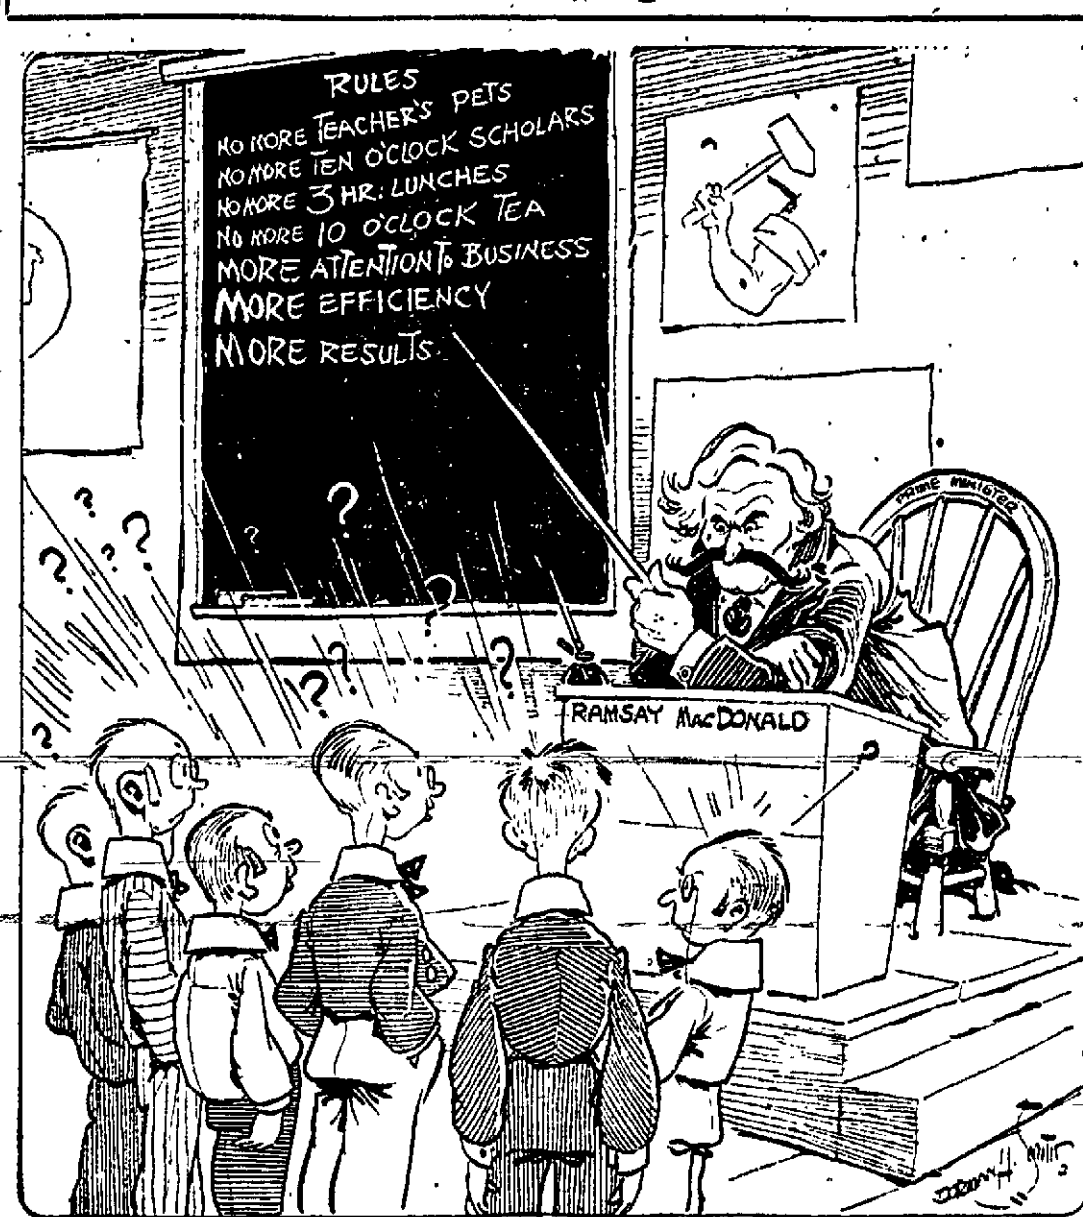

But mind you, by the time she got the cork out of the bottle, she wasn't a soul is left.

Want to take the queerest thing ever? After all their guessing, nobody wanted the prize.

(To Be Continued.) (Copyright, 1924, NEA Service, Inc.)

Alas, How True The chief trouble with increased earnings is that they nearly always bring increased yearnings.—Little Rock (Ark.) Gazette.

He Aims High

Dan Dobb's Daily

EXTRA! MURDER! EXTRA!

MONKEY NEWS.
They May Ape the Senators.
A gang of monkeys has been shipped to Washington for experiments. Don't worry, these are real monkeys and not office holders. Doctors will see what they can do with these monkeys.

The situation is dangerous. Suppose a politician got mixed in with these monkeys by mistake? Or suppose a monkey got in the Capitol by mistake?

SCHOOL NOTES.
"Children are becoming more un-ly," says a teacher. First thing you know eggs will be talking back to hens or making faces at roosters.

FOREIGN NEWS.
Dinner committee is in Berlin. Now the Germans may shell out or be shelled out.

JAIL NEWS.
Akron (O.) man shot his wife and then himself, getting the right person the second shot.

FASHIONS.
Teapot Dome may make teapots all the rage for spring trade.

MARKETS.
Isn't it about time to hear from the annual coal strike?

WANTED.
Wanted. A combination device for keeping Al Fala's head cool and his feet warm. May not be needed but you never can tell. You can't tell in Washington, for instance, it might get you in trouble. Just being in hot water is not keeping a man from getting cold feet.

EDITORIAL.
Any thought to reduce taxes is all right if it works. That's the way with all theories, they are all right if they work. But many merely work the people. Shifting taxes from one shoulder to the other doesn't do much good if both shoulders are on the same man.

AVIATION NEWS.
Mail plane hit a tree in Pennsylvania, indicating the plane had an auto engine running it.

SHOE SHINE NEWS.
New Green government has established relations with us, so we may get better shoe shines soon.

BIRTHS.
The new year is more than a month old and doing nicely. MAY GET AWAY WITH MURDER. Two many crooks make a story. Senator Copeland says it is entirely easy to get away with murder. So he proposes a murder tax. This may tax your credulity, but it is true. Copeland thinks taxing murderers will make murderers stop taxing our patience.

This plan is $100 tax on every gun sold and 50-cent tax on every bullet. Then only bootleggers and landlords could buy guns. Bootleggers don't need guns to kill you. Landlords don't need them either. They worry you to death.

MARRIAGES.
New York man who married three women pleads insanity. He is!

DEATHS.
War is not dead. It is merely suffering from a nervous breakdown.

STATISTICS.
Stat's prove you can't prove anything by statistics.

WEATHER.
Only a few more months until time to cuss summer.

AUTO NOTES.
Gasoline has gone up in Georgia. If it gets much higher they may start drinking it for booze.

The Tangle

LETTER FROM BEATRICE GRIMSHAW TO RICHARD SUMMERS

I am writing this letter to you in Chicago, dear Dick, because I could not explain by wire just why I was not going to meet you.

In the first place, Dick, you don't particularly want to see me. You want to see Paula Perier. You should know, however, that I do not care to see Paula Perier. She is nothing to me, and I know without seeing her, from the things I have read between the lines of your letters in Minnesota just for the sake of harrowing your soul and mine with a conventional parting. And now I am going to be just human enough, dear Dick, to tell you that even if Miss Perier returns your love you will not be any happier with her than you would have been with me.

You are thoroughly imbued, my dear, with the idea that no one woman can be all things to one man. If you marry Paula Perier, after the first flush of the honeymoon is over, you will miss finding in her the calmness and quiet affection, which you think only I can give you.

Of course you are wrong, Dick. Either one of us could probably give you everything you desire if you ask it of us, but you never will. From Paula you will ask the fire and always be seeking the coolness and sanity which you remember are mine. Of me you have received the content and comfort of an every-day life of Hollywood, or the life of your Bohemian friends, wherever you might live.

You have put me on a pedestal, Dick; you have made me something very impossible, very cold.

I wonder how many women who have been raised to a pedestal in their husband's minds have hated and despised that cold, narrow place in the walls of a man's affections.

I know enough about my own. I don't understand that we women are all more or less alike. If the men who marry us would treat us with the same frankness, the same sincerity that they do the Paula Periers and all the other women to whom they go to from us there probably would not be so many divorces.

I am bidding you goodbye, Dick. Don't try to see me. It would be foolish of you to come way up here in Minnesota just for the sake of harrowing your soul and mine with a conventional parting. And now I am going to be just human enough, dear Dick, to tell you that even if Miss Perier returns your love you will not be any happier with her than you would have been with me.

You are thoroughly imbued, my dear, with the idea that no one woman can be all things to one man. If you marry Paula Perier, after the first flush of the honeymoon is over, you will miss finding in her the calmness and quiet affection, which you think only I can give you.

Of course you are wrong, Dick. Either one of us could probably give you everything you desire if you ask it of us, but you never will. From Paula you will ask the fire and always be seeking the coolness and sanity which you remember are mine. Of me you have received the content and comfort of an every-day life of Hollywood, or the life of your Bohemian friends, wherever you might live.

You have put me on a pedestal, Dick; you have made me something very impossible, very cold.

I wonder how many women who have been raised to a pedestal in their husband's minds have hated and despised that cold, narrow place in the walls of a man's affections.

The years best book by America's best woman writer
"BLACK OXEN"
by GERTRUDE ATHERTON

Published by arrangement with Associated First National Pictures, Inc. Watch for the screen version produced by Frank Lloyd with Corinne Griffith as Countess Zattiany.
Copyright 1923 by Gertrude Atherton

XXII (continued)
A diversion occurred for which Clavering at least was grateful. The door opened and Mr. Dinwiddle entered, limping and leaning on a cane. He looked pale and worried. Clavering resigned his seat and took one still further in the rear. But the low-pitched dialogue came to him distinctly.

"Is this prudent?" murmured Dinwiddle, as he sat himself heavily beside her. "There will be nothing else talked of in New York tomorrow. So far there have only been rumors. But here! You look like Mary Ogden risen from the dead. There's a rumor, by the way, that she is dead."

"She was alive the last time I heard from Vienna. But why imprudent? Mr. Clavering told me of your kind concern, but I assure you that I am neither a politician nor a marital refugee."

"But you have a secret you wish to keep. Believe me, you can do so no longer. The Sophisticates are generous and casual. They take you on your face value and their curiosity is merely human and good-natured. But this! In Jane Ogden's box! It is in the nature of an invasion. You hardly could have done more if you had forced yourself into a drawing-room uninvited. You must either come out tomorrow and tell them who you are, establish yourself or—

"Well," Madame Zattiany was smiling, and, probably, the most serene person in the house. "I—think you had better go back to Europe. I must be frank. Anything less would be cowardly. You interest me too much. But I can only suppose that your secret is of the sort that if discovered—and they will discover it!—would cause you grave embarrassment."

"You mean if I am Mary Zattiany's illegitimate daughter?"

"I don't think they would have minded that if you had brought letters to them from Mary asking them to be kind to you—and if you had made a good marriage. But to have it flung in their faces like this—they will never forgive you."

"You mean if I am Mary Zattiany's illegitimate daughter?"

"I don't think they would have minded that if you had brought letters to them from Mary asking them to be kind to you—and if you had made a good marriage. But to have it flung in their faces like this—they will never forgive you."

"You mean if I am Mary Zattiany's illegitimate daughter?"

"I don't think they would have minded that if you had brought letters to them from Mary asking them to be kind to you—and if you had made a good marriage. But to have it flung in their faces like this—they will never forgive you."

"You mean if I am Mary Zattiany's illegitimate daughter?"

"I don't think they would have minded that if you had brought letters to them from Mary asking them to be kind to you—and if you had made a good marriage. But to have it flung in their faces like this—they will never forgive you."

"You mean if I am Mary Zattiany's illegitimate daughter?"

"I don't think they would have minded that if you had brought letters to them from Mary asking them to be kind to you—and if you had made a good marriage. But to have it flung in their faces like this—they will never forgive you."

"You mean if I am Mary Zattiany's illegitimate daughter?"

"I don't think they would have minded that if you had brought letters to them from Mary asking them to be kind to you—and if you had made a good marriage. But to have it flung in their faces like this—they will never forgive you."

"You mean if I am Mary Zattiany's illegitimate daughter?"

"I don't think they would have minded that if you had brought letters to them from Mary asking them to be kind to you—and if you had made a good marriage. But to have it flung in their faces like this—they will never forgive you."

"You mean if I am Mary Zattiany's illegitimate daughter?"

"I don't think they would have minded that if you had brought letters to them from Mary asking them to be kind to you—and if you had made a good marriage. But to have it flung in their faces like this—they will never forgive you."

"You mean if I am Mary Zattiany's illegitimate daughter?"

"I don't think they would have minded that if you had brought letters to them from Mary asking them to be kind to you—and if you had made a good marriage. But to have it flung in their faces like this—they will never forgive you."

"You mean if I am Mary Zattiany's illegitimate daughter?"

"I don't think they would have minded that if you had brought letters to them from Mary asking them to be kind to you—and if you had made a good marriage. But to have it flung in their faces like this—they will never forgive you."

"You mean if I am Mary Zattiany's illegitimate daughter?"

"I don't think they would have minded that if you had brought letters to them from Mary asking them to be kind to you—and if you had made a good marriage. But to have it flung in their faces like this—they will never forgive you."

"You mean if I am Mary Zattiany's illegitimate daughter?"

"I don't think they would have minded that if you had brought letters to them from Mary asking them to be kind to you—and if you had made a good marriage. But to have it flung in their faces like this—they will never forgive you."

"You mean if I am Mary Zattiany's illegitimate daughter?"

"I don't think they would have minded that if you had brought letters to them from Mary asking them to be kind to you—and if you had made a good marriage. But to have it flung in their faces like this—they will never forgive you."

"You mean if I am Mary Zattiany's illegitimate daughter?"

"I don't think they would have minded that if you had brought letters to them from Mary asking them to be kind to you—and if you had made a good marriage. But to have it flung in their faces like this—they will never forgive you."

"You mean if I am Mary Zattiany's illegitimate daughter?"

"I don't think they would have minded that if you had brought letters to them from Mary asking them to be kind to you—and if you had made a good marriage. But to have it flung in their faces like this—they will never forgive you."

"You mean if I am Mary Zattiany's illegitimate daughter?"

"I don't think they would have minded that if you had brought letters to them from Mary asking them to be kind to you—and if you had made a good marriage. But to have it flung in their faces like this—they will never forgive you."

A THOUGHT

Neither their silver nor their gold shall be able to deliver them in the day of the Lord's wrath.—Zeph. 1:18.

Riches cannot rescue from the grave, which claims alike the monarch and the slave.—Dryden.

Decay of wood is not due to direct chemical action or the action of the elements, but is always the result of the activity of low forms of plant life which feed upon the wood and destroy it.

Sports

LOCAL BOWLERS BEAT MANDAN

The Bismarck Giants bowling team defeated the Mandan city team at Mandan last night in a close contest. The scores:

McGillie	171	204	196	571
Peterson	190	171	191	552
Robinson	222	201	152	575
Wright	204	150	152	506
Simptany	223	180	173	576
Total				2780

BISMARCK GIANTS
Christensen 183 197 180 560
M. Schneider 178 181 165 524
G. Schubert 170 199 201 570
L. Schneider 190 171 191 552
J. Schneider 168 211 232 611
Total 2817

Billy Evans Says

"There are too many throwers and not enough pitchers." That is the way Frank Chance, who will manage the Chicago White Sox this year, summed up the situation that has run rampant in the major leagues for several years. We had been discussing a tough game the Red Sox had lost the day previous, largely due to the fact that the Boston pitcher had played right into the hands of a pinch hitter on the opposing team. Known as a batter who likes a fast ball, better high, the pitcher proceeded to deliver just such a ball. The pinch hitter broke up the game.

"In the old days every pitcher put considerable thought into each ball. He tried to work on the batter from every angle. The lively ball seems to have destroyed the pitcher's sense of proportion," continued Chance.

Having gone through the various stages that played a part in the career of Chance, I was able to appreciate his sizeup of the pitching situation. I can well remember when every major league club boasted four pitchers of almost equal ability. Most of the clubs had four second-string pitchers who were almost as effective. In those days there were no soft spots. The batters were compelled to look at good pitching day after day. It's different now. Perhaps the New York Yankees are the only major league club that can send a pitching staff that compares with those of the old days. Teams opposing the Yanks have their work cut out. Good pitching explains why the Yanks have won three pennants, finally topping it off with a world series.

The "Old Master" was the name conferred on Christy Mathewson because of his crafty pitching ability. He knew every trick of the game. Of the modern day twirlers few work with better judgment than Urban Shocker of the Browns.

Old-time players will tell you that Christy Mathewson wasn't hard to hit with the bases empty, but with the bases loaded he was usually very high in the air. Shocker is much the same type pitcher. He works easily, always has something in reserve. With nothing at stake he often takes a chance on some good hitter and pitches right into his "groove," just where he likes them. In the old pinch, however, the same batsman is worked on most carefully. Shocker adjusts his pitching to the existing situation.

One of the best bits of pitching I have ever seen was put on display by Shocker in a game at the Polo Grounds. He struck Ruth out four times out of five times up. Each meeting was a battle between a great slugger and a master pitcher, with Shocker having the edge that particular day. "Ruth has made me suffer for those four strikeouts," says Shocker.

MAKES BANKS ON ROMMEL
Connie Mack is banking on Eddie Rommel to have a big year. Rommel, the pitching sensation of 1922, didn't do so well last year. Connie figures Ed has profited by experience and will be a big help to him this year.

VEACH SUPPLIES THE PUNCH
Manager Lee Fohl of the Boston Red Sox says that any batting strength lost by the sale of Burns to Cleveland has been more than made up by the purchase of Bobby Veach of Detroit. Fohl figures Veach good for two or three more years.

MUST STRENGTHEN OUTFIELD
Manager Frank Chance of the Chicago White Sox says his biggest problem is to whip his outfield into shape. The veteran Harry Hooper is the only player who can be figured on as an outfield certainty.

WOULD DO A COMEBACK
Ed Walsh, former star of the Chicago White Sox, says he would essay a big league comeback if the spitball wasn't barred. Walsh says a few years' rest has made his old "souper" feel as good as ever. Ed always was an optimist.

THERE IS A DIFFERENCE
There seems to be a decided difference in handling college players

Piles Can Be Cured Without Surgery

An instructive book has been published by Dr. A. S. McCleary, the noted rectal specialist of Kansas City. This book tells how sufferers from Piles can be quickly and easily cured without the use of knife, scalpel, "hot" iron, electricity or any other cutting or burning method, without confinement to bed and no hospital bills to pay. The method has been a success for twenty-four years and in more than eight thousand cases. The book is sent post paid free to persons afflicted with piles or other rectal troubles who clip this item and mail it with name and address to Dr. McCleary, 5542 Parkway Sanitarium, Kansas City, Mo.

FASHION PLATES OF THE GOLF LINKS

LEFT: WALTER HAGEN IN HIS "PRINCE OF WALES" OUTFIT. IN A GORGEOUS STUDY IN CHECKS AND ORIENTAL BLOCKINGS. CENTER: ARTHUR HAYES. RIGHT: OLD TED RAY IN HIS OVERALLS, SO TO SPEAK.

BY JOE WILLIAMS
Golf has made advances beyond the purely mechanical, such as are represented by the ivory-faced driver, the far-flying ball and the heavily ribbed irons.

Golf has created a sartorial style all its own. Whereas the matter of dress was of little or no consequence to the player in years past it is now a consideration of extreme importance. The well-dressed man of the links has come quite definitely into his own.

Knickerbockers cut along the generous architectural lines of a circus tent, sweaters that scream their colorful hues to the high heavens, golf shoes bearing hose-repletes with clockwork and bizarre patterns, belts that shame the rainbow, shoes as unconventional as Hollywood love.

These resplendent accoutrements, and professional athletes. Hugo Hagedorn, a great success in college circles as basketball and football coach, found managing a big league team a much harder job.

MANUSCH HUGS THE PLATE
Outfielder Manusch of the Tigers, whom Ty Cobb predicts will be a star in a couple of years, doesn't pull an inch at the plate. For that reason he is often hit by pitched balls that other batters would avoid. The veteran Kid Elberfeld had such a stance and was much hit. In great many cases the umpire wouldn't permit him to go down, claiming he failed to try to avoid the pitch.

COLLEGE STARS TURN PRO
Many college football stars don't seem to take seriously the opinions expressed by Coach Stagg of the University of Chicago, relative to professional football. Already a number of players who graduated in June have signed up for the coming fall.

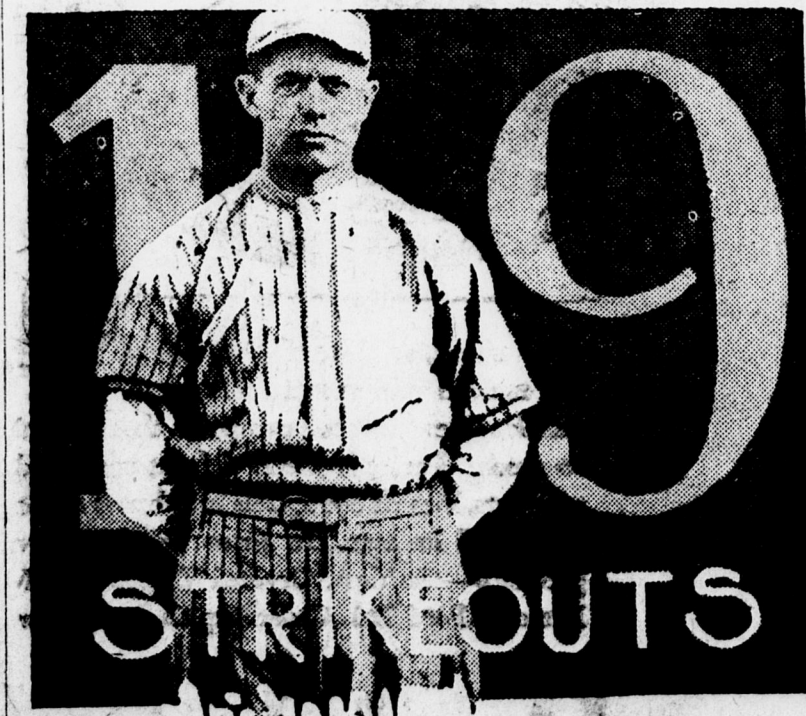

WARNER HAS A BIG JOB
Leland Stanford is looking to Coach Glenn Warner to put a stop to California's winning ways on the gridiron. For four years California has reigned supreme on the coast. It will be a great battle when Warner clashes with Andy Smith, California manager.

BENDER STILL HITS 'EM
The veteran chief Bender, always a great batsman, finished better than 300 with Baltimore last season.

Hard Luck
"Enjoy your trip across the Atlantic," "No, I was sea-sick and couldn't drink a thing."—Toronto Telegram.

A Routine Matter
"She still stays young." "Yes, it's an old habit of hers."—Sains-Gene (Paris).

STRIKEOUT COLLEGE KING JOINS PITTSBURGH SQUAD

VERN LEWELLEN
A young gent who will receive more than passing attention in the camp of the Pittsburgh Nationals this spring is Vern Lewellen, college pitcher, who recently decided upon a professional career. Lewellen is a product of the University of Nebraska, and is listed as a genuine comer. In collegiate circles he was a sensation. Against Missouri in a game for the valley championship he fanned 10 batters. It was on the strength of this performance that Pittsburgh signed him.

land more, have made the male golfer a thing of beauty if not exactly a joy forever.

Havers a "Dandy"
Arthur Gladstone Havers, British professional champion, is now in our midst, giving exhibitions at so much per exhibit. Arthur Gladstone belongs to the school of fastidious dressers. His collection of golfing costumes and exquisite sweaters is at once rare and violent.

Recently Havers went against Walter Hagen, former American champion, in a New Orleans match. Mr. Hagen himself is no meek, obscure figure on the links. His golfing attire is always faultlessly correct, and frequently unique. It is said the joint appearance of these two gorgeous gents proved too much for the society reporters who cracked fall. . . . Bet the players never had that happen to them at college.

Five deer stamped a "Frisco" golf course the other day. . . . An irate player looked at them and exclaimed, "Why don't they keep them down stateside of the links?"

America doesn't look for much success in the Olympic distance runs. . . . It's too bad we can't start our own runs.

Because his decision was unpopular a fight referee in Chicago was shot. . . . This beats arguing all to pieces, and is much more conclusive.

A Michigan college boy named Short is to play in the big leagues next summer and we are wondering what the boys will call him for short.

A convention of wrestlers is to be held to draw up uniform rules. . . . May we not suggest that they assemble at Great Falls?

The route over which the cross-country runners will go in the Olympic games is to be kept secret. . . . Now if they'll only keep the race secret.

Battling Siki has bobbed up with a sprained ankle, having injured it trying to kick a pink camel with green ears off the end of his bed. . . . Some cabaret ruffian gave Charlie Chaplin a black eye the other night. . . . It doesn't take much to give the movies a black eye these days.

We are surprised to read that Farmer Lodge has promised to kazo Firop in four rounds. . . . The farmer never impressed us as being promising.

Experts praise Dazzy Vance's fast ball, but if they want to see a real fast ball they ought to go to one of these modern sorority shindigs.

Of course all boxing champions have great footwork. . . . That's how they sidestep dangerous opponents.

The middleweight champion of Germany has arrived in this country, admitting his readiness to be knocked simple by some of the game's worst fighters.

Having had no previous experience as a messenger boy, it is not surprising that Black Jack Barry declined to sign as Clarke Griffith's manager.

Well, anyway, Mr. Fall was different from those Black Sox ball players; he didn't do it for "the wife and kiddies."

No Maiden Name For Her
A colored mammy came into the office of the estate, for which she worked, to receive her monthly wages. As she could not write, she always made a cross on the receipt. But on this occasion she made a circle.

"What's the matter, Linda?" the man in charge asked. "Why don't you make a cross as usual?" "Why," Linda explained earnestly, "Ah done got married yestaday on changed mah name."—Dry Goods Economist.

Motor omnibuses are now running regularly between Bagdad and Aleppo, although the motor road is officially unprotected. The distance between Bagdad and Aleppo, by way of Mosul, is roughly 500 miles.

MANDAN NEWS

TWO NEW CLUBS ARE ORGANIZED

According to R. C. Newcomer, county agent, who spent the latter part of the week at New Salem, Almont and Glen Ullin, a Holstein Calf club was organized at Youngstown, and a sewing club organized at Almont among the boys and girls of these places. At Glen Ullin a committee of three was appointed to attempt the organization of a Community club.

At a meeting of the several boys and girls and some of their parents, a Youngstown Thursday evening, the following officers were elected: G. L. Shogman, local leader; Harold Michaels, president; Helen Kroeger, vice president; Ervin Klusman, secretary. Other members were: Laura Klusman, Walter Kroeger, Alice Halle, Florence Kroeger, Helen Michaels, Albert Kroeger, Henry Kroeger. No doubt other boys and girls in this vicinity will join later. The next meeting will be held Feb. 22.

A Sewing club was organized at Almont with Mrs. Neis Becklund, local leader; Katherine Malone, president; Norma Erandson, vice president; Anna Timpt, secretary. Other members are: Lois Templeton, Ruth Malone, Lucile Templeton, Dorothy Templeton, Lillian Knutsen, Sylvia Inns, Madelon Templeton. There will no doubt be a poultry club organized at Almont in the near future. The next meeting of the Sewing club will be held Feb. 16. Other girls are expected to join later.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT.
While out hunting near the city, Reuben Larson, local carpenter was accidentally shot when he was reloading his rifle. The gun slipped in his hands and when he grasped quickly to the weapon, striking the trigger he was discharged, the bullet entering his left leg just below the knee. The bone in the leg was untouched but the flesh was torn for a considerable length, the bullet coming out a few inches above the ankle.

PLANNING PARTY.
At a meeting of the Knights of Pythias last evening in their new hall in the Cary building, members expressed appreciation of the work already done towards making the quarters one of the finest for lodge purposes in the state. All of the furniture ordered for the hall will have been received within the next two weeks it was reported by the building committee. Plans are being forward for a big "house warming" program and dance to be held in connection with the celebration of the 60th anniversary of the founding of the order, February 19.

WIRTZ-POMERLEAU.
A wedding of interest to many friends was solemnized quietly on Monday afternoon at St. Joseph rectory, Rev. Fr. Clement Dimpf officiating when Miss Elizabeth Wirtz became the bride of H. E. Pomerleau. The bride was attended by Frank Wetzstein and Miss Della Hagerman. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Wirtz of the city and has been employed as a bookkeeper at the Mandan Creamery & Produce company for a number of years. Mr. Pomerleau is connected with the Wetzstein Brothers Bus & Taxi company. They left last evening for Minneapolis where they will spend a few days and will leave later for other cities farther east. They will return here to make their home after two weeks.

Irish Peers Retain Seats In House of Lords?

London, Feb. 6.—The question of allowing the Irish representative peers to retain their seats in the House of Lords which was not touched upon in the treaty that created the Irish Free State, is being actively attacked by the Conservative press and anti-Irish organizations in Ireland.

This question, however, has not arisen since the treaty was signed as a vacancy has not occurred in the list of Irish representative peers who are elected to the House of Lords for life. Neither the Free State government nor the British officials have mentioned the subject in their various communications nor is it believed that the matter will be discussed until the question is formally raised in the legislative chambers.

The attack on the Irish representative peers has been carried on almost entirely in England by anti-Irish organizations and apparently has not aroused any of the political parties. The peers have been allowed to carry out their legislative duties without any interference from the Irish side.

The question of allowing the peers to retain their seats with home rule in Ireland is not a new one. In introducing his home rule bill in the House of Commons, in 1886 Gladstone said: "It will be perfectly clear that if Ireland is to have a domestic legislature, Irish peers and Irish representatives cannot come here to conduct English and Scottish affairs." There is evidence later that Mr. Gladstone's views changed and that about 1890 he was disposed to admit members from Ireland to both the upper and lower houses.

The Irish peers since the Union Act have had the right to meet and elect representatives to sit in the House of Lords who keep this office for life. The peers only meet to elect a member to fill vacancies and are not officially questioned.

The question of allowing the peers to retain their seats with home rule in Ireland is not a new one. In introducing his home rule bill in the House of Commons, in 1886 Gladstone said: "It will be perfectly clear that if Ireland is to have a domestic legislature, Irish peers and Irish representatives cannot come here to conduct English and Scottish affairs." There is evidence later that Mr. Gladstone's views changed and that about 1890 he was disposed to admit members from Ireland to both the upper and lower houses.

The Irish peers since the Union Act have had the right to meet and elect representatives to sit in the House of Lords who keep this office for life. The peers only meet to elect a member to fill vacancies and are not officially questioned.

The question of allowing the peers to retain their seats with home rule in Ireland is not a new one. In introducing his home rule bill in the House of Commons, in 1886 Gladstone said: "It will be perfectly clear that if Ireland is to have a domestic legislature, Irish peers and Irish representatives cannot come here to conduct English and Scottish affairs." There is evidence later that Mr. Gladstone's views changed and that about 1890 he was disposed to admit members from Ireland to both the upper and lower houses.

The Irish peers since the Union Act have had the right to meet and elect representatives to sit in the House of Lords who keep this office for life. The peers only meet to elect a member to fill vacancies and are not officially questioned.

BOOZE RING IS ALL-POWERFUL IN GREAT BRITAIN—YET NATION FACES RUM-RUNNING PROBLEM

DIRECTORS IN BIG WHISKEY AND BREWERY CONCERNS ARE MEMBERS OF THE HOUSE OF LORDS AND COMMONS.
BRITISH FISHERMEN SMUGGLE IN FOREIGN MADE LIQUOR.
The booze tax nets England three-quarters of a billion dollars a year.

BY MILTON BRONNER
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

London, Feb. 6.—A dark night. Fog along the coast. A traveler comes to a deserted cove with its load of innocent fish—and not so innocent booze.

No, this is not about the United States Rum row where ships are smuggling British booze to American bootleggers. This particular story deals with British boats which smuggle French booze into merry England.

For just as anti-booze rules the roost in the United States, so booze is all powerful in Great Britain. It is powerful in Parliament, powerful in the party machines, powerful in society and powerful in the press. It even has its friends in the churches.

It has no strenuous opposition in the colleges and universities. It permeates all branches of British life. That is why the makers of beer, whisky and gin in Britain don't worry much.

Peacocks Now the "Beverage"
The last Parliament had in the House of Lords 12 members who were directors in ten big whisky or brewery concerns. A number of these had made their entire fortune out of booze. In the House of Commons there were 16 brewers and distillers interested in 27 companies whose capital stock was a quarter of a billion dollars.

None of the big newspapers of Great Britain is owned by the beer and whisky lords, but the press, as a whole, is favorable to their business for two reasons: the owners think the public sentiment favors the wets and the owners make huge sums out of booze advertisements. "Maker" of well-known brands of whisky, beer and gin take columns of space in British newspapers to boost their wares.

Not only that, but the big department stores of Great Britain have liquor departments on a scale of lavishness never known even in New York and Chicago. It is no unusual thing to see these department stores taking a quarter of a page at a huge price to advertise their bargains in liquor. It is no unusual thing to see some ad waxing lyrical in its phrase of 100-year-old brandy—"the very soul of the grape"—and only $50 a bottle!

With Great Britain the most highly taxed country in the world, the booze interests have another potential argument. They point out that owing to high taxes on their business, alcohol has yielded an increased revenue of about three quarters of a billion dollars per annum which could not be raised so easily and so expeditiously any place else.

And so just as bootlegging is a recognized "business" along our coasts, so smuggling is a recognized "business" along the English channel. So much so that Parliament may be asked to provide money for a coast guard.

In the United States prohibition is the cause of bootlegging. In England the main cause of smuggling is taxes. Before the war the British revenue tax on French brandy and on European wines was merely nominal. It didn't pay to smuggle.

After war conditions changed this. In the endeavor to make its budget balance, the government has soaked all liquor with a very heavy duty. A bottle of whisky which sells retail at 12 shillings and 6 pence has already been taxed 8 shillings and 5 pence half penny. In other words, two-thirds of what the consumer pays for the booze is government tax. Half of what the consumer pays for French brandy is accounted for by government tax. Wines are taxed anywhere from two shillings up to 6 and 8 shillings per gallon.

Fishermen Get Rich Running Rum
With a government tax of over $2 per bottle, the smuggler can easily afford to take the risk and split what is saved on the tax. In other words, he can sell his booze to the dealer for $1 less than it would have cost him to buy from regular wholesalers.

Often the smuggler can get the full price that is paid for booze on which the tax is paid for this reason: brandy that goes through the government hands is watered down to a certain proof. Brandy that comes by way of the smuggler is not watered down. It is full strength and therefore worth far more to the drinker.

The business of booze smuggling in England is almost entirely in the hands of the fishermen of the southern and southwestern English coasts. Every morning these men put forth in their steam trawlers or gasoline motor boats and head across the English Channel to the fishing scenes near the French coast. Here they also find French and Belgian fishermen, who sell brandy, rum, wine and liquors by case loads.

In the evening the British return with two loads, one for night trafficking and one for daylight. They have their pals along the coast who guide them to secluded coves by means of signal lamps. Here the booze is quietly landed. The fishing boats then innocently make for the nearest harbor which has a fish market, anchor for the night, and dispose of their fish in the morning.

The owner of a fishing boat can make more out of his contraband booze than out of his fish.

Then they are called together by the clerk of the House of Lords. The present Irish peers in the Lords number 28.

Fair American Starts Unique Collection

Sofia, Bulgaria, Feb. 6.—It pleases Boris III, King of Bulgaria, from time to time to be democratic, and particularly with the citizens of a country known for its democracy.

On New Year's day the king was driving about the city in his limousine, paying formal calls and accompanied by two military aides, when

Speaking of Operations—They're Using Jazz Music As An Anaesthetic Now

BY STEVE HANNAGAN
NEA Service Staff Writer

Brooklyn, N. Y., Feb. 6.—They're conducting surgical operations to the tune of peppy airs now.

The experiment of playing a phonograph when local anaesthesia is used, has been a success in St. Catherine's Hospital here.

It soothes the patient's nerves and takes their minds off their troubles. The music cabinets of operating rooms in hospitals throughout the country may soon contain: "Take It Slow and Easy If You Want to Get Along With Me"—for removal of tonsils. "There'll Be A Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight"—for extraction of a tooth. "Please Don't Take Me Home"—for treatment of nose, broken in very personal domestic row.

he caught sight of an American acquaintance, engaged with his handsome wife in the leisurely occupation of window-shopping. Near the curbstone the car stopped, Boris hopped out, sought his friend and cordially wished him a happy New Year.

On being introduced to the American, Boris asked her how she was enjoying her winter in Bulgaria, exchanged a few remarks of local interest, and on parting lifted his military cap, bent over her hand, kissed her silken glove, and returned to his car beside which his two aides were standing at attention.

"I shall always treasure this memento," said the American woman, well pleased; "it starts my collection of gloves that have been kissed by kings."

More Courses in Physical Education

Berkeley, Cal., Feb. 6.—Thirty-four courses in physical education will be offered at the next summer session of the University of California. There will be classes in boxing, wrestling, swimming, baseball, basketball, track and field, and pageant organization. Students also will be offered courses in theory, dealing with the direction of school playgrounds, massage, corrective gymnastics, applied anatomy and the organization of activities for girls and boys in elementary and secondary schools. In connection with the physical education program there will be a "demonstration school" for physical training, with a limited number of children from 6 to 16 years of age enrolled. These children will be divided into groups and given instruction in gymnastics, tumbling, folk dancing and games.

"I love living in the country," said a man who owes a lot of money in the Broadway district. "I love to walk along the country roads. You know you can't owe money to a cow."—New York Evening World.

HAIR STAYS COMBED, GLOSSY

Millions Use It - Few Cents Buys Jar at Drugstore

HAIR GROOM
KEEPS HAIR COMBED
Even stubborn, unruly or shampooed hair stays combed all day in any style you like. "Hair-Groom" is a dignified combing cream which gives that natural gloss and well-groomed effect to your hair—that final touch to good dress both in business and on social occasions. "Hair-Groom" is greaseless; also helps grow thick, heavy lustrous hair. Beware of greasy, harmful imitations.

BISMARCK STORAGE COMPANY
Storage of all kinds. Rates on application. DEAD CAR STORAGE $2.50 PER MO. Office With Lucky Strike Coal Co. Phone 82 909 Main St.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISEMENTS

Classified Advertising Rates

1 insertion, 25 words or under $.50
2 insertions, 25 words or under35
3 insertions 25 words or under25
1 week, 25 words or under75
Ads over 25 words, 2c additional per word.

CLASSIFIED DISPLAY RATES

65 Cents Per Inch
All classified ads are cash in advance. Copy should be received by 12 o'clock to insure insertion same day.

WE RESERVE THE RIGHT TO REJECT ANY COPY SUBMITTED

THE BISMARCK TRIBUNE
PHONE 32

HELP WANTED-FEMALE

WANTED-Experienced maid. Family of two. Modern apartment. Do not apply unless thoroughly competent and have good references. Write 709, in care Tribune. 2-2-1w
WANTED-Competent girl for general housework. Call 802 Ave. B. 2-1-1w

FOR SALE OR RENT HOUSES AND FLATS

FOR SALE-A real bargain in an eight room modern, well located, facing south and east, nice trees; property could not be replaced for less than $7500.00. My price only $5250.00.
Also, other houses, in various parts of the city at from $1000 up and at all sorts of prices and terms; can suit any taste or purse.
I also write fire insurance in reliable companies. F. E. YOUNG, 2-4-1w

FOR RENT-Furnished apartment on second floor, fitted for light housekeeping, $40 a month. Phone 794W. Geo. W. Little, 801 Fourth. 2-1-1w
FOR RENT-Two room apartment, partly furnished. Two private entrances, adjoining bath, heat, light and water, $35. Phone 614. 1-28-1w

FOR RENT-Modern bungalow of 5 rooms and bath, hot water, heat, full basement. Call at 102 Ave. B. Phone 275W. 1-23-1w
FOR RENT-Strictly modern apartment in Rose Apartments, W. Murphy. Phone 852. 12-29-1w
FOR RENT-Two apartments fully equipped for light housekeeping. Phone 794W. 1-12-1w

FOR RENT-Five room modern apartment. L. K. Thompson. Phone 287. 2-6-1w
FOR RENT-3 room furnished apartment. Phone 773, Varney Flats. 2-4-3t
FOR RENT-Five room, partly modern house, close in. Phone 647. 2-1-1w

FOR RENT-Pleasant room at 514 6th St. Phone 227. 2-5-3t
FOR RENT-Flat in Person Court. Call 519 Ave. A. 1-26-1w

LAND

FOR SALE-Eighty acre improved farm, good buildings, three miles from county seat, half mile from Foreston Millelacs County, Minnesota, further information on request. Carl Lindstrom, Foreston, Minn. 2-6-1w

Also 2-19-1w
OPPORTUNITY OF A LIFETIME-I am offering some of the finest improved in Southern Alberta at $20 to $50 per acre. Reasonable terms. Financial Agent, Lethbridge, Alberta. 2-4-1w

FOR SALE OR RENT-320 acres hay land, five miles northwest of Bismarck. R. S. Price, Decorah, Ia. 1-28-2w

NOTICE OF FORECLOSURE SALE BY ADVERTISEMENT

Notice is hereby given that default has been made in the terms of that certain mortgage executed and delivered by Abner K. Thysell and wife to J. L. Bell dated the 23rd day of April 1920 and filed for record in the office of the Register of Deeds of Burleigh County, North Dakota on the 5th day of May, 1920 at 10:15 o'clock A. M. and recorded in book 139 of mortgages on page 248. That on the 5th day of May, A. D. 1920, the said mortgage was duly assigned to the Bismarck Loan and Investment Company, a corporation of Bismarck, North Dakota, which assignment of mortgage was duly filed for record in the office of the Register of Deeds of Burleigh County on the 22nd day of December, 1923 at the hour of 10:20 o'clock A. M. and duly recorded in Book 139 of Assignments on page 534.
That said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in such mortgage and herein after described at the front door of the court house in the city of Bismarck, Burleigh County, North Dakota at the hour of 10 o'clock in the forenoon of the 8th day of March A. D. 1924, to satisfy the amount due upon such mortgage on the day of sale.
The premises described in such mortgage and which will be sold to satisfy the same are described as follows to-wit:
The south half (S½) of section five (5) in township one hundred forty (140) north of range seventy-nine (79) west of the 5th P. M. Burleigh County, North Dakota.
There will be due on such mortgage at the date of the sale the sum of $4000.00 in addition to the costs and expenses of sale including attorneys fees.
Dated January 29, 1924.
BISMARCK LOAN AND INVESTMENT CO.,
a corporation of Bismarck, N. D. Assignee.
F. E. McCURDY,
Attorney for Assignee,
Bismarck, N. D.
1-30-2-6-13-20-27-3-5

PROPOSALS FOR FIRE ESCAPES.

Sealed proposals for installing steel fire escapes on three buildings at the State Training school, Mau-

POSITION WANTED

EXPERIENCED BOOKKEEPER seeks position, either temporarily or permanent. Can install set of books or prepare final balance sheet and profit and loss statement. Write P. O. Box 217, Bismarck, or phone McKenzie hotel, room 210. 2-2-4

PERSONAL

SUE DIGBY private instruction in Gregg shorthand, touch typewriting, 208 3rd Street. Telephone 885. 2-1-2w

ROOMS FOR RENT

ONE LIGHT pleasant unfurnished room, with large closet, on second floor, suitable for one or two persons. Heat, water and light furnished. Call 1914, or address 417-10th St. 2-5-3t

FOR RENT-Have a nice large bed room on ground floor with light housekeeping privileges, and laundry in basement, $20 per month. Phone 275W. 1-31-1w

FOR RENT-One nicely furnished light house keeping room, ground floor, gas plate. 517-2nd St. Phone 812J. 2-4-1w

FOR RENT-Comfortable room supplied with hot and cold water. Garage also for rent. 422-5th St. 2-4-3t

FOR RENT-Nice furnished room in modern house, close in, 402 5th St. Phone 836J. 2-2-1w

WANTED-A large cozy comfortable room by gentleman. Write Tribune No. 711. 2-5-3t

FOR RENT-Three good unfurnished housekeeping rooms. Call at 803 7th St. 1-17-1t

FOR RENT-Five room modern house, close in. Inquire 314 Thayer St. 2-5-3t

MISCELLANEOUS

WHOLE GRAIN WHEAT is a guaranteed stomach cure, six cents, $1. If 12 cents at $2 don't help your stomach trouble you get your money back. Sold by J. W. Murphy, care Barber Shop, opposite P. O., or 219 2nd St. 1-31-1w

GARAGE FOR RENT-Can be used either for car or for storage of household goods. Centrally located. Call 508 7th St. or phone 643t

FOR RENT-One of the best business locations in the city of Bismarck. Write Ad No. 710. Care Tribune. 2-4-21wk

HEMSTITCHING-All work 10 cents per yard. Singer Sewing Machine Co., Bismarck, N. D. 2-6-1m

RUG WEAVING-Work called for and delivered. Carrie J. Paich, Bismarck. 2-5-1w

FOR SALE-Garland range and china closet, 1306 Ave. B. Phone 704-M. 2-4-4t

WANTED TO RENT-Plane. No children. Write Tribune No. 912. 2-5-3t

dan, N. D., in accordance with plans and specifications by Van Horn & Ritterbush, Architects, Bismarck, N. D., will be received by the State Board of Administration, Capitol, Bismarck, N. D., until 2 p. m. on Friday, February 8th, 1924.
Proposals shall be sealed, marked "Proposals for Fire Escapes" and accompanied by a certified check, payable to E. G. Wanner, Secretary, for five per cent (5%) of the tender.
The right is reserved to reject any or all proposals.
Plans and specifications are on file at the Builders Exchange, Mandan, Fargo, N. D., St. Paul, Minn., and may be seen at the office of the architects, Bismarck, N. D.
Dated January 17th, 1924.
ERNEST G. WANNER,
Executive Secretary,
State Board of Administration,
Bismarck, N. D.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS

In the Matter of the Estate of Francis McLean, Deceased.
Notice is hereby given by the undersigned Charles McDonald, Administrator of the Estate of Francis McLean late of the City of Bismarck, in the County of Burleigh and State of North Dakota, deceased, to the creditors of, and all persons having claims against, said deceased, to exhibit them with the necessary vouchers, within four months after the first publication of this notice, to said Administrator at his office in the City of Mandan in said Morton County.
Dated January 12th, A. D. 1924.
CHARLES McDONALD,
Administrator.
First publication on the 16th day of January, A. D. 1924.
1-16-23-30; 2-6.

SUMMONS

STATE OF NORTH DAKOTA, County of Burleigh. In District Court, Fourth Judicial District.
Albert F. McCall, Plaintiff, v. Alonzo J. Powers, Eugene F. Powers, Ruel A. Durkee and John Wilkins, co-defendants as Powers Durkee & Co., Willard B. Watson, Thomas O'Shaughnessy, and all other persons unknown claiming any estate or interest in, or lien or encumbrance upon the property described in the complaint.
Defendants.
State of North Dakota to the above named defendants:
You are hereby summoned to answer the complaint in this action, which is on file in the office of the clerk of said court, and to serve a copy of your answer upon the subscribers within thirty days after the service of this summons upon you, exclusive of the day of service; and in case of your failure to appear or answer, judgment will be taken against you by default for the relief demanded in the complaint.
Dated this 30th day of January, 1924.
NEWTON, DULLAM & YOUNG,
Attorneys for Plaintiff,
City National Bank Building,
Bismarck, North Dakota.

NOTICE

To the above named defendants:
Notice that the above entitled action is brought to quiet title, and relates to the following described real estate, situate in the county of Burleigh and state of North Dakota, to-wit: Lot Five (5), in Block Forty-seven (47), Northern Pacific Second Addition to the city of Bismarck.

Dated this 30th day of January, 1924.
NEWTON, DULLAM & YOUNG,
Attorneys for Plaintiff,
City National Bank Building,
Bismarck, North Dakota.
2-6-13-20-27-3-5 12

MORE THRIFT, LESS DIVORCE

Los Angeles, Feb. 6.-Lack of thrift has been the chief cause of recent divorces here, according to statistics prepared by Judge Ralph H. Clock of the superior court, covering about 1,000 divorce cases.
"In a number of cases," said Judge Clock, "the married couple lived together less than one day, while the greatest length of time that any couple lived together and then sought divorce was 39 years."
"Salesmen lead the comparative total of unfaithful husbands, ten percent of the defendants in such divorce actions being of that occupation. Next in order were contractors, merchants, plumbers, painters and printers, with a few barbers. Strange to say, the list includes no attorneys-in fact, few professional men and women."
"If the idea of thrift and home-owning is to be inculcated in the minds of the American people it should be taught in the schools. Then there will be less inclination to rush to the divorce court on the slightest pretext."

Dean of 'Em All
"Come over here and meet Mr. Smith," said a friend, "this is the greatest Russian expert."

"What is a Russian expert?" we asked.
"Well, he went to Russia and came back alive," explained the friend.-Kansas City Star.

Too Good to Sell

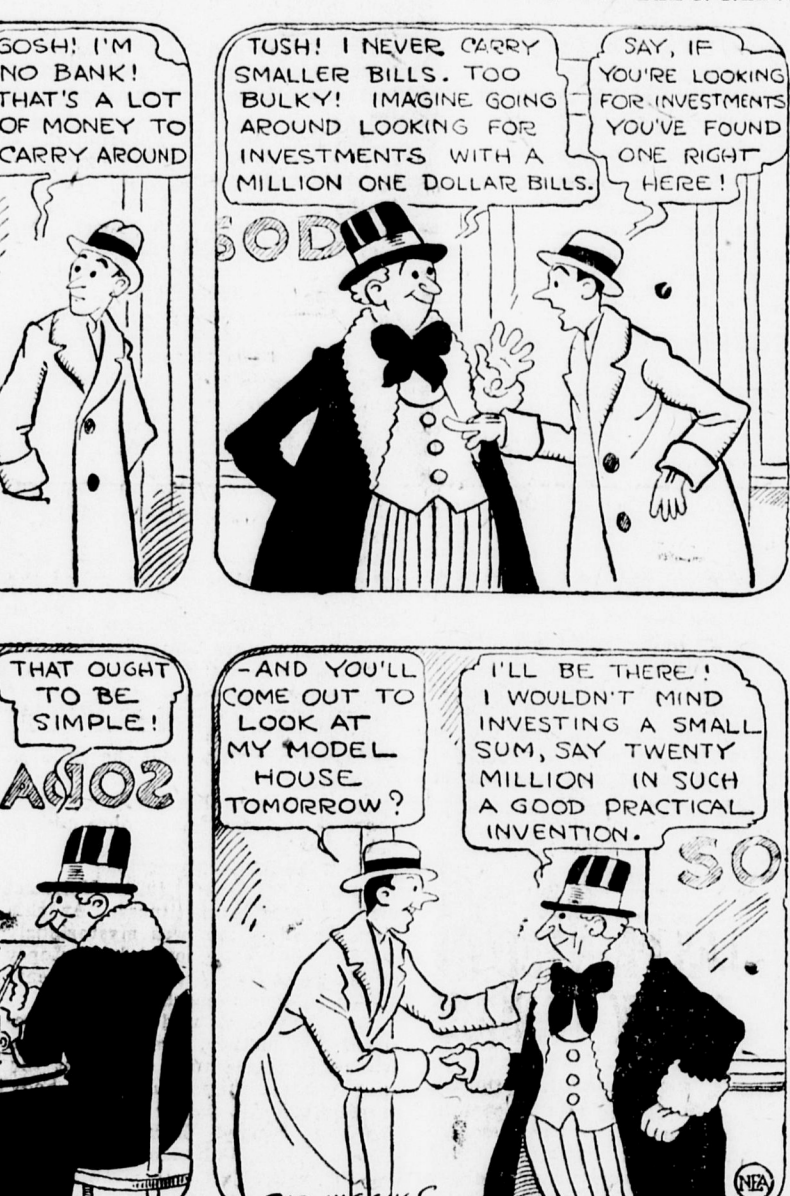

A matter-of-fact father of an embryo poet handed some of the lad's efforts to a distinguished author of verse, and asked for his opinion.
"Well, what's the answer?" queried the father after the author had glanced through the copy.

EVERETT TRUE BY CONDO

"Alas!" sighed the real poet, "those things are so good, I'm afraid you'll have to support Henry the rest of his life."-Writers' Monthly.

ADAM AND EVA BY CAP HIGGINS

OUT OUR WAY BY WILLIAMS

MARKET NEWS

WHEAT FIRM AT OPENING

Continues to Show Strength on Chicago Market

Chicago, Feb. 6.-Wheat opened firm and from one-half to seven-eighths cents higher today on decreasing domestic stocks and smaller receipts due to unfavorable weather conditions. There was also a good milling demand. May $1.12 3-4 to $1.13 and July $1.12 to $1.12 1-4; September $1.12 1-8 to $1.12 1-4.
Profit-taking sales led later to something of a setback from the day's top figures. The market closed unsettled at the same as yesterday's finish to live-eighths cents higher. May $1.12 1-2 to $1.12 5-8 and July $1.11 7-8 to $1.12 1-8.

ST. PAUL LIVESTOCK

St. Paul, Feb. 6.-Cattle receipts 2,000. Uneven. Moderately active on fat steers and yearlings. Top load good grade steers and yearlings $9.25. Bulk steers and yearlings $7.00 to $8.00. Fat steers slow, opening weak. General tendency lower. One load yearling heifers early $7.25. Best fat steers $8.50 to $9.00. Canners and cutters $2.25 to $2.25. Bologna weak. Bulk early sales $4.00 to $4.50. Stockers and feeders very slow. Practically nothing done early. Calves receipts 2,500. Twenty-five cents higher. Best lights to packers $9.50 to $9.75.

Hog receipts 16,500. Fifteen cents lower. Desirable lights and butchers averaging around 150 to 250 pounds $7.00, $7.10 bid on medium and heavyweight butchers. Bulk packing sows $6.00 to $6.50 early. Feeder pigs mostly $5.50. Sheep receipts 700. Few early sales steady. Native lambs $13.00 to $13.25. Few fed Dakotas $13.40.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK

Chicago, Feb. 6.-Hog receipts, 11,000. Left over, 11,876. Around 10 to 15 cents higher.
Cattle receipts, 5,000.
Sheep receipts, 7,000.

MINNEAPOLIS GRAIN

Minneapolis, Feb. 6.-Wheat receipts 181 cars compared with 172 cars a year ago. Cash No. 1 Northern $1.16 3-4 to $1.20 3-4; No. 1 dark northern spring choice to fancy $1.24 3-4 to $1.30 3-4; good to choice $1.20 3-4 to $1.23 3-4; ordinary to good $1.17 3-4 to $1.20 3-4; May $1.16 3-4; July $1.17 3-4; September $1.14 3-4.
Corn No. 3 yellow 73 3-4 to 74 3-4; oats No. 3 white 15 3-4 to 15 3-4; barley 5 1-2 to 5 1-2; rye No. 2, 67 1-2 to 67 1-2; fax No. 1 $2.53 3-4 to $2.59 3-4.

MINNEAPOLIS FLOUR

Minneapolis, Feb. 6.-Flour unchanged. Shipments 34,319 barrels. Bran $25.50.

BISMARCK GRAIN

(Furnished by Russell-Miller Co.)
Bismarck, Feb. 6, 1924.
No. 1 dark northern $1.05
No. 1 northern spring 1.04
No. 1 amber durum86
No. 1 mixed durum83
No. 1 red durum79
No. 1 flax 2.30
No. 2 flax51
We quote but do not handle the following:
Oats $0.35
Early46
Speltz70

New Shell Corn

White
No. 3-56-lb. test $0.54
No. 4-65-lb. test51
One cent per pound discount under 55 pounds.
Ear corn (72 lbs. in Minnesota), 50 under shell.

WHOLESALE PRODUCE

(Furnished by Northern Produce Co.)
Cream-Butterfat per lb.50
Eggs-Fresh, candied per doz.25
Dressed Poultry
No. 1 D. P. Young Tom turkeys25
No. 1 D. P. Hen turkeys, per lb.23
No. 1 Ducks per lb.15
No. 1 Geese per lb.13

Two double-fed westerns held about $13.50. Light-fed ewes $8.00.
No. 1 turkeys, per lb.19
Live Poultry
Hens 4 lbs. each and over per lb.13
Hens under 4 lbs. each, per lb.08
Springs, per lb.11
Cocks and stags, per lb.08
Ducks, per lb.12
Geese, per lb.10

Arctic Air Crash

LIVE POSTER
Wisting of Ronald Amundsen's ship Maud, which is locked in the polar ice, states that on July 16 an airplane trip was attempted, but on account of engine trouble the machine had to descend and crashed on the ice. Dr. Sverdrup, the scientist accompanying the expedition, is of opinion that no great land areas exist northeast of east Siberia.

Truthfulness Rewarded

A Civil War veteran had spent a week at a New York hotel. When he went to pay his bill the clerk asked:

"What was your rank?"

"I was a private," the old soldier replied.

"Well, I won't charge you anything. You are the first private I have ever met."-Judge.

A Number He Knew

He had just arrived from the old country and was not familiar with the use of the telephone. So he took down the receiver and demanded:

"I want to talk to my wife."

The operator's voice came back sweetly, "Number, please?"

"Oh," he replied, "she bane my second bun."-People's Home Journal.

Ruel Will Seek Raise

Catcher Ruel of Washington, having had the best year of his career in 1923, will probably ask Clarke Griffith for a fat increase this spring. The fact that Eddie Gharney, second string catcher, has jumped, makes his chances all the better.

King Alfred (entering a shop of the day)-Ho, varlet! How are my candle clocks selling?

Shopkeeper-Oh, splendidly-splendidly, your majesty. They're going like hot co-er-that is to say, they're having an excellent sale, your majesty.-Weekly Telegraph (London).

THE OLD HOME TOWN

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS Alex Didn't Think of That BY BLOSSER

FASHION PLATES OF THE GOLF LINKS

LEFT: WALTER HAGEN IN HIS "PRINCE OF WALES" OUTFIT IN A GORGEOUS STYLISH OF THE FASHION PLATES OF THE GOLF LINKS. CENTER: ARTHUR HAVERS IN HIS OVERALLS, SO TO SPEAK. RIGHT: OLD TED RAY IN HIS "DANDY" SUIT.

BY JOE WILLIAMS
Golf is a most interesting sport, and one that is becoming more and more popular. It is a game that is played by men of all ages and in all climates. It is a game that is played by men of all social classes and in all parts of the world. It is a game that is played by men of all complexions and in all seasons of the year. It is a game that is played by men of all heights and in all parts of the world. It is a game that is played by men of all weights and in all parts of the world. It is a game that is played by men of all complexions and in all seasons of the year. It is a game that is played by men of all heights and in all parts of the world. It is a game that is played by men of all weights and in all parts of the world.

Having gone through the various stages that played a part in the career of Hagen, I was led to appreciate his group of the pitcher situation. I can well remember when every major league club boasted ten pitchers of almost equal ability. Most of the clubs had four second-string pitchers who were almost as effective. In those days there were no soft spots. The batters were compelled to look at good pitching day after day. It is different now. Perhaps the New York Yankees is the only major league club that can present a pitching staff that compares with those of the old days. Teams opposing the Yankees have their work cut out. Good pitching explains why the Yankees have won three pennants, finally topping it off with a world series.

The "Old Master" was the name conferred on Christy Mathewson because of his crafty pitching ability. He knew every trick of the game. Of the modern day twirlers, few work with better judgment than Ernie Shocker of the Browns.

Old-time players will tell you that Christy Mathewson wasn't hard to hit with the bases empty, but with the bases loaded he was usually well nigh invincible. Shocker is much the same type pitcher. He works easily, always has something in reserve. With nothing at stake, he often takes a chance on some good hitter and pitches right into his "groove," just where he likes. Then, in the old pinch, however, the same batsman is worked on most carefully. Shocker adjusts his pitching to the existing situation.

One of the best bits of pitching I have ever seen was put on display by Shocker in a game at the Polo Grounds. He struck Ruth out four times out of five opportunities. Each meeting was a battle between a great slugger and master pitcher, with Shocker having the edge that particular day. "Ruth has made me suffer for those four strikeouts," says Shocker.

MACK BANKS ON ROMMEL
Connie Mack is banking on Eddie Rommel to have a big year. Rommel, the pitching sensation of 1923, didn't do so well last year. Connie figures Ed has profited by experience and will be a big help to him this year.

VEACH SUPPLIES THE PUNCH
Manager Leo Veach of the Boston Red Sox says that any batting strength left by the sale of Burns to Cleveland has been more than made up by the purchase of Bobby Veach of Detroit. Veach figures Veach good for two or three more years.

MUST STRENGTHEN OUTFIELD
Manager Frank Chance of the Chicago White Sox says his biggest problem is to whip his outfield into shape. The veteran Harry Hooper is the only player who can be figured on as an outfield certainty.

WOULD BE A COMEBACK
Ed Walsh, former star of the Chicago White Sox, says he would essay a big league comeback if the spitball wasn't barred. Walsh says a few years' rest has made his old "couper" feel as good as ever. Ed always was an optimizer.

THERE IS A DIFFERENCE
There seems to be a decided difference in handling college players.

Piles Can Be Cured Without Surgery
An instructive book has been published by Dr. A. S. McCleary, the noted rectal specialist of Kansas City. This book tells how sufferers from piles can be quickly and easily cured without the use of knife, scissors, or any other surgical method, without confinement to bed and no hospital bills to pay. The method has been a success for twenty-four years and in more than eight thousand cases. The book is sent postpaid free to persons afflicted with piles or other rectal troubles who clip this item and mail with name and address to Dr. McCleary, 2542 Parkway Sanitarium, Kansas City.

STRIKEOUT COLLEGE KING JOINS PITTSBURGH SQUAD
A young gent who will receive more than passing attention in the camp of the Pittsburgh Nationals this spring is Vern Lewellen, college pitcher, who recently decided upon a professional career. Lewellen is a product of the University of Nebraska, and is listed as a genuine comer. In collegiate circles he was a sensation. Against Missouri in a game for the valley championship he fanned 19 batters. It was on the strength of this performance that Pittsburgh signed him.

STRIKEOUTS
A young gent who will receive more than passing attention in the camp of the Pittsburgh Nationals this spring is Vern Lewellen, college pitcher, who recently decided upon a professional career. Lewellen is a product of the University of Nebraska, and is listed as a genuine comer. In collegiate circles he was a sensation. Against Missouri in a game for the valley championship he fanned 19 batters. It was on the strength of this performance that Pittsburgh signed him.

BY JOE WILLIAMS
Golf is a most interesting sport, and one that is becoming more and more popular. It is a game that is played by men of all ages and in all climates. It is a game that is played by men of all social classes and in all parts of the world. It is a game that is played by men of all complexions and in all seasons of the year. It is a game that is played by men of all heights and in all parts of the world. It is a game that is played by men of all weights and in all parts of the world.

Having gone through the various stages that played a part in the career of Hagen, I was led to appreciate his group of the pitcher situation. I can well remember when every major league club boasted ten pitchers of almost equal ability. Most of the clubs had four second-string pitchers who were almost as effective. In those days there were no soft spots. The batters were compelled to look at good pitching day after day. It is different now. Perhaps the New York Yankees is the only major league club that can present a pitching staff that compares with those of the old days. Teams opposing the Yankees have their work cut out. Good pitching explains why the Yankees have won three pennants, finally topping it off with a world series.

The "Old Master" was the name conferred on Christy Mathewson because of his crafty pitching ability. He knew every trick of the game. Of the modern day twirlers, few work with better judgment than Ernie Shocker of the Browns.

Old-time players will tell you that Christy Mathewson wasn't hard to hit with the bases empty, but with the bases loaded he was usually well nigh invincible. Shocker is much the same type pitcher. He works easily, always has something in reserve. With nothing at stake, he often takes a chance on some good hitter and pitches right into his "groove," just where he likes. Then, in the old pinch, however, the same batsman is worked on most carefully. Shocker adjusts his pitching to the existing situation.

One of the best bits of pitching I have ever seen was put on display by Shocker in a game at the Polo Grounds. He struck Ruth out four times out of five opportunities. Each meeting was a battle between a great slugger and master pitcher, with Shocker having the edge that particular day. "Ruth has made me suffer for those four strikeouts," says Shocker.

MACK BANKS ON ROMMEL
Connie Mack is banking on Eddie Rommel to have a big year. Rommel, the pitching sensation of 1923, didn't do so well last year. Connie figures Ed has profited by experience and will be a big help to him this year.

VEACH SUPPLIES THE PUNCH
Manager Leo Veach of the Boston Red Sox says that any batting strength left by the sale of Burns to Cleveland has been more than made up by the purchase of Bobby Veach of Detroit. Veach figures Veach good for two or three more years.

MUST STRENGTHEN OUTFIELD
Manager Frank Chance of the Chicago White Sox says his biggest problem is to whip his outfield into shape. The veteran Harry Hooper is the only player who can be figured on as an outfield certainty.

WOULD BE A COMEBACK
Ed Walsh, former star of the Chicago White Sox, says he would essay a big league comeback if the spitball wasn't barred. Walsh says a few years' rest has made his old "couper" feel as good as ever. Ed always was an optimizer.

THERE IS A DIFFERENCE
There seems to be a decided difference in handling college players.

Piles Can Be Cured Without Surgery
An instructive book has been published by Dr. A. S. McCleary, the noted rectal specialist of Kansas City. This book tells how sufferers from piles can be quickly and easily cured without the use of knife, scissors, or any other surgical method, without confinement to bed and no hospital bills to pay. The method has been a success for twenty-four years and in more than eight thousand cases. The book is sent postpaid free to persons afflicted with piles or other rectal troubles who clip this item and mail with name and address to Dr. McCleary, 2542 Parkway Sanitarium, Kansas City.

STRIKEOUT COLLEGE KING JOINS PITTSBURGH SQUAD
A young gent who will receive more than passing attention in the camp of the Pittsburgh Nationals this spring is Vern Lewellen, college pitcher, who recently decided upon a professional career. Lewellen is a product of the University of Nebraska, and is listed as a genuine comer. In collegiate circles he was a sensation. Against Missouri in a game for the valley championship he fanned 19 batters. It was on the strength of this performance that Pittsburgh signed him.

STRIKEOUTS
A young gent who will receive more than passing attention in the camp of the Pittsburgh Nationals this spring is Vern Lewellen, college pitcher, who recently decided upon a professional career. Lewellen is a product of the University of Nebraska, and is listed as a genuine comer. In collegiate circles he was a sensation. Against Missouri in a game for the valley championship he fanned 19 batters. It was on the strength of this performance that Pittsburgh signed him.

BY JOE WILLIAMS
Golf is a most interesting sport, and one that is becoming more and more popular. It is a game that is played by men of all ages and in all climates. It is a game that is played by men of all social classes and in all parts of the world. It is a game that is played by men of all complexions and in all seasons of the year. It is a game that is played by men of all heights and in all parts of the world. It is a game that is played by men of all weights and in all parts of the world.

Having gone through the various stages that played a part in the career of Hagen, I was led to appreciate his group of the pitcher situation. I can well remember when every major league club boasted ten pitchers of almost equal ability. Most of the clubs had four second-string pitchers who were almost as effective. In those days there were no soft spots. The batters were compelled to look at good pitching day after day. It is different now. Perhaps the New York Yankees is the only major league club that can present a pitching staff that compares with those of the old days. Teams opposing the Yankees have their work cut out. Good pitching explains why the Yankees have won three pennants, finally topping it off with a world series.

The "Old Master" was the name conferred on Christy Mathewson because of his crafty pitching ability. He knew every trick of the game. Of the modern day twirlers, few work with better judgment than Ernie Shocker of the Browns.

Old-time players will tell you that Christy Mathewson wasn't hard to hit with the bases empty, but with the bases loaded he was usually well nigh invincible. Shocker is much the same type pitcher. He works easily, always has something in reserve. With nothing at stake, he often takes a chance on some good hitter and pitches right into his "groove," just where he likes. Then, in the old pinch, however, the same batsman is worked on most carefully. Shocker adjusts his pitching to the existing situation.

One of the best bits of pitching I have ever seen was put on display by Shocker in a game at the Polo Grounds. He struck Ruth out four times out of five opportunities. Each meeting was a battle between a great slugger and master pitcher, with Shocker having the edge that particular day. "Ruth has made me suffer for those four strikeouts," says Shocker.

MACK BANKS ON ROMMEL
Connie Mack is banking on Eddie Rommel to have a big year. Rommel, the pitching sensation of 1923, didn't do so well last year. Connie figures Ed has profited by experience and will be a big help to him this year.

VEACH SUPPLIES THE PUNCH
Manager Leo Veach of the Boston Red Sox says that any batting strength left by the sale of Burns to Cleveland has been more than made up by the purchase of Bobby Veach of Detroit. Veach figures Veach good for two or three more years.

MUST STRENGTHEN OUTFIELD
Manager Frank Chance of the Chicago White Sox says his biggest problem is to whip his outfield into shape. The veteran Harry Hooper is the only player who can be figured on as an outfield certainty.

WOULD BE A COMEBACK
Ed Walsh, former star of the Chicago White Sox, says he would essay a big league comeback if the spitball wasn't barred. Walsh says a few years' rest has made his old "couper" feel as good as ever. Ed always was an optimizer.

THERE IS A DIFFERENCE
There seems to be a decided difference in handling college players.

Piles Can Be Cured Without Surgery
An instructive book has been published by Dr. A. S. McCleary, the noted rectal specialist of Kansas City. This book tells how sufferers from piles can be quickly and easily cured without the use of knife, scissors, or any other surgical method, without confinement to bed and no hospital bills to pay. The method has been a success for twenty-four years and in more than eight thousand cases. The book is sent postpaid free to persons afflicted with piles or other rectal troubles who clip this item and mail with name and address to Dr. McCleary, 2542 Parkway Sanitarium, Kansas City.

STRIKEOUT COLLEGE KING JOINS PITTSBURGH SQUAD
A young gent who will receive more than passing attention in the camp of the Pittsburgh Nationals this spring is Vern Lewellen, college pitcher, who recently decided upon a professional career. Lewellen is a product of the University of Nebraska, and is listed as a genuine comer. In collegiate circles he was a sensation. Against Missouri in a game for the valley championship he fanned 19 batters. It was on the strength of this performance that Pittsburgh signed him.

STRIKEOUTS
A young gent who will receive more than passing attention in the camp of the Pittsburgh Nationals this spring is Vern Lewellen, college pitcher, who recently decided upon a professional career. Lewellen is a product of the University of Nebraska, and is listed as a genuine comer. In collegiate circles he was a sensation. Against Missouri in a game for the valley championship he fanned 19 batters. It was on the strength of this performance that Pittsburgh signed him.

MANDAN NEWS

TWO NEW CLUBS ARE ORGANIZED

According to R. C. Newcomer, county agent, who spent the latter part of the week at New Salem, Almont and Glen Ullin, a Holstein calf club was organized at Youngstown and a Sewing club organized at Almont among the boys and girls of these places. At Glen Ullin a committee of three was appointed to attempt the organization of a Community club.

At a meeting of the several boys and girls and some of their parents, a Youngstown Thursday evening, the following officers were elected: G. L. Skogman, local leader; Harold Michaels, president; Helen Kroeger, vice president; Ervin Klusman, secretary. Other members were: Laura Klusman, Anna Kroeger, Alice Hattie, Helen Kroeger, Helen Michaels, Albert Kroeger, Henry Kroeger. No doubt other boys and girls in this vicinity will join later. The next meeting will be held Feb. 22.

A Sewing club was organized at Almont with Mrs. Neis Beckland, local leader; Katherine Malone, president; Norma Beckland, vice president; Anna Timpt, secretary. Other members were: Lois Templeton, Ruth Malone, Lucile Templeton, Dorothy Templeton, Lillian Knutson, Sylvia Ims, Madeline Templeton. There will be no doubt a poultry club organized at Almont in the near future. The next meeting of the Sewing club will be held Feb. 16. Other girls are expected to join later.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT.

While out hunting near the city, Reuben Larson, local carpenter was accidentally shot when he was reloading his rifle. The gun slipped in his hands and when he grasped quickly at the weapon, striking the trigger it was discharged, the bullet entering his left leg just below the knee. The bone in the leg was untouched but the flesh was torn for a considerable length, the bullet coming out a few inches above the ankle.

At a meeting of the Knights of Pythias, held at their new headquarters in the Cary building, members expressed appreciation of the work already done towards making the quarters one of the finest for lodge purposes in the city. All of the furniture ordered for the hall will have been received within the next two weeks it was reported by the lodge committee, and plans are going forward for a big "house wain" program and dance to be held in connection with the celebration of the 60th anniversary of the founding of the order, February 19.

WITZ-POMERLEAU.
A wedding of interest to many friends was solemnized quietly on Monday afternoon at the home of Joseph Witz, Rev. Clement Dimpf officiating when Miss Elizabeth Witz became the bride of E. E. Pomerleau.

They were attended by Frank Wetzstein and Miss Della Hingerman. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Witz of the city and has been employed as a bookkeeper at the Mandan Creamery for a number of years. Mr. Pomerleau is connected with the Wetzstein Brothers Bus & Taxi company. They left last evening for Minneapolis where they will spend a few days and will leave later for other cities farther east. They will return here to make their home after two weeks.

Irish Peers Retain Seats In House of Lords
London, Feb. 6.—The question of allowing the Irish representative peers to retain their seats in the House of Lords which was not touched upon in the treaty that created the Irish Free State, is being actively attacked by the Conservative and anti-Irish organizations in England.

This question, however, has not arisen since the treaty was signed as a vacancy has not occurred in the list of Irish representative peers who are elected to the House of Lords for life. Neither the Free State government nor the British officials have mentioned the subject in their various communications nor is it believed that the matter will be discussed until the question is formally raised in the legislative chambers.

The attack on the Irish representative peers has been carried on almost entirely in England by anti-Irish organizations and apparently has not aroused any of the political parties. The peers have been allowed to carry out their legislative duties without any interference and their right to sit in the upper house has not been officially questioned.

The question of allowing the peers to retain their seats with home rule in Ireland is not a new one. In introducing his home rule bill in the House of Commons, in 1886, Gladstone said: "It will be perfectly clear that if Ireland is to have a domestic legislature, Irish peers and Irish representatives cannot come here to conduct English and Scottish affairs." There is evidence later that Mr. Gladstone's views changed and that about 1890 he was disposed to admit members from Ireland to both the upper and lower houses.

The Irish peers since the Union Act have had the right to meet and elect representatives to sit in the House of Lords who keep this office for life. The peers only meet to elect a member to fill vacancies and then they are called together by the clerk of the House of Lords.

The present Irish peers in the Lords number 28.

Fair American Starts Unique Collection
Sofia, Bulgaria, Feb. 6.—It pleases Boris III, King of Bulgaria, from time to time to be democratic, and particularly with the citizens of a country known for its democracy.

On New Year's day the king was driving about the city in his limousine, paying formal calls and accompanied by two military aides, when then they are called together by the clerk of the House of Lords.

Speaking of Operations—They're Using Jazz Music As An Anesthetic Now
ON DOCTOR, I SUPPOSE I NEVER MET HIM. IT'S TIME TO GO TO THE HOSPITAL. BEAUTIFUL MUSIC.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove it
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work. People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

BOOZE RING IS ALL-POWERFUL IN GREAT BRITAIN—YET NATION FACES RUM-RUNNING PROBLEM

ENGLISH PAPERS CARRY LARGE BOOZE ADVERTISEMENTS. DEPARTMENT STORES HAVE LIQUOR SALES REGULARLY. DIRECTORS IN BIG WHISKEY AND BREWERY CONCERNS ARE MEMBERS OF THE HOUSE OF LORDS AND COMMONS.

recognized "business" along our coasts, so smuggling is a recognized "business" along the English channel. So much so that Parliament may be asked to provide money for a coast-guard.

In the United States prohibition is the cause of bootlegging. In England the main cause of smuggling is taxes. Before the war the British revenue tax on French brandy and on European wines was merely nominal. It didn't pay to smuggle.

After-war conditions, changed this. In the endeavor to make its budget balance, the government has soaked all liquor with a very heavy duty. A bottle of whisky which sells retail at 12 shillings and 6 pence has already been taxed 8 shillings and 5 pence half penny. In other words, two-thirds of what the consumer pays for the booze is government tax. Half of what the consumer pays for French brandy is accounted for by government tax. Wines are taxed anywhere from two shillings up to 6 and 8 shillings per gallon.

Fishermen Get Rich Running Rum
With a government tax of over 62 per bottle, the smuggler can easily afford to take the risk and split what is saved on the tax. In other words, he can sell his booze to the dealer for $1 less than it would have cost him to buy from regular wholesalers.

Often the smuggler can get the full price that is paid for booze on which the tax is paid for this reason: brandy that goes through the government hands is watered down to a certain proof. Brandy that comes by way of the smuggler is not watered down. It is full strength and therefore worth far more to the drinker.

The business of booze smuggling in England is almost entirely in the hands of the fishermen of the southern and southwestern English coasts. Every morning these men put forth in their steam trawlers or gaffing motor boats and head across the English Channel to the fishing sections near the French coast. Here they also find French brandy, Belgian fishermen, who sell brandy, rum, wine and liquors by case loads.

In the evening the British return with two loads, one for night trafficking and one for daylight. They have their pals along the coast who guide them to secluded coves by means of signal lamps. Here the booze is quietly landed. The fishing boats then innocently make for the nearest harbor which has a fish market, anchor for the night, and dispose of their fish in the morning.

The owner of a fishing boat can make more out of a contraband booze than out of a fish.

producing his home rule bill in the House of Commons, in 1886, Gladstone said: "It will be perfectly clear that if Ireland is to have a domestic legislature, Irish peers and Irish representatives cannot come here to conduct English and Scottish affairs." There is evidence later that Mr. Gladstone's views changed and that about 1890 he was disposed to admit members from Ireland to both the upper and lower houses.

The Irish peers since the Union Act have had the right to meet and elect representatives to sit in the House of Lords who keep this office for life. The peers only meet to elect a member to fill vacancies and then they are called together by the clerk of the House of Lords.

The present Irish peers in the Lords number 28.

Fair American Starts Unique Collection
Sofia, Bulgaria, Feb. 6.—It pleases Boris III, King of Bulgaria, from time to time to be democratic, and particularly with the citizens of a country known for its democracy.

On New Year's day the king was driving about the city in his limousine, paying formal calls and accompanied by two military aides, when then they are called together by the clerk of the House of Lords.

Speaking of Operations—They're Using Jazz Music As An Anesthetic Now
ON DOCTOR, I SUPPOSE I NEVER MET HIM. IT'S TIME TO GO TO THE HOSPITAL. BEAUTIFUL MUSIC.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove it
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work. People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

HAIR STAYS COMBED, GLOSSY

Millions Use It - Few Cents Buys Jar at Drugstore

Even stubborn, unruly or shampoored hair stays combed all day in any style you like. "Hair-Groom" is a dignified combing cream which gives that natural gloss and well-groomed effect to your hair—that final touch to good dress both in business and on social occasions. "Hair-Groom" is greaseless; also helps grow thick, heavy lustrous hair. Beware of greasy, harmful imitations.

BISMARCK STORAGE COMPANY
Storage of all kinds Rates on application. DEAD CAR STORAGE $2.50 PER MO.
Office With Lucky Strike Coal Co. Phone 82 909 Main St.

Even stubborn, unruly or shampoored hair stays combed all day in any style you like. "Hair-Groom" is a dignified combing cream which gives that natural gloss and well-groomed effect to your hair—that final touch to good dress both in business and on social occasions. "Hair-Groom" is greaseless; also helps grow thick, heavy lustrous hair. Beware of greasy, harmful imitations.

M'NARY WHEAT EXPORT PLAN IS EXPLAINED

Proposed Legislation Designed to Increase the Price of Wheat

TO BRING UP LEVEL

Avowed Purpose Is to Bring Farmer's Dollar Back to Pre-War Basis

Grand Forks, N. D., Feb. 6.—A communication explaining the McNary-Haugen Bill has been received from Geo. E. Duis, president of the North Dakota Wheat Growers Association, who was called to Washington by President Coolidge to discuss farm relief measures for the northwest, according to A. J. Scott, secretary of the association. The communication, in part follows:

"Among all the farm relief measures introduced at this session of Congress, the McNary-Haugen Bill, providing for an export agency, is finding the most favor both among government officials and congressmen. The purpose of this measure is to bring the price of farm commodities, especially wheat, back to their pre-war purchasing level, by segregating the surplus for sale abroad by the government, thus making the tariff effective and reducing the tariff so that the price of wheat will be on a parity with commodities which the farmers must buy.

"The Bureau of Agricultural Economics has compiled figures indicating approximately what the price of wheat would have been in 1913-14, the year the export agency had been in existence. The following figures apply to Dark Northern No. 1, the first row of figures giving the estimated price under the export agency and the second the actual price:

January	$1.28	$1.28
February	1.27	1.21
March	1.26	1.22
April	1.25	1.24
May	1.24	1.32
June	1.23	1.22
July	1.22	1.18
August	1.21	1.22
September	1.20	1.26
October	1.19	1.26
November	1.18	1.19

"The proposed agency would collect or cause to be collected an excise tax on all marketed wheat produced in this country. The funds received from this tax to be applied to the minimum to all wheat sold for export. "Inasmuch as the export portion of the American crop is only about one-fourth of the total marketed portion, every cent per bushel collected as an excise tax would be applied at the rate of four cents per bushel as a premium or bounty on the exported portion.

"As an illustration of how this plan will work, assume it has been found necessary, to establish pre-war purchasing power, to raise wheat prices generally 20 cents a bushel. A tax of 7 cents a bushel would be assessed against all marketed wheat. The fund thus created would enable the payment of a premium of approximately 30 cents a bushel on that portion of the crop sold for export, thereby raising the export price and resulting in a like raise in the domestic price for all wheat. Result, wheat farmers have paid a tax of 7 cents a bushel and have received a price increased by 30 cents a bushel, securing a net benefit of 23 cents a bushel.

"Apply the proposition to an individual farmer with 1,000 bushels of wheat. He would receive 30 cents per bushel more with this plan in operation than without it. He would pay a tax of 7 cents per bushel. The net result would be a gain of 23 cents per bushel or $230 on each one thousand bushels sold.

"The world's price would be, as now, the ruling price. But the world's price for United States wheat would be the Liverpool price plus 30 cents per bushel.

"The net result is the same as if the Liverpool price for United States wheat had increased 23 cents a bushel.

Proposed Wheat Legislation

Proposed legislation to carry this plan into effect has been prepared for consideration by Congress. The Agricultural Export Commission, as contemplated in the bill, will be in charge of general administration of the export service. It is to determine as nearly as possible the amount of export crop, the amount to be exported, and fix the necessary tax and premium to raise the price of wheat until that commodity regains its pre-war purchasing power. The commission is to be afforded every assistance by other government agencies in determining amount of each crop and amount to be exported, also to make use of cost of living surveys from the Bureau of Labor Statistics and figures from the Department of Agriculture in determining the relative value of wheat.

"The actual business details of operation are to be vested in the Agricultural Export Corporation. It is proposed to furnish the corporation a capital stock, from the United States Treasury, of $200,000,000, callable only as required and only to be used to whatever extent necessary as a revolving fund in operations pending the collection of the tax each year.

"The corporation may either operate through existing grain trade agencies and co-operative marketing organizations, or if necessary it may go into market direct and buy and sell any part of the export surplus, but no more than that. The corporation is to exist only during the present depression—for the period of

Fate Takes Hand in Scattering Fortune Millionaire Miser Hoarded to the Point of Seeking Dime Tips From Cronies

CHARLES E. MINER, WITH SKETCHES OF THE ACTIVITIES OF EDWIN JENNINGS.

BY GEORGE BRUIT.

NEA Service Writer.

Chicago, Feb. 6.—Edwin B. Jennings' fortune was estimated at $25,000,000.

Edwin B. Jennings played pinochle in a barn for a nickel a hundred points.

He protested he couldn't afford to have it to ten cents.

He used to carry the bucket for the party's beer to earn a dime tip.

And he never married for fear his wife would take half the estate.

But the aged miser's lifelong "crazy" policy is laughed at by fate. Less than four months after his death, a mammoth legal battle is started—one that will squander and scatter the hoarded wealth.

Jennings dodged the imagined perils of alimony by dodging formal marriage. For 20 years, he maintained Miss Ida Miner in a beautiful apartment, introduced her as "Mrs. Jennings," and recognized her son, Charles, as his own.

Son Fights Cousins.

Charles E. Miner, this son, has left his laboring job in Louisville, Ky., to claim sole heirship. Eight cousins of the eccentric millionaire are in court to contest him. And with $27,000,000 to spur them on, the fight promises to be long and expensive, with the issues set by the present emergency—and at all events for not more than ten years.

TOWN HELPS

INVENTOR

Oberleutensdorf, Czechoslovakia, Feb. 6.—This industrial town of 12,000 persons has voluntarily transformed itself into one great electrical workshop to assist Fritz Havitzek, a local electrician, in his struggle to improve the standard of living in the town by his own invention designed to transfer electrical power without wires. Every man, woman and child in Oberleutensdorf consider themselves Havitzek's assistants. Every house, every machine shop, every telephone pole in the town has been placed at the disposal of the young inventor.

Just as the time when Havitzek had nearly perfected the machine upon which he had been at work for years, his funds gave out and he found himself unable to carry on his endeavors. But the town governor and the town deputies quickly came to Havitzek's aid and gave him money with which to continue.

Oberleutensdorf manufactures toys, textiles, hats and steel goods. Every worker in town looks upon young Havitzek as a second Edison, and the men of science who have seen his work predict great accomplishments for the local wizard of electricity.

Naval Construction

Bill Before Chamber

Paris, Feb. 6.—When France completes the reduction of the first tranche of her program, she will be in conformity with the Washington disarmament agreement, the fleet of the republic will consist of nine battleships, 14 cruisers, 60 torpedo boats and destroyers, and 64 submarines. This will be the state of the fleet in 1926.

Of the nine battleships, however, two are now obsolete and are not even today carried in the parliamentary reports as effective weapons of offense. Six of the 14 cruisers will have passed the age limit, and 17 torpedo boats and destroyers are admitted by naval experts to be unequal to the task that would be allotted to them in present naval warfare. Twenty of the submarines which saw service during the late war, according to a parliamentary report, would be useless.

Thus France could bring into line for effective naval operations seven battleships, eight cruisers, 43 torpedo boats and destroyers and 40 submarines.

Minister of Marine Flaminius Ruffert, expressing his conviction that such a reduced fleet would be unable to ensure the security of France's naval frontiers and the liberty of its naval lines of communications, recently introduced a bill in the chamber, asking authorization to proceed immediately to work on the second section of the naval program, as agreed upon at Washington.

The bill provides for the construction of six cruisers of 10,000 tons; 15 destroyers of 1,450 tons; 25 torpedo boats of 1,450 tons; four submarine cruisers of 3,000 tons; 30 submarines of the first class, 1,300 tons each; two mine layers of 4,000 tons and four tankers of 10,000 tons each. According to the government's program work on these various units was to commence in January, 1925, and be completed in 1930.

Deputy Paul Denise, secretary of the Naval Commission of the Chamber, in submitting his report endorsing the program of the government, recommended that "owing to the precarious condition of the French Navy," the entire program be completed between 1924 and 1928.

This program as amended by the Naval Commission will come up for discussion during the present year, probably a few weeks after the new chamber meets next May. It involves an expenditure of 2,250,000,000 francs, which the present chamber is unwilling to saddle upon the country just previous to going to the polls.

Fox Hunting

Still Popular

London, Feb. 6.—Governments may come and governments may go, but the old English pastime of foxhunting will go on forever.

If this opinion is not shared by the majority of farmers in Britain over whose lands the hunters ride, it is by Lord Hillingdon, master of the Grafton Hunt, speaking at the annual meeting of the Hunt, the noble lord said: "Whatever government comes into power I have a feeling that we shall carry on foxhunting somehow."

The present season of foxhunting here has not gone at all smoothly from the point of view of the chasers, for they have been debarrred from crossing lands on which the foot and mouth disease has broken out. Consequently sport has been greatly curtailed, and the number of hunting days considerably reduced.

PROBER

Manila, Feb. 6.—The earthquake and fire in Japan last September were the cause of bringing to Manila the largest individual typesetting and printing order ever undertaken in the Philippine Islands. The job is that of putting into type every word of the Bible in seven Philippine dialects for the American Bible Society.

Prior to the earthquake the printing for the American Bible Society in the Philippines was done in Japan, but the plant at Tokyo was destroyed.

The contract for the typesetting, which required about 24,000 lines, was signed today by L. C. Moore, manager of the Sugar News Press, and Rep. G. B. Cameron, manager of the American Bible Society in the Philippines.

The work will be done on a single linotype, which will be operated by two men working eight hours a day each. They will be busy for the next year and nine months. More than 21,000 Bibles are included in the first order.

The seven Philippine dialects are Ilocos, Pangasinan, Pampangan, Tagalog, Bicol, Panayan and Cebuano.

It is said that the largest piece of jade in the world is that in the American Museum of Natural History in New York. At first glance it looks almost as large as Plymouth Rock; actually it is seven feet long and four feet wide.

After illness—recuperate, take

SCOTT'S EMULSION

Guard Your Health

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

BOGUS MONEY IN GERMANY

Berlin, Feb. 6.—Bogus money has been very common in Germany since the decline of the mark and the passage of financial transactions out of regular banks into the hands of money-bootleggers.

A number of one-dollar bills which have been raised to $100-bills have been turned up in Berlin. They are said to be similar to raised bills which have appeared in Russia. There are also many counterfeit one-pound notes in circulation.

It is relatively easy for forgers to float bad paper today, for the street corner alchemist is not as yet very expert in detecting counterfeits.

VIEW ANCIENT CHINESE CITY

Peking, Feb. 6.—Following the example of investigators who recently added to their knowledge of Stonehenge by viewing the site from the air, Capt. Bishop, of the Smithsonian institution, has made aerial survey of the remains of an ancient city located near the present town of I-how, 60 miles southwest of Peking.

The place, according to Bishop, was the site of a city of considerable importance antedating authentic history, which later became known as Yen, capital of the kingdom of that name, and which was "burned" by Chin Shihwang in 221 B. C.

There are 30 mounds traceable which Bishop designates as burial places, while others of greater dimensions he believes to be sites of temples and public buildings.

COUNT SEEKS CITIZENSHIP

Prague, Feb. 6.—Count Berchtold, who was minister for foreign affairs in Austro-Hungary at the outbreak of the great war, now finds himself a man without a country. His citizenship is a tangle in international law which has become so complicated that the old statesman apparently must wait all his claim and become naturalized in one of the countries which sprang from the old Austro-Hungarian Empire.

After the creation of Czechoslovakia Count Berchtold assumed that he was a citizen of that country. Like hundreds of thousands of other men who had been associated with the powers, he regarded it desirable to become a Czechoslovakian. Passports from that new land were classed with the passports of the neutral powers in Europe. But Count Berchtold apparently forgot that for political reasons he had become naturalized in Hungary about 12 years ago. Consequently the Czechoslovakian government regards him as a Hungarian, and refuses to admit his citizenship in the new republic.

Hungary holds that the count has lost his Hungarian citizenship because he has not made use of it for ten years. He can make no claim to being an Austrian, and the distinction he achieved in European politics before the war does not save him from being an unattached nonentity, along with hundreds of thousands of other refugees whose citizenship was swallowed up in the remaking of the map of Europe.

BIBLES PRINTED IN

MANY TONGUES

Manila, Feb. 6.—The earthquake and fire in Japan last September were the cause of bringing to Manila the largest individual typesetting and printing order ever undertaken in the Philippine Islands. The job is that of putting into type every word of the Bible in seven Philippine dialects for the American Bible Society.

Prior to the earthquake the printing for the American Bible Society in the Philippines was done in Japan, but the plant at Tokyo was destroyed.

The contract for the typesetting, which required about 24,000 lines, was signed today by L. C. Moore, manager of the Sugar News Press, and Rep. G. B. Cameron, manager of the American Bible Society in the Philippines.

The work will be done on a single linotype, which will be operated by two men working eight hours a day each. They will be busy for the next year and nine months. More than 21,000 Bibles are included in the first order.

The seven Philippine dialects are Ilocos, Pangasinan, Pampangan, Tagalog, Bicol, Panayan and Cebuano.

It is said that the largest piece of jade in the world is that in the American Museum of Natural History in New York. At first glance it looks almost as large as Plymouth Rock; actually it is seven feet long and four feet wide.

After illness—recuperate, take

SCOTT'S EMULSION

Guard Your Health

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Sanatogen

Poison, Ashes of Death and Lust For Gold Figure in Weird Trial

FIGURES IN PRESNO'S DEATH MYSTERY. ABOVE, CHORAN, YOUTH OF MYSTERY, AND ELIZE POTEGIAN; BELOW, SESTRAR POTEGIAN AND HIS DAUGHTER, MARGARET, BOTH OF WHOM DIED SUDDENLY.

By NEA Service. Fresno, Calif., Feb. 6.—A woman, the surviving son, will be the principal prosecution witness, in the death of a young man, mysteriously slain, and the death of his daughter, a child of 10, who died suddenly, in the trial of Mrs. Elize Potegian, accused of murder.

This is the picture to be given a jury here February 4, in the trial of Mrs. Elize Potegian, accused of murder. The state contends, Mrs. Potegian is a story of mystery. Mystery surrounds her identity. Mystery has left the deaths of her husband, two stepchildren and her mother unsolved. The jury trying her will be told that: In August, 1919, her stepson, 18-months old, was found dead in a shallow pool.

In June, 1913, her husband died after a brief illness. He killed the bulk of his estate to his two children, Margaret, 18, and Gordon, 21. Then, the state contends, Mrs. Potegian called upon the power of Armenian mysticism to destroy the stepchildren. She built an altar on ashes and gave herself to prayer for 40 days and nights. But the children lived on.

Failing by this means, it is charged, she resorted to more certain means to accomplish her end. Death is mysterious. Late in October, 1923, Margaret died after a brief illness. At this time Gordon, too, was mysteriously stricken but he recovered. Autopsy of Margaret's body disclosed arsenic poison in her stomach.

Mrs. Potegian, under arrest, accused her mother, Mrs. A. Torosian. When the police went to arrest the aged woman they found her body dangling from a rafter in her home. She has hanging from a rafter. On the same day Mrs. Potegian tried to kill herself in her jail cell, slashing her wrists.

Grape juice, candy and sweet cakes, containing arsenic poison, were found in the Potegian home. Despite this evidence, Mrs. Potegian pleaded "not guilty."

Every druggist here guarantees each package of "Pape's Cold Compound" to break up any cold and end gripe misery in a few hours or money returned. Stiffness, pain, headache, feverishness, inflamed or congested nose and head relieved with first dose. These safe, pleasant tablets cost only a few cents and millions now take them instead of sickening quinine.

"Pape's Cold Compound" Acts Quick, Costs Little, Never Sickness!

Are You Making This Mistake? Some people think that because Willard Batteries are quality batteries, they must be expensive. That's wrong! You can buy a genuine Willard Wood-Insulated Battery with Willard reliability for $ 16.95

Willard STORAGE BATTERIES

CORWIN MOTOR COMPANY

Willard STORAGE BATTERIES